U.S. Price Ruling Will Hike Gas 1c A Gallon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail gasoline prices will go up a penny a gallon, the head of the Federal Energy Administration said after his agency approved an increase in domestic crude oil price.

Frank Zarb said Friday that the authorized 9.8 per cent raise over the next 10 months for the oil companies is based on a projected annual inflation rate of 6.8 per cent plus a 3 per cent incentive for the companies to explore for more domestic oil. The formulas were set earlier this year by the Energy Policy and Conservation Act.

The law initially set the price of a 42-gallon barrel of "old" domestic oil — from wells put into production before 1972 — at $5.25, while the price of "new" oil was set at $11.25 a barrel.

Old oil accounts for about 60 per cent of U.S. production, but new oil is expected to be in the majority in the future as the output of old wells dwindle and new fields are opened for production.

On a weighted average of old and new oil, the percentage increase permitted on Friday will raise the price of all domestic oil by 75 cents a barrel.

Postal Rates: Another Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postal rates for special delivery and registered mail are being increased by up to 33 per cent, effective April 18, the U.S. Postal Service says.

The increases are expected to bring in additional revenues of $60 million per year, a Postal Service spokesman said Friday. The agency is expected to have a record deficit of $1 billion this fiscal year.

The higher fees still must be approved by the Postal Rate Commission to take effect permanently.

The special delivery charge will go up from 40 cents to 80 cents, the minimum money order fee from 25 cents to 30 cents, the certified mail fee from 30 cents to 40 cents and the minimum registered mail charge from 95 cents to $1.25.

Other increases are from 20 cents to 25 cents for minimum insurance, 25 cents to 30 cents for special handling and 70 cents to 85 cents for collect-on-delivery mail.

The Postal Service noted that the last time special delivery charges were raised was 1971. Certified mail fees were last increased in 1966 and special handling fees have been the same since 1957.

Taxes: Four More Minutes

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite recent federal tax cuts, the average taxpayer will spend an additional four minutes of each eight-hour work day in the first four months of this year to pay his 1976 tax bill, according to a nonprofit research foundation.

The Tax Foundation Inc. said Friday that calculations show the average taxpayer will spend two hours and 39 minutes of an eight-hour work day to pay his federal, state and local taxes. That compares to two hours and 35 minutes last year.

The foundation said the average taxpayer will work until May 1 to pay his taxes this year. Last year, the tax-work date was until April 30. In 1974, it took until May 4, the latest ever.

The foundation said the two hours and 39 minutes included one hour and 41 minutes to pay federal taxes and 58 minutes for state and local taxes. That's three minutes more for federal taxes than last year and one minute more for state and local taxes.

Walter's In Willow

CANTERBURY, N.H. (AP) — Walter G. Hatch, a gravedigger when he was alive, had two wishes when he died. He got one and lost the other. Hatch, 81, was buried Friday in a Concord cemetery at his request. He had said he didn't want to be next to his wife in the cemetery in Canterbury, a small town north of Concord. "We couldn't get along when we were married. I'm damned sure we can't get along now," Hatch said before he died. The couple was married 33 years. His wife died in 1960. Hatch also wanted to be buried in a coffin made of hemlock so he could "go snapping through hell." His mortician, Roger Bourque, said hemlock couldn't be found for the coffin. So Hatch's was made of willow wood, which has "nowhere near" the snapping qualities of burning hemlock, Bourque said.

Florida Swimmers Bitten By Bluefish

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — It was a swimmer's nightmare when a five-mile-long school of bluefish went into a feeding frenzy near the beach. "I was going to run for it, but I fell," said Christine Schulte, 18, who needed 30 stitches to close the gashes in her left hand. At least five persons were treated for cuts and lacerations after the bluefish skimmed the shore Friday. Witnesses said the school of fish was a quarter-mile wide and five miles long. Because waters were murky, officials said the fish could not tell whether they were biting at their usual food — mullet and pickard — or something else. "All of a sudden there were a lot of fish," said Police Sgt. Andy Greco. "They were in a feeding frenzy." A feeding frenzy is an uncommon event, but not unheard of. There is a report of about one a year on the Florida coast. "I really felt I was in 'Jaws,'" said Miss Schulte, of Canton, Conn. She was riding the waves when the fish suddenly surrounded her. "A big fish, at least two feet long, grabbed me. I grabbed him with my other hand and whacked him. His eyes — he was looking at me so meanly," she said.

Lifeguard Jim Kehl, 27, was standing at water's edge trying to get swimmers back onto the beach when he put his hand into the water. He had three fingers slashed. "It was incredible," he said. It was, however, a boyd for fishermen. An attendant at Pompano Pier said 300 to 400 bluefish were caught by people using any lure they tried.

School Girls Faint Like They're 'Hexed'

MT. PLEASANT, Miss. (AP) — In the past week, 15 teen-age girls have fainted to the ground at a public school, writhing and kicking before passing out. The principal says it's not voodoo, narcotics agents say it's not drugs, but parents are keeping nearly a third of the school's students at home.

"My head was hurting bad," said Shirley Benton, 14, one of the girls who fainted. "It wasn't like a headache. It felt like something was sticking in it. ... I couldn't get enough air. Then I fell out — fainted."

A state narcotics officer on Friday visited the 900-student Sand Flat High School in this rural town 50 miles southeast of Memphis, Tenn.

"Our investigation indicates there is no evidence of drugs," said Cindy Carr, spokeswoman for the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics. "The agent ... said he believes it's hysteria, but he can't back it up."

Teachers and students who have seen the spells said the girls suddenly fall to the ground, kicking and shouting. "Don't let it get me!" or "Get it off!" before passing out. The attacks last from a few minutes to as long as 15 minutes.

Some pupils contend that one girl has been putting voodoo hexes on her classmates as the result of an argument over a boy.

Horner Byers, the principal, rejected the voodoo theory, blaming the spells on hysteria and excitement.

"Some of the students have told me if I got rid of this girl, all the trouble would stop," Byers said. "Of course, I've talked to her. She says she doesn't believe in voodoo."

Byers and Marshall County Sheriff Kenneth Smith said

some of the girls have histories of fainting spells. They theorized that the girls became hysterical when they saw their classmates collapsing.

Byers said it also appeared that some of the girls had failed to take prescribed medications for health problems, a fact which may be related to the faintings.

At the end of the school week, there was still an explanation and several hundred parents had taken nearly a third of the school's pupils out of class.

"I think they should close the school until they find out what's going on," said Minerva Benton, whose daughters, Shirley and Minnie, 17, were among those staying home.

Fear Fire Less Than Muggers

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of government crimefighters say they're being thrown out of a fire hazard into a crime hazard. They'd rather take their chances with fire than with Washington muggers. The dispute involves employees of the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, which spends millions of dollars to help state and local police reduce crime.

It all started when LEAA officials decided several months ago that their bureaucracy had outgrown its present quarters in two privately-owned office buildings near the Justice Department. LEAA is a part of the department. So LEAA asked the department's administrative division to find the agency still more office space. The matter took on greater urgency when government inspectors reported March 5 that one of the buildings housing LEAA "is considerably below ... fire safety standards."

The department quickly arranged to move scores of LEAA employees from the old quarters into a new office building eight blocks away. The ensuing uproar was described in "The Guardian," a newsletter published by Local 2830 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, which represents LEAA workers.

The local union president, Frederick Becker, protested the move on behalf of the crimefighting agency employees in a letter to Deputy Atty. Gen. Harold R. Tyler. "What employees fear is being the victims of crime," Becker wrote. He said District of Columbia police statistics show that 51 reported street crimes occurred in daytime hours in the immediate vicinity of the new office building from December 1974 to March 1976, while only 10 crimes were reported in the vicinity of the fire-hazard offices.

"The affected employees have measured the relative safety of the two locations and would prefer to take their chances with fire ... than with the criminals," Becker wrote Tyler. A department administrative official, Edward W. Scott Jr., dismissed the complaints about the new neighborhood in an earlier letter to LEAA Administrator Richard W. Volde, saying the new building "meets any reasonable requirement LEAA might have."

Besides, he told Volde, it should "please your employees that (government officials are) currently working on plans for a cafeteria in the basement." The LEAA crimefighters would not have to risk the neighborhood muggers during the lunch hour at least.

Father Arrested As He Searches For Daughter

DERRY, N.H. (AP) — Told that his 7-year-old daughter had been kidnapped, Donald Johnson went looking for her. The girl is safe today and her alleged abductor is charged with kidnapping, but Johnson may face a year in jail because of two unregistered guns authorities said they found in the glove compartment of his car.

The girl, Christine Johnson, was snatched from her bed early Friday morning, taken to Massachusetts and thrown from a highway overpass to a river 40 feet below, police said.

She grabbed a floating branch and made it to the river's edge where a motorist saw her clutching a concrete pillar of the overpass. Authorities said. After a brief stay at a hospital in Haverhill, Mass., she was returned to her mother's home here.

Authorities, meanwhile, arrested Carl C. LeChel, 32, of Raymond, N.H., and charged him with kidnapping. Police said LeChel was a past acquaintance of Johnson and said there apparently was "a personal vendetta" between the two men.

When Johnson, 38, who lives separately from his wife, was told his daughter was at the hospital in Massachusetts, he drove to Haverhill. He was arrested after state police discovered a .38-caliber pistol and a .45-caliber automatic in the glove compartment of his car, authorities said.

Massachusetts' tough gun law requires a mandatory one-year prison sentence for anyone found guilty of carrying a weapon that is not registered in the state.

Johnson, part owner of a Derry automobile dealership, was released on bail after arraignment. LeChel was being held in Rockingham County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bail.

"It's an ironic twist of the law ... but we really had no choice but to pinch him," Massachusetts State Trooper Paul French said of Johnson.

Authorities said it was not clear who was in the house with Christine at the time of the kidnapping. Mrs. Johnson was reported to be in New York at the time of the abduction.

Big Mac's Traffic Off For March

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Mackinac Bridge traffic and revenue for last month were lower than in March 1975, the Mackinac Bridge Authority said this week.

Chairman Charles Fisher III attributed the decline to the fact that Easter, with its holiday traffic, occurred in March last year, while it has yet to arrive for 1976.

March traffic was down 8.3 per cent from 97,229 crossings in March 1975 to 89,167 last month. Fare revenues were down 4.5 per cent from $182,284 in March 1975 to $174,094 this March. March truck traffic, however, was up 13.3 per cent from 18,776 crossings to 21,227.

Land Planning Stymied Again

In a raucous session created by Democrats saying nasty things to fellow Democrats, the House appropriations committee voted 10-7 on Thursday to shelve a land use plan for Michigan. Republican members on the committee voted 3-2 to keep the bill from appearing for further debate and a vote before the full House.

Politically, it was a mutual embarrassment to Governor Milliken and House Speaker Bobby Crim, who had submerged their normal Republican vs. Democratic differences to sponsor the measure.

Although the committee's decision could be reversed by the full House and its halting probably will not be the ultimate word on the subject, the proposal likely may lapse in this session.

The intra-party dispute and the total vote in the committee reflect strong convictions sprouting from a contentious economic seedbed.

Milliken brought forth the concept four years ago and has watered down the original version in the hope of getting something over the hurdle of several negative responses from the legislature.

The latest version calls for a nine-member commission to draw up a master plan to curb urban sprawl, promote a less frenetic use of natural resources than now exists, and preserve what its sponsors feel is essential open space and farm land.

To date only one of those goals could be looked upon as even halfway within reach. This is tax remission to farmers in return for withholding their acreage from industrial, commercial or residential use for 10 years.

It's The Voters Themselves Who Hike Their Taxes

Eventually the American people, complaining more and more of the tax burden, will achieve a better understanding of the tax situation and responsibility for it. In the final analysis the people themselves are responsible.

Legislators and officials who have the power to levy taxes, starting with Congress and down to the lowest taxing boards, are elected by a majority of the voters. Their power to tax comes directly from the people.

Too frequently, an incumbent is defeated by an opponent who campaigns on the issue that the incumbent did not vote for all the handouts that were proposed. That is, he voted for lower taxes.

That, of course, is no way to keep taxes from spiraling.

If the citizens ever decide they want lower taxes badly enough to do something to bring the desired result, they will be able to achieve that goal by the same means responsible for current levies — their votes.

Its success has been limited because so few owners within suburban reach of a city or village have signed up.

As drafted, the Governor's bill requires the master plan to notch in with local plans and whatever the Planning Commission recommends must be approved by the legislature.

The Michigan Association of Home Builders has opposed statewide planning from the outset as a Lansing dictated zoning ordinance which could seriously crimp the pocketbook of its members.

An equally strong opponent is the legislative contingent from the Upper Peninsula and portions of the northern tier in the Lower Peninsula who fear statewide planning would amount to what they call economic bondage.

State Senator Joseph Mack, D., Ironwood, though excluded from Thursday's balloting, is the contingent's acknowledged leader.

The outspoken Mack contends the Detroit dominated legislature wants to perpetuate the southeastern group of counties as Michigan's job opportunity forum and to confine the UP to a rehabilitation retreat for those inhabitants living south from Lansing.

In support of his argument, he cites the UP's consistently higher unemployment rate as contrasted to southern Michigan's which in the past two years has exceeded the national averages.

While the Ironwood solon and his colleagues somewhat overstate their case, it is a fact that every effort to revitalize the UP's mining potential has been rebuffed by the Lansing establishment.

Consequently if Mack's friends in the House committee tossed some invidious comments at the other members their reaction is understandable.

Basically, Milliken's approach is sound.

Land is a tightly defined resource and as the population continues to enlarge and to move around, more prudence than ever before must be exercised as to its use. At the same time the use must not be surrounded by theoretical restrictions that will sink the economy from sight.

It is a problem in balancing utterly beyond the capability of local government to perform.

Logically, it has to be met on not less than the state level.

The Governor's program has suffered from excessive political buffeting because its design is sketched in such vague outlines as to allow pressure groups of all persuasions to misinterpret it deliberately for their benefit.

A more specific program drawn up by people who know something about demographics and the state's economy and who are not aligned with special interests is in order.

Then the legislature would have to judge the proposition on its merits and the lobbyists could be muffled.

Math Better But Not Reading

U.S. taxpayers are doing better this year with their arithmetic but they are relatively worse in their reading. The Internal Revenue Service finds that, judging by the millions of individual income tax returns filed so far, one of the most common errors is overlooking the special $30 tax credit allowed this time only for each taxpayer and his dependents.

That's a switch from the usual errors of using the wrong tax tables or mistakes in calculation. Any taxpayer can understand the problem.

At the end of long hours of working his way through the Form 1040 maze, which still shows little evidence of the simplification Washington likes to talk about, the shock of an unexpected tax credit might be too much for his weary state.

Shedding His Warm-Up Suit?

SJ Taxpayer Wants Schools To Cut Back Administrators

Editor.

As a St. Joseph taxpayer, I feel compelled to ask some questions of the school administration. These questions have not been answered to my satisfaction in any of the public meetings.

It is my contention that our school system is administratively top-heavy. We simply cannot afford (nor do we really need) 6 full-time, non-teaching principals for our 6 elementary schools.

I, personally, asked this question of our superintendent at the first public meeting to discuss possible school closings. At that meeting we were all told that, "It is in the teachers' contract that there must be full-time principals. There is nothing that can be done, it's in the contract!"

At a second public meeting this point was brought up again and again the superintendent made reference to the contract. When the matter was pursued and a specific contract reference was asked for, it developed that this provision is not in the contract — such a ruling about full-time principals does not exist!

If the school administration is serious about cutting expenses, I think they should look first at some of the big salaries. I see no reason, or need, for all of these expensive leaders. The average salary of our principals is over $20,000 a year. Many elementary schools in other districts have part-time principals. I see no reason our principals cannot serve two schools each, thus eliminating three high-paying positions and realizing at least $60,000 a year savings to the school system!

In closing, I ask the administration to eliminate jobs at the top instead of closing schools. If a sacrifice must be made consider first the disruption of the lives of a very few administrators — not hundreds of families.

BHS MUSICAL A "SPLENDID JOB"

Editor,
I attended the Benton Harbor high school musical production of "Damn Yankees" this weekend and just wanted to extend the heartfelt of congratulations to the director, cast and crew. You all did a job deserving a lot of credit.

I am just sorry that more people did not take advantage of the sheer entertainment of the play. The kids all did a splendid job and it hurts me to see the lack of community support that they receive. A lot of time, effort and work goes into preparing a musical and performing to a nearly empty auditorium is not easy for these kids.

The new auditorium at the high school is lovely. The play was well-done and entertaining. The seats are comfortable. The price was reasonable. I can find no reason why there should be any empty seats!

These kids did a great job and I just wanted them to know that there is at least one person who enjoyed it!!!!

THINK TEACHERS SHOULD BE RETIRED

Editor,
This is directed to the Benton Harbor school board or to anyone else who is concerned.

I, Daniel Mathison, do not think that you have been justified in your decision about Mrs. Joan Johnson or Michael Jordon. I think that by not rehiring the two, you have made a mistake.

They are not only good teachers, they are very nice human beings. It is hard enough for us at (alternative education) without the firing of two people we really care about and love. I'm not just saying things to try and get them back. All I am saying is that we need more teachers like these.

It is not how long they have been teaching or counseling, it's how they do their job. We at (alternative education) think that these two people have brought us very far. They have shown us how to deal with problems and how to try and not crack under pressure.

Please think about what we are saying.

Others who feel about this the way I do are: Clay McKinney, Rachel Buels, Larry Reese, Todd Clark, Kelly Lee Murphy, Gary Penn, Rufus Fox, Brenda Curtis, James Williams, Terry Norris, Carl Williams, Terry Williams, Carl Hudson and Danny Simms.

Economic Voices Becomes A Babel

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In the past 30 years, economists have had an increasing voice in national policy.

The Federal Reserve has grown markedly in influence. The President's Council of Economic Advisers, the Joint Economic Committee of the Senate and House, have been listened to with greater intensity. Special governmental economic advisory groups have proliferated. And private economic studies by such groups as the Brookings Institution, the American Enterprise Institute and Ralph Nader organizations under a variety of names have been issuing analysis and advice to all who would listen.

The stock of the economic prognosticators reached a new peak when President Ford, shortly after moving into the White House, called in the nation's top reputations, right-left-middle, for a series of advisory conferences — which ended in a stalemate.

Despite this plethora of economic advice — much of which has been incorporated into government policy — the results have been a mixed bag. Take first the material well-being of consumers as interpreted by Paul W. McCracken of the University of Michigan from official statistics.

The betterment of individual economic living conditions, so far as they are measured by personal consumption spending, slipped from a 2.7 per cent a year growth in the 30 years between 1899 and 1929 to 1.8 per cent a year in constant prices in the 30 years between 1939 and 1975.

McCracken observes that if in the 1899 to 1929 period real personal consumption outlays had risen at the post-1946 rate, the average American family in 1929 would "have had a material level of living about 20 per cent below that which he actually enjoyed."

McCracken goes on to note that from "1899 to 1929, as best they can be measured," consumer prices shifted up only 2.7 per cent a year, including the World War I caused jump in the price level. Between 1922 and 1929, after the economy stabilized following the war, the price level trend was almost flat. It rose at an average of 0.3 per cent a year, which compares with 8.4 per cent from 1968 to 1975. Over the whole 1946-1975 period, the "increase" has averaged 3.8 per cent.

In not more than five of the 20 years from 1908 to 1977, McCracken says, will the economy have been operating at reasonably full employment. "No such sustained run of unemployment" can be found in the 1899 to 1929 years. The image of the economy as lurching violently from boom to bust before stabilization policy became an academic discipline is not supported by the evidence of history.

But of course, we have not in the past 30 years had a Great Depression comparable to that in the 1930s either. And the recessions since 1946 have been markedly less severe than those of the 1899 to 1929 period. The average decline in real output in that period's recession years was 3.8 per cent. This contrasts with an average 1.2 per cent slip in the recessions of the 1946 to 1975 period.

It is to be noted that during this past 30 years the bulk of the economic advice by far has centered on greater governmental controls on almost every economic aspect of our lives. Until the past year or so, those arguing that many of our controls cost more in holding back improved methods than they assisted in preventing unfair competition were virtual orphans.

Choices When Democracy Falls

A Prime Minister, Harold Wilson kept the Labour Party from splitting into right and left wings, but he may have wrecked his country in order to do it.

To maintain Labour "unity" he was obliged to give the Labour Left an effective veto over government policy.

The result: a collapsing economy, a shrinking pound, blunted union power, and the possibility of class warfare.

The role of the Labour Party left wing in all this was dramatized once again only six days before Wilson quit.

The government had proposed drastic cuts in public spending as a necessary economic measure. In a white paper on the economy, it had explained that Britain's acute need for investment capital had to take precedence over social spending. But the Labour government's economic proposals were defeated when 37 leftists abstained.

Some see hope for England in party realignment. In this scenario, moderate Labourites and members of the Liberal Party would combine to form a governing majority and ditch the Left.

Any serious approach to England's economic plight would run into tough opposition from the militant trades unions. This would be true of the projected Liberal-Labour coalition no less than a Tory government under Margaret Thatcher. Any government hoping to cope with the economic crisis would have to be powerful enough to subdue the unions, and that may not be possible within the parliamentary framework.

A book could scarcely have better timing, therefore, than "The Collapse of Democracy" by a young Englishman named Robert Moss. He has been editor of the newsletter Foreign Report, published by The Economist magazine, the author of an impressive array of articles and books dealing with revolutionary terror and guerrilla insurrection, a BBC TV commentator, and a close advisor to Margaret Thatcher.

"The Collapse of Democracy" is an important contribution to political theory and to the predicament of Argentina and Chile today and perhaps England tomorrow.

Robert Moss is a democrat but he is also a realist. Democracies are fragile. Moss addresses himself to the question of "what next" when a democratic system proves unworkable.

Here is the nub of his argument:

"In the event that a democratic society breaks down irretrievably, it has two alternatives to anarchy, not one; the choice is then between authoritarian or totalitarian rule."

"The semantic confusion characteristic of much public debate has blurred the distinction between these two fundamentally different types of regime."

The characteristic of authoritarian rule is that it substitutes the authority of a self-appointed (or hereditary) elite for the political process, without directly interfering in many areas of social, intellectual, and economic life.

"A totalitarian regime also substitutes the authority of a self-appointed elite for the political process. But here, politics intrudes on everything: there is no escape, in ideas, economics, or lifestyle, from the politico-bureaucratic conformity imposed by the ruling ideology. . . . There may well be no return from the long dark night of totalitarian dictatorship, short of defeat of that dictatorship in war."

"An authoritarian regime, in contrast, is likely to be less durable because of the liberties it leaves intact and may in some cases be no more than a holding operation: an attempt to pick up the pieces after a social explosion."

Land Planning Stymied Again

In a raucous session created by Democrats saying nasty things to fellow Democrats, the House appropriations committee voted 10-7 on Thursday to shelve a land use plan for Michigan. Republican members on the committee voted 3-2 to keep the bill from appearing for further debate and a vote before the full House.

Politically, it was a mutual embarrassment to Governor Milliken and House Speaker Bobby Crim who had submerged their normal Republican vs. Democratic differences to sponsor the measure.

Although the committee's decision could be reversed by the full House and its balloting probably will not be the ultimate word on the subject, the proposal likely may lapse in this session.

The intra-party dispute and the total vote in the committee reflect strong convictions sprouting from a contentious economic seedbed.

Milliken brought forth the concept four years ago and has watered down the original version in the hope of getting something over the hurdle of several negative responses from the legislature.

The latest version calls for a nine-member commission to draw up a master plan to curb urban sprawl, promote a less frenetic use of natural resources than now exists, and preserve what its sponsors feel is essential open space and farm land.

To date only one of those goals could be looked upon as even halfway within reach. This is tax remission to farmers in return for withholding their acreage from industrial, commercial or residential use for 10 years.

It's The Voters Themselves Who Hike Their Taxes

Eventually the American people, complaining more and more of the tax burden, will achieve a better understanding of the tax situation and responsibility for it. In the final analysis the people themselves are responsible.

Legislators and officials who have the power to levy taxes, starting with Congress and down to the lowest taxing boards, are elected by a majority of the voters. Their power to tax comes directly from the people.

Too frequently, an incumbent is defeated by an opponent who campaigns on the issue that the incumbent did not vote for all the handouts that were proposed. That is, he voted for lower taxes.

That, of course, is no way to keep taxes from spiraling.

If the citizens ever decide they want lower taxes badly enough to do something to bring the desired result, they will be able to achieve that goal by the same means responsible for current levies — their votes.

Its success has been limited because so few owners within suburban reach of a city or village have signed up.

As drafted, the Governor's bill requires the master plan to notch in with local plans and whatever the Planning Commission recommends must be approved by the legislature.

The Michigan Association of Home Builders has opposed statewide planning from the outset as a Lansing dictated zoning ordinance which could seriously crimp the pocketbook of its members.

An equally strong opponent is the legislative contingent from the Upper Peninsula and portions of the northern tier in the Lower Peninsula who fear statewide planning would amount to what they call economic bondage.

State Senator Joseph Mack, D., Ironwood, though excluded from Thursday's balloting, is the contingent's acknowledged leader.

The outspoken Mack contends the Detroit dominated legislature wants to perpetuate the southeastern group of counties as Michigan's job opportunity forum and to confine the UP to a rehabilitation retreat for those inhabitants living south from Lansing.

In support of his argument, he cites the UP's consistently higher unemployment rate as contrasted to southern Michigan's which in the past two years has exceeded the national averages.

While the Ironwood solon and his colleagues somewhat overstate their case, it is a fact that every effort to revitalize the UP's mining potential has been rebuffed by the Lansing establishment.

Consequently if Mack's friends in the House committee tossed some invidious comments at the other members their reaction is understandable.

Basically, Milliken's approach is sound.

Firemen May Sue BH On Pension Fund Loan

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Thomas Fogarty, president of Local 685 of the International Association of Firefighters, said the local is considering a suit to prohibit the City of Benton Harbor from borrowing any more money from the police and firemen's pension fund.

The city in 1975 borrowed $300,000 from the fund, according to Fogarty, and has not yet paid it back. He said the union fears that if the city goes bankrupt, the $300,000 will be lost "when it's actually money that belongs to the men on pension."

Fogarty said the matter has been turned over to St. Joseph Atty. Thomas Fette, counsel for the local. Fette told The Herald-Palladium he is studying it to determine if there is any basis for a suit. Asked if the city is legally allowed to borrow from the pension fund, Fette replied: "That's the question we're looking at."

In addition to a court order prohibiting any further borrowing, Fogarty said, the union wants an accounting from the city of where the money went and how it was spent.

The money was borrowed by the city because of a cash flow shortage, and City Manager James Peoples, Jr., said it is scheduled to be repaid to the fund in July.

The pension fund is administered by a five-member pension and retirement board, comprised of the mayor, treasurer, one member each elected by the police and fire departments, and a civilian member elected by the other four.

John Sprague, the firemen's representative on the board, said the city first borrowed $300,000 from the fund in February, 1975, and the loan was endorsed by all five board members. The loan was to have been repaid in 120 days, according to Sprague.

When the time limit expired, the city requested an additional 120 days to pay back the loan and requested another $200,000.

Sprague said, and the second loan was approved by a 3-2 margin, with the police and fire representatives voting against the loan. "To my knowledge, no money has been repaid yet," Sprague said, adding the $300,000 plus 6.35 per cent interest, is now due in August.

The city claimed it needed the loan because of a "cash-flow" problem, according to Sprague, and the only way to pay bills and meet the payroll was to borrow from the pension fund. He said he was told the cash shortage stemmed from federally-funded projects, such as the city hall addition and the new recreation center, since the federal government has not yet sent the funds to the city, creating a shortage.

He also said he was told when the federal government sends the funds, the money from the pension fund will be replaced. Sprague noted the city pays an interest rate of 6.35 per cent on the loan, compared with the usual interest rate of about five per cent the money in the fund receives from being invested in treasury bills.

"We want it repaid," Fogarty said for the firemen's union. "We don't want to bankrupt the city all at once but we definitely want the money put back in the pension fund."

Fette added he did not know if a suit would be filed, but he is studying the matter to see if there are any violations of state statutes.

It would not be the first time a suit has been filed in connection with the pension fund. Fette in 1972 filed a class action suit for former and current police and firemen, charging the method of computing pension benefits deprived retirees of benefits due them and that the fund itself was not properly funded and was actually under-funded.

Judge Chester J. Byrnes of Berrien Circuit court agreed with the officers, and ordered that the fund be re-computed. He also held the fund was underfunded by $3.6 million, and ordered the city to make extra payments to rectify the shortage.

SJ Man Is Facing Sex Charge

NEWAYGO — State police from the Newaygo post reported Robert D. Aiken, 39, of 723 Broad street, St. Joseph, was arrested April 7 on a warrant charging sexual criminal conduct of the second degree (indecent liberties).

Sgt. Jerry Cook, of the Newaygo post, said Aiken was arrested in connection with alleged sexual assaults involving two girls, 7 and 11 years old, and an 8-year-old boy on April 6 and 7 at a home in White Cloud.

According to Cook, Aiken was a visitor at the home. Cook said Aiken is presently lodged in the Newaygo county jail, White Cloud, awaiting arraignment. He was jailed in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Ex-Indiana U Athletic Director Is 'Y' Headliner

Bill Orwig, retired Indiana university athletic director, will speak at the annual meeting of the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph YMCA Thursday, April 15, at St. Joseph Holiday Inn. The meeting is an "eye-opener" breakfast at 7:30 a.m. and also will include election of five people to the YMCA board directors.

The board will then elect its officers, according to Forrest

Pearson and Tim Cuthbert, co-chairmen of the program.

Orwig, who now lives at Sister Lakes, will speak on "The YMCA: A Community Effort."

Orwig retired as Indiana athletic director last year after holding the post 14 years. He was University of Nebraska athletic director seven years previously. He also was assistant football coach at University of Michigan. His high school coaching experience includes two years at Benton Harbor.

Orwig is known as one of the nation's most respected collegiate athletic administrators. He has served on the National Collegiate Athletic Association executive council, the NCAA football rules committee and is past president of the National Collegiate Athletic Directors association of which he was a founder.

Orwig last year was elected to the board of directors of Mercy hospital. His wife is the former Jane Anderson of St. Joseph.

Reservations for the $4 YMCA breakfast should be made by Monday April 12 by calling the "Y."

Bendix Walkout Enters 3rd Day

About three-fourths of the hourly workers at the Bendix corporation's St. Joseph division were remaining off the job this morning as a wildcat strike entered its third day, according to Robert Ruffin, the firm's director of industrial relations.

He said that about 400 workers from all three shifts had failed to report since the walkout began Thursday night at about 8 p.m. He said the illegal walkout has curtailed plant operations.

"We're hopeful they'll be coming back to work Monday," he said.

The firm is willing to discuss the grievances which led to the walkout if the workers return, he said.

Ruffin said the walkout was believed to have been triggered after a worker was disqualified from performing a certain type of job because of poor job performance.

The worker is to be given an opportunity to take a different job at the plant based on his seniority, Ruffin said.

Dean Curtison, president of Local 383 of the United Auto Workers' union, was not available for comment this morning as he was working inside the plant.

HERE'S BH JUNK PICKUP SCHEDULE

Spring Cleanup Starts Monday

Benton Harbor residents are urged to clean their garages, basements and attics, and get out those heavy items — the public works trucks are on the way.

Dwight (Pete) Mitchell, director of public works, said the annual spring cleanup campaign starts next week and continues through May 14.

The collection of heavy junk items will be by districts a week at a time. Other trash also will be collected so residents can clean their homes completely.

"We'll take anything except junk cars," said Herman Reimers, public works superintendent. Refrigerators, stoves, old hot water heaters and other appliances that are no longer usable are prime targets for the spring cleanup.

The junk should be placed at the resident's regular trash pickup location. Trucks will operate on this schedule.

April 12-18: The area where regular trash collection is Monday.

April 18-23: The area where regular trash collection is Tuesday.

April 26-30: The area where regular collection is Wednesday.

May 3-7: The area where regular trash collection is Thursday.

May 10-14: The area where regular collection is Friday.

Regular trash and garbage collections will be maintained during the cleanup.

SPRING CLEANUP COVERS BH: Numbered areas of Benton Harbor are districts in which week-long collections of trash and junk will be made in annual spring cleanup on this schedule: District 1, April 12-18; District 2, April 19-23; District 3, April 24-30; District 4, May 3-7; District 5, May 10-14. Regular trash and garbage collections will be made as usual during campaign.

Firemen May Sue BH On Pension Fund Loan

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON

Thomas Fogarty, president of Local 685 of the International Association of Firefighters, said the local is considering a suit to prohibit the City of Benton Harbor from borrowing any more money from the police and firemen's pension fund.

The city in 1975 borrowed $300,000 from the fund, according to Fogarty, and has not yet paid it back. He said the union fears that if the city goes bankrupt, the $500,000 will be lost "when it's actually money that belongs to the men on pension."

THE BIBLE

No. 234. All Idols To Be Destroyed

Isaiah continued to relay the messages he received from God to the people. He noted that Israel had vast treasures of silver and gold, as well as great numbers of man-made idols which the people worshipped. His prophecy concerning the idols and the worshippers of idols is as follows:

"And the loveliness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low; and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. And the idols he shall utterly abolish. And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty...." (Isaiah 2:17-19)

"In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made each one for himself to worship, to the moles, and to the bats; To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth." Bunny Funnies

Hare today, gone tomorrow. It's that time of year again — and once more the flap-eared, back-toothed Easter Bunny is juggling it up on scores of contemporary Easter cards.

One this year shows a befuddled bunny peering out at the reader. "When they were handling out ears," says the caption, "I thought they said ears — and I said 'I'll have a couple of big ones.' Happy Easter."

Another shows a rip-roaring rabbit on a rooftop, egg-basket in hand, yelling down the chimney at Santa Claus: "Out of the way, Fatso! I've got deliveries to make!"

Then there's this riddle card: How do you catch an Easter bunny? Answer: "Hide in the bushes and make a noise like a carrot."

Plan Appearances At Two Churches

Bob Hobbs of Muskegon will appear at two St. Joseph churches Sunday, April 11.

He will be at Lake Michigan Assembly of God, St. Joseph, at 9:45 a.m., and at 6 p.m., will present An Evening of Music at First Church of God, St. Joseph.

The public is invited to both services.

A native of Muskegon, Hobbs has served churches in Michigan and Indiana as choir and music director.

He has been a trumpeter for 20 years and as a teenager was a national finalist in the Youth for Christ competition at Winona Lake, Ind.

He attended Carthage college, Kenosha, Wis., and is a member of the Oak Park-River Forest Symphony, Chicago.

Hobbs has been a guest soloist at churches, conventions, crusades, rallies and banquets and now travels full-time under the auspices of World Vision International.

Spring Bride

DECATUR — Miss Joan Hemenway and Charles Cady exchanged wedding vows Friday, April 9, at Holy Family Catholic church, Decatur. The Rev. Fr. Walter Spillane performed the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Jay Hemenway, route 3, Decatur. The groom is the son of Mrs. Ward Cady, route 2, Decatur, and the late Ward Cady.

The bride wore an organza and taffeta gown featuring a ruffled hemline and a chapel train. A pearl trimmed Juliet headpiece held her lace-trimmed elbow length veil and she carried mixed spring flowers.

Miss Jillana Hemenway was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Brenda Hemenway, sister of the bride, and Miss Deborah Fosdick.

Karin Stiff was flower girl and Rodney Hemenway was ring-bearer.

Gregory Bombrys served as best man. Ushers were Timothy Janssen and James Corwin.

A reception was held at the Dowagiac Armory.

Following a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the couple will make their home at route 2, Phelps Mobile Home Village, Decatur.

The bride is a graduate of Decatur high school and Parsons Business school in Kalamazoo. She is employed as an administrative secretary at Southwestern Michigan college. Her husband is also a graduate of Decatur high school. He received his degree from Western Michigan university and is a self-employed farmer in Decatur.

THE BIBLE

No. 234. All Idols To Be Destroyed

Isaiah continued to relay the messages he received from God to the people. He noted that Israel had vast treasures of silver and gold, as well as great numbers of man-made idols which the people worshipped. His prophecy concerning the idols and the worshippers of idols is as follows:

"And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low; and the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. And the idols he shall utterly abolish. And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty..." (Isaiah 2:17-19)

"In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made each one for himself to worship, to the moles, and to the bats; To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the Lord, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth." Passover--The Holiday Of Freedom

SEDER: This painting by an unknown artist depicts a Jewish family celebrating Seder, the feast that commemorates the exodus of the Jews from Egypt. It is observed on the eve of the first day of Passover which begins this year on April 15.

Passover services at Temple B'nai Shalom, Benton Harbor, will be held at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, and at 9 a.m., Thursday, April 15, and Friday, April 16, for the first two days of Passover, according to Rabbi Harold Berman.

Services Saturday, April 17, will include special prayers as part of the holiday observance. The last two days of Passover are observed Wednesday, April 21, and Thursday, April 22.

As part of the Religious School program at Temple B'nai Shalom, students will participate in preparing and rehearsing Model Seder programs Sunday, April 11, and Monday, April 12.

According to Rabbi Berman, Passover, the holiday of freedom, is observed every year for eight days beginning on the evening of the fourteenth day of the Hebrew month of Nisan — during March or April.

The holiday of Passover commemorates the Exodus of the Jewish people from the land of Egypt at the end of a four hundred year period of slavery. The name of the holiday, which is an exact translation of the Hebrew name Pesach, refers to the last of the ten plagues brought upon the Egyptians by God when they would not allow the people of Israel to leave their slavery. Rabbi Berman says, "We remember gratefully that as God destroyed the first born from the family of every Egyptian, He passed over each wish bone and spared it from the same destruction."

Also observed as a holiday of spring, Passover was the first of three holidays which brought pilgrims from all parts of the ancient land of Israel to the capital, Jerusalem, for the offering of sacrifices in the Temple of ancient times.

The holiday is observed for eight days of which the first two and last two are holy days, days on which work is not to be performed and special services are held. On the evenings of the first two days, a special home service surrounding the festival meal is held. This service, known as the Passover Seder, is used to tell story of the Exodus from Egypt, and to display symbols which recall specific incidents that are part of the story of Israel in Egypt. The most important of these symbols is the Matzah, the unleavened bread, which recalls that on the way out from Egypt, there was not enough time to allow bread to rise, and so the bread that was eaten was in the form of unleavened cakes. Before the holiday one is required to cleanse the home of all bread and bread products and to use only Matzah and other products made from unleavened bread during the eight days of the festival.

CHURCH NEWS OF RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Palm Sunday worship services will be held at 8 and 10:30 a.m. April 11 at ST. AUGUSTINE'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH, Benton Harbor. The services will include the Blessing of the palms and the reading of the Passion.

Holy Eucharist will be at 7 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 14, at the church.

Chancel choir of PEACE TEMPLE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH, Benton Harbor, will present the Easter cantata, "Christ Triumphant," at 9:45 a.m. Palm Sunday, April 11. Dr. Charles Davis is the director and Mrs. Dorothy Williams is organist. The Carollers and Temple Singers will also participate.

Palm Sunday services will be held at 10 a.m. April 11 at FAIRPLAIN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Benton Harbor, commemorating the entering of Christ into Jerusalem with the "Presbyterian Kids," the junior high group, providing music under the direction of Miss Virginia Archer. Also included in the service will be the reception of the One Great Hour of Sharing offering. The public is invited.

The choir of FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, Benton Harbor, will present the Easter cantata, "The Resurrection According to Nicodemus," under the direction of Mrs. Karl Schlabach Palm Sunday, April 11, during the 11 a.m. worship service. Mrs. Alvada Davis will be organist.

A traditional Palm Sunday worship will be held at CHRIST LUTHERAN CHURCH, Stevensville, April 11 at 8 and 10:30 a.m.

The Rev. Loren N. Trapp, pastor, will continue his series on the Lord's Prayer with the theme, "Deliver Us From Evil." The senior and junior choirs will sing.

Palm Sunday services at TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH, St. Joseph, will begin with a German service at 8 a.m. with the Rev. Adolph Jeschke of Dowagiac as the speaker.

English services will be held at 9:15 and 11 a.m. with the Rev. Paul Koehnke speaking on "Behold Your King." Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 9:15 a.m. service. The senior choir under the direction of Walter Gresens will sing at the English services.

Palm Sunday worship services at GOOD SHEPHERD EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH, Benton Harbor, will include a regular worship service at 9 a.m. and a special confirmation service at 10:30 a.m. There will be no Sunday school that day.

EAU CLAIRE — Palm Sunday worship services will be held at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. at GRACE EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH, Eau Claire.

COLOMA — Thirteen children will be received into communicant membership by the Rite of Confirmation at 10:30 a.m. Palm Sunday, April 11, at SALEM LUTHERAN CHURCH, Coloma. The Rev. Frederick E. Kipp will be the speaker and the Rev. Dennis L. Schultz will be liturgist.

Palm Sunday services at ST. JOSEPH CATHOLIC CHURCH, St. Joseph, will include the celebration of the Eucharist at 5:30 and 7 p.m. Saturday and at 7:30 and 9 a.m. Sunday.

The Solemn Procession of the Congregation will be held at 10:30 a.m. Sunday and the celebration of the Eucharist at noon Sunday. The Eucharist will also be celebrated at 9 and 11 a.m. at the annex in Stevensville.

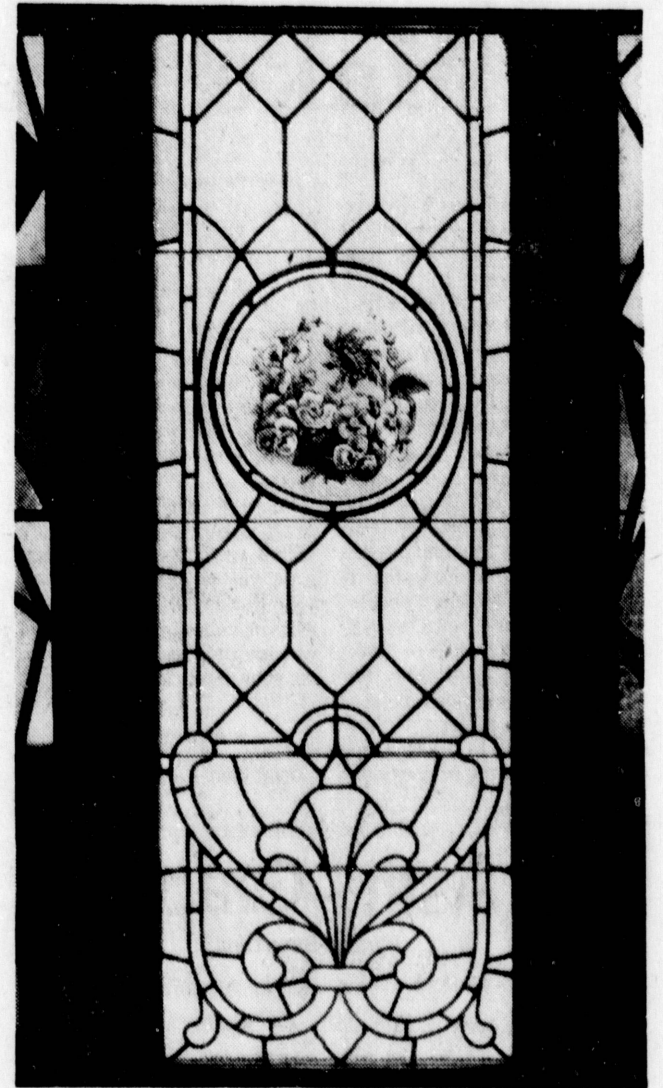

COLOMA — The traditional Palm Sunday parade will be held at 10:30 a.m. April 11 on Paw Paw avenue.

Banners, palms and singing will mark the observance of the parade as people enter the city. "Hezy," a mule which belongs to the COLOMA UNITED METHODIST CHURCH will again lead the parade. All churches are invited to participate.

Reception of the confirmation class into full membership of the COLOMA UNITED METHODIST CHURCH will be held at the 11 a.m. service Palm Sunday.

Those who will become members will receive communion at 7:45 a.m. followed by a breakfast.

GANGES — Palm Sunday family night at GANGES UNITED METHODIST CHURCH will be April 11 at 6 p.m. in the church social rooms.

Memorial Window To Be Dedicated

A memorial window will be dedicated Sunday, April 11, by the congregation of First Presbyterian church, Benton Harbor, during the 10 a.m. service.

The window honors members of two pioneer families who whose lives have been identified with the history of the church.

The Memorial Inscription in the Book of Remembrance will read: "In loving memory of Ruth and Iven E. Spencer and Grace and Dwight M. Ruth, who worked faithfully for so many years in the First Presbyterian church of Benton Harbor, a stained glass medallion of flowers from the original church has been installed in a window in this sanctuary by their families.

Mrs. Iven Spencer, 97, is the oldest member of the church and will be present for the dedication. She has been spending the winter with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Ruth in Park Ridge, Ill.

The Memorial window has been designed and built by Walter Pymn of Benton Harbor from windows used in the old First Presbyterian church, formerly located on Territorial road on Morton Hill.

Passover--The Holiday Of Freedom

SEDER: This painting by an unknown artist depicts a Jewish family celebrating Seder, the feast that commemorates the exodus of the Jews from Egypt. It is observed on the eve of the first day of Passover which begins this year on April 15.

Passover services at Temple B'nai Shalom, Benton Harbor, will be held at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, and at 9 a.m., Thursday, April 15, and Friday, April 16, for the first two days of Passover, according to Rabbi Harold Berman.

Services Saturday, April 17, will include special prayers as part of the holiday observance. The last two days of Passover are observed Wednesday, April 21, and Thursday, April 22.

As part of the Religious School program at Temple B'nai Shalom, students will participate in preparing and rehearsing Model Seder programs Sunday, April 11, and Monday, April 12.

According to Rabbi Berman, Passover, the holiday of freedom, is observed every year for eight days beginning on the evening of the fourteenth day of the Hebrew month of Nisan — during March or April.

The holiday of Passover commemorates the Exodus of the Jewish people from the land of Egypt at the end of a four hundred year period of slavery. The name of the holiday, which is an exact translation of the Hebrew name Pesach, refers to the last of the ten plagues brought upon the Egyptians by God when they would not allow the people of Israel to leave their slavery. Rabbi Berman says, "We remember gratefully that as God destroyed the first born from the family of every Egyptian. He passed over each wish home and spared it from the same destruction."

Also observed as a holiday of spring, Passover was the first of three holidays which brought pilgrims from all parts of the ancient land of Israel to the capital, Jerusalem, for the offering of sacrifices in the Temple of ancient times.

The holiday is observed for eight days of which the first two and last two are holy days, days on which work is not to be performed and special services are held. On the evenings of the first two days, a special home service surrounding the festival meal is held. This service, known as the Passover Seder, is used to tell story of the Exodus from Egypt, and to display symbols which recall specific incidents that are part of the story of Israel in Egypt. The most important of these symbols is the Matzah, the unleavened bread, which recalls that on the way out from Egypt, there was not enough time to allow bread to rise, and so the bread that was eaten was in the form of unleavened cakes. Before the holiday one is required to cleanse the home of all bread and bread products and to use only Matzah and other products made from unleavened bread during the eight days of the festival.

CHURCH NEWS OF RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Schedule Concert At SJ Church

The 61-voice choir of Anderson college, Anderson, Ind., will present a concert Wednesday, April 14, at 7:30 p.m., at First Church of God, St. Joseph.

The public is invited, and there is no admission charge.

according to the Rev. Lovell J. Sorrell, pastor of the host church.

The choir, under the leadership of Dr. M. Eugene Miller, will sing some patriotic songs in conjunction with the Bicentennial, as well as religious selections. Programming will include music by such composers as Pietro Mascagni, Felix Mendelssohn, Karl Heinrich Graun, Gordon Binkherd, Eugene Butler and Thomas A. Miller.

The choir was one of five choirs from across the United States to tour in Europe and won special recognition at the Vienna School of Music in Austria in 1974.

LOCAL SINGER: Vicki Karns, a 1973 graduate of St. Joseph high school, is a member of the choir of Anderson college, Anderson, Ind., which will perform at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 14, at First Church of God, St. Joseph. Miss Karns is in the second row, third from the right.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers Make Deal With Yourself

Dear Ann Landers: You have answered letters from people whose feelings have been hurt because someone had a big mouth. Now I wish you would print a letter from someone WITH a big mouth. That's me.

I am always saying things I'm sorry for later. I've told myself a hundred times to talk less and listen more, because my mouth has gotten me into trouble ever since I learned to talk (about 14 years ago.) Right now three of my best friends are mad at me.

My biggest problem is that I am always telling people something for their own good. I don't know why I seem to think it is my place to remake the whole world. When I see something in a person that could be improved I say so. Nine times out of ten my suggestions make an enemy instead of a friend. Today I feel like cutting my tongue out. I told a very lovely girl that she ought to lose 25 pounds so people could see her beautiful face instead of her fat behind. Terrible, wasn't it? I really didn't mean to insult her. I wanted to help. Please give me some advice about my problem before I end up — Completely Friendless.

Dear C.F.: Since you're such a great talker, have a little talk with yourself. Take a bath that when the impulse to improve your friends takes over, instead of trying to improve THEM, you will improve yourself by keeping your mouth shut. Good luck.

Blew It!

Dear Ann Landers: Get the wet noodle out of retirement. You goofed in your comment to the woman who asked about funeral etiquette. She told you she felt bad because she didn't attend the funeral of a neighbor. The reason she didn't go was that she was under the impression only the family and very close friends were expected. Her presence, she felt, would have been an intrusion on their privacy.

You said, "A funeral is not an affair to which people are invited." Well, Ann, some funerals ARE private. Only those who present their invitations are admitted. Just sign me — Surprised You Blew It!

Dear Eagle Eye: So am I. I knew better. Sometimes when my typewriter ribbon goes on active duty my brain goes AWOL. Thank you for hauling me up short.

Great Job

Dear Ann Landers: I am a freshman in high school. I've noticed that you often advise school students to seek advice from their school guidance counselors. Whenever I need to talk to someone, my counselor is the person I turn to. He has helped me a lot. When I was contemplating suicide several months ago he brought me out of my black mood and made me see life from a different perspective.

He listens to every student who comes to him with a problem — big or small — and he understands. Millions of students owe something to their counselors, and although I don't know if every school has someone who can really relate to the students it would be wonderful if they did.

Maybe my counselor will recognize himself when he reads this letter. I want the world to know at least one North Dakota counselor is doing a great job. — Grateful

Dear G.: What a lift you have given to hundreds of school counselors today. Bless you — and bless HIM, too.

How young is too young for a child to learn about sex? That's just one thing you'll find in Ann Landers' new booklet, "How, What and When to Tell Your Child About Sex." Send 50 cents in coin, along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1406, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Vision-Hearing Clinic

BUCHANAN — The annual Vision and Hearing Clinic for pre-school children, sponsored by the Buchanan Modern Mothers Child Study club, will be held May 4 and 5 at the First United Methodist church.

Deadline for parents to register their children is Friday, April 16. Any child who is at least 2½ years old and has never had a pre-school vision or hearing test should be registered, according to Mrs. James Taylor, chairman.

Since census lists from schools are no longer available, Mrs. Taylor said, the assistance of parents is vital in reaching those having pre-school children.

The 1970 pre-school vision law requires all children entering school in Michigan must have a vision test after age three prior to entrance.

The free service, provided by the Berrien County Health department and the Michigan Department of Public Health, fulfills the requirements of the pre-school vision law.

CHOICE FOR FENCES

The width and thickness of lumber chosen for a fence are a primary influence on its character.

Dr. Lester Coleman

A new device has been created to help the blind "hear" the printed word.

It is now possible to place a printed page in this computerized machine and within seconds, actually hear the words converted into sound.

The machine is able to find the first line of the type and automatically covers the rest of the page. The pronunciation of words and sentences are almost life-like in their pauses and in their accents.

The speech rate, the pitch of the voice and the volume of the sound can be regulated.

Braille, one of the greatest contributions to the blind, may soon be replaced if mass production of these instruments can make them easily available.

It is occasionally necessary to open the ear drum because of infection, or to release fluid behind it.

In order to make this procedure painless, anesthesia is used. This local anesthesia can be moderately painful to children.

Now, it is possible to use a gentle electronic device to help anesthetize the skin of the ear canal and the ear drum.

Dr. Jack Vernon, of the university of Oregon, uses this technique to make the procedure totally painless. The method is known as "topothuresis". It holds promise for anesthetizing other, highly sensitive areas of the body.

A preliminary study by tennis-playing physician may reduce the frequency of "tennis elbow." Dr. James D. Priest, of Stanford University Hospital in California, says, "Tennis players who use a steel or aluminum racket and who develop a two-handed backhand stroke, stand the best chance of avoiding tennis elbow."

He came to this conclusion after studying more than two hundred tennis players. Even Dr. Priest suggests that a larger sample of players will be studied before he recommends such a marked departure from previous patterns of the game.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has a special eye-care booklet available called, "What You Should Know About Glaucoma and Cataracts." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D., (Eye booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

West had to come down to four cards also. He had already discarded a club and a heart; he had to chuck one more heart.

South didn't have any further worries. He simply discarded dummy's nine of clubs, led a heart in the ace, ruffed a heart and made the last two tricks with dummy's jack of heart and ace of clubs.

South looked over the dummy. He counted 12 easy tricks. The 13th was there if he could drop the queen of hearts; singleton, doubtless or triplet or finesse successfully against it. Then there just might be a squeeze. South decided to keep open as many options as possible.

He won the club in his hand; played three rounds of trumps and his ace and king of spades. He ruffed his last spade; came back to his hand with the king of ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be very energetic and enterprising today, but channel your activities toward a specific goal. Otherwise you'll just spin your wheels.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) While you'll be in a mood to enjoy yourself today, you could be greatly perturbed by those who put on false airs. Sneeze clear of these types.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's likely you'll be too generous with your resources today. Unfortunately, one who covets what you have may try to take advantage.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're a good starter today, but you tend to be a poor finisher. Chances are you'll open up full of zest, but lose your momentum too quickly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Financially your situation may be like a will-o'-the-wisp today. What you gain may quickly fly out the window on another venture.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Avoid those who are not doers today, but who would rather lie in the shade. You're a go-getter. You won't be able to tolerate idlers.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Your initiative is likely to desert you early today. The plans you contrive will probably fail by the hands. The spirit is willing, but SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) Make it a point today to draw a fine line between business and pleasure. Deals you attempt to make with friends are not likely to jell.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Evaluate your offering carefully today in business dealings. Don't dilute your position in the point where you make needless concessions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're reluctant to take the initiative today, but you'll be wary of delegating responsibility. Why not save ulcers and do it yourself?

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Make Deal With Yourself

Dear Ann Landers: You have answered letters from people whose feelings have been hurt because someone had a big mouth. Now I wish you would print a letter from someone WITH a big mouth. That's me.

I am always saying things I'm sorry for later. I've told myself a hundred times to talk less and listen more, because my mouth has gotten me into trouble ever since I learned to talk (about 14 years ago.) Right now three of my best friends are mad at me.

My biggest problem is that I am always telling people something for their own good. I don't know why I seem to think it is my place to remake the whole world. When I see something in a person that could be improved I say so. Nine times out of ten my suggestions make an enemy instead of a friend. Today I feel like cutting my tongue out. I told a very lovely girl that she ought to lose 25 pounds so people could see her beautiful face instead of her fat behind. Terrible, wasn't it? I really didn't mean to insult her. I wanted to help. Please give me some advice about my problem before I end up — Completely Friendless.

Dear C.F.: Since you're such a great talker, have a little talk with yourself. Take an oath that when the impulse to improve your friends takes over, instead of trying to improve THEM, you will improve yourself by keeping your mouth shut. Good luck.

Blew It!

Dear Ann Landers: Get the

wet noodle out of retirement. You goofed in your comment to the woman who asked about funeral etiquette. She told you she felt bad because she didn't attend the funeral of a neighbor. The reason she didn't go was that she was under the impression only the family and very close friends were expected. Her presence, she felt, would have been an intrusion on their privacy.

You said, "A funeral is not an affair to which people are invited." Well, Ann, some funerals ARE private. Only those who present their invitations are admitted. Just sign me — Surprised You Blew It.

Dear Eagle Eye: So am I. I knew better. Sometimes when my typewriter ribbon goes on active duty my brain goes AWOL. Thank you for hauling me up short.

Great Job

Dear Ann Landers: I am a freshman in high school. I've noticed that you often advise school students to seek advice from their school guidance counselors.

Whenever I need to talk to

someone, my counselor is the person I turn to. He has helped me a lot. When I was contemplating suicide several months ago he brought me out of my black mood and made me see life from a different perspective.

He listens to every student who comes to him with a problem — big or small — and he understands. Millions of students owe something to their counselors, and although I don't know if every school has someone who can really relate to the students it would be wonderful if they did.

Maybe my counselor will recognize himself when he reads this letter. I want the world to know at least one North Dakota counselor is doing a great job. — Grateful

Dear G.: What a lift you have given to hundreds of school counselors today. Bless you — and bless HIM, too.

How young is too young for a child to learn about sex? That's just one thing you'll find in Ann Landers' new booklet, "How, What and When to Tell Your Child About Sex." Send 50 cents in coin, along with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Vision-Hearing Clinic

BUCHANAN — The annual Vision and Hearing Clinic for pre-school children, sponsored by the Buchanan Modern Mothers Child Study club, will be held May 4 and 5 at the First United Methodist church.

Deadline for parents to register their children is Friday, April 16. Any child who is at least 3½ years-old and has never had a pre-school vision or hearing test should be registered, according to Mrs. James Taylor, chairman.

Since census lists from schools are no longer available, Mrs. Taylor said, the assistance of parents is vital in reaching those having pre-school children.

The 1970 pre-school vision law requires all children entering school in Michigan must have a vision test after age three prior to entrance.

The free service, provided by the Berrien County Health department and the Michigan Department of Public Health, fulfills the requirements of the pre-school vision law.

CHOICE FOR FENCES The width and thickness of lumber chosen for a fence are a primary influence on its character.

Dr. Lester Coleman

A new device has been created to help the blind "hear" the printed word.

It is now possible to place a printed page in this computerized machine and within seconds, actually hear the words converted into sound.

The machine is able to find the first line of the type and automatically covers the rest of the page. The pronunciation of words and sentences are almost life-like in their pauses and in their accents.

The speech rate, the pitch of the voice and the volume of the sound can be regulated.

Braille, one of the greatest contributions to the blind, may soon be replaced if mass production of these instruments can make them easily available.

It is occasionally necessary to open the ear drum because of infection, or to release fluid behind it.

In order to make this procedure painless, anesthesia is used. This local anesthesia can be moderately painful to children.

Now, it is possible to use a gentle electronic device to help anesthetize the skin of the ear canal and the ear drum.

Dr. Jack Vernon, of the university of Oregon, uses this technique to make the procedure totally painless. The method is known as "iontophoresis". It holds promise for anesthetizing other highly sensitive areas of the body.

A preliminary study by tennis-playing physician may reduce the frequency of "tennis elbow". Dr. James D. Priest, of Stanford University Hospital in California, says, "Tennis players who use a steel or aluminum racquet and who develop a two-handed backhand stroke, stand the best chance of avoiding tennis elbow."

He came to this conclusion after studying more than two hundred tennis players. Even Dr. Priest suggests that a larger sample of players will be studied before he recommends such a marked departure from previous patterns of the game.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has a special eye-care booklet available called, "What You Should Know About Glaucoma and Cataracts." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lester L. Coleman, M.D., (Eye booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

hearts and cashed his next to last trump to leave himself with one trump, one heart and two clubs.

West had to come down to four cards also. He had already discarded a club and a heart; he had to chuck one more heart.

South didn't have any further worries. He simply discarded dummy's nine of clubs, led a heart to the ace, ruffed a heart and made the last two tricks with dummy's jack of heart and ace of clubs.

Ask the Jacobys

A Montana reader wants to know the correct response to one notrump with:

♠ Q J x x x x ♥ x x ♦ Q J x ♣ x.

The standard American response is four spades. If you are playing Jacoby transfer you first transfer and then take your partner to four spades. Either way you are gambling but the gamble is a good one.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The Jacobys will answer individual questions if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

By Oswald & James Jacoby

South looked over the dummy. He counted 12 easy tricks. The 13th was there if he could drop the queen of hearts, singleton, doubleton or tripleton or finesse successfully against it. Then there just might be a squeeze. South decided to keep open as many options as possible.

He won the club in his hand; played three rounds of trumps and his ace and king of spades. He ruffed his last spade; came back to his hand with the king of

Library Plans Travel Films

Two travel films will be shown at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 13, for Family Film Night at Maud Preston Palenske Memorial library in St. Joseph.

"Mojave Desert: Fragile and Enduring," a National Geographic Society film, is the story of the fragile plant and animal life in the Death Valley desert and the hardy band of people who make it their home.

"Painted Truck" takes the viewer on a trip through Afghanistan in craftsmen constructed and painted trucks, which are becoming dominant over camels as the main form of transportation in that country.

The "Easter Beaver" will be featured for the Saturday, April 17, story hour for preschool through second grade children at the library at 11 a.m.

A collection of decorated eggs, through the courtesy of Mrs. Arthur Carlton and Mrs. Millard Schlutt, is in the display case for the month of April.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be very energetic and enterprising today, but channel your activities toward a specific goal. Otherwise you'll just spin your wheels.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) While you'll be in a mood to enjoy yourself today, you could be greatly perturbed by those who put on false airs. Steer clear of these types.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's likely you'll be too generous with your resources today. Unfortunately, one who covets what you have may try to take advantage.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're a good starter today, but you tend to be a poor finisher. Chances are you'll open up full of zest, but lose your momentum too quickly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Financially your situation may be like a will-o'-the-wisp today. What you gain may quickly fly out the window on another venture.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Avoid those who are not doers today, but who would rather lie in the shade. You're a go-getter. You won't be able to tolerate idlers.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your initiative is likely to desert you early today. The plans you contrive will probably fall by the boards. The spirit is willing, but SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Make it a point today to draw a fine line between business and pleasure. Deals you attempt to make with friends are not likely to jell.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Evaluate your offering carefully today in business dealings. Don't dilute your position to the point where you make needless concessions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're reluctant to take the initiative today, but you'll be wary of delegating responsibility. Why not save ulcers and do it yourself?

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Today you may be called upon to do something for a friend. It's best to lock down the terms beforehand to avoid a misunderstanding.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Make no agreement with a loved one that you may later have to renege on. Promise nothing you're not sure you can perform.

For Monday, April 12, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) An unexpected disruption in your routine today, may suddenly throw you off course. Don't use it as an excuse to avoid responsibility.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) This is one of those days when you could create more work for yourself by trying to do things the easy way. Forget the short cuts.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you're committed to do something special with a friend today, don't back out at the last minute. You could lose a pal.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It might be very difficult for you to keep secrets today. Be careful what you say to others or put in writing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The edge will be taken off something nice you do for a friend today, if you boast of your deed. And it won't help your image.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't let your aptitude for details desert you today. Overlooking minor points where business is concerned could be costly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be willing to share today, but it isn't necessary to reward others for something they don't deserve. Be sensible and discriminating.

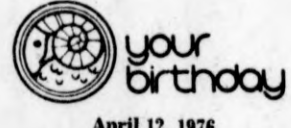

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) People you'll be associating with may try to shift their burdens to your shoulders if given the slightest opportunity.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be persistent in what you set out to do or you may quit before you accomplish your goal. Success requires extra effort today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're likely to be better at formulating plans today than you will in implementing them. Follow your blueprints.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It would be a mistake to rely too heavily upon others. They may promise you more than they can deliver. Do things yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be careful how you negotiate commercial transactions today or you may wind up being taken.

Division Chief Named By BUW

Dan Griswold, general manager of the brake division of Auto Specialties Manufacturing Company, will be chairman of the Auto Firm "A" division of the 1978 Blossomland United Way campaign, according to Dr. Walter Browne, general chairman.

Griswold was a section chairman in the 1974 BUW campaign, and served as section chairman in 1975 in the former Industrial division.

The Major Firm "A" division covers 23 employee groups in the Blossomland United Way area. Griswold said the campaign unit produced $443,186 in the record-setting 1975 solicitation. Over 12,500 people are employed in the businesses covered by the division.

Employees in the various major firms were credited by Griswold for notable support of United Way services in the weak economic climate of last year's campaign. Nine of the division's employee groups were cited at the recent BUW giving awards ceremony for their financial support of United Way agency services.

Griswold joined the Ausco brake division in 1953. He has a degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Arizona.

Griswold and his wife, Linda, are parents of three children and live on Valley View drive, St. Joseph.

Crash Puts Driver In Hospital

SOUTH HAVEN — Henry Krystek, 24, route 1, Grand Junction, was listed in fair condition today at South Haven Community hospital after being injured last night when his car plunged down an embankment and rolled over near here.

State police at the South Haven post said Krystek was alone in his car and northbound on Blue Star Memorial highway near the Black River bridge, South Haven township, when the auto went out of control on a curve, struck 14 guardposts, rolled down an embankment and landed on its roof.

Krystek suffered internal injuries, according to a hospital spokesman.

Hoffa's Wife Files Suits

DETROIT (AP) — The wife of missing ex-Tourist James R. Hoffa is suing to force Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons and a bank to pay $481,136 in pension benefits to her husband's estate.

The suit says Fitzsimmons told the American Security & Trust Co. to make no payment to the Hoffa family because Hoffa owed money to the pension fund.

Crackups Hurt Eight In Twin Cities Area

Eight people were reported injured in four separate traffic accidents investigated by Twin Cities area police yesterday and early this morning.

In St. Joseph, police said Robert A. Lange, 49, of Box 401 Arbor Road, Route 3, Benton Harbor, and Mervyn Arent, 37, of 1030 Lausman drive, St. Joseph, were treated and released from Memorial hospital after an auto driven by Lange struck an utility pole about 1:30 a.m. today.

The accident occurred on Niles avenue, near Lane drive. Police said Lange reported that something went wrong with the steering and brakes. Police said Lange was ticketed for careless driving.

St. Joseph police reported that Kurt Walter Hornack, 13, of 2818 Sunnyside drive, was treated and released from Memorial hospital after a bicycle he was driving struck a parked car on Sunnyside near Highland avenue about 8:33 a.m. Friday.

The car was reported owned by Wilbur Walske, 2715 Sunnyside, and unoccupied at the time. No tickets were issued.

Benton township police said three people were injured, but not hospitalized, in a two-car collision on Territorial road, near Benton Center road, at 6:23 p.m. Friday.

They were identified as the drivers, George W. Varvel, 23, of 589 Midway avenue, Benton township, and Norline Ruby Benton, 44, of 4085 Territorial road, Benton township, and a passenger in the Benton auto, William H. Benton, 56, also of 4085 Territorial road. No tickets were issued, police said.

Also in Benton township, police said two people received apparently minor injuries in the collision of three cars on M-139, about 600 feet south of Napier avenue, at 7:34 p.m. Friday.

Injured were Lucie Moore, age not reported, of 498 North

Stevens, Benton Harbor, who was a passenger in an auto driven by Mary Jimison, 52, of 636 Clay, Benton Harbor; and Ruth Goldstein, age not reported, of 442 Delaware, Fairplain, a passenger in an auto driven by Herman L. Goldstein, 59, also of 442 Delaware.

Unhurt were the two drivers and the driver of the third auto, Bertram A. Turner, 18, of 1291

Pearl street, Benton Harbor. Police said the Jimison and Goldstein autos collided and the Goldstein auto was pushed into the Turner car. Police said Goldstein was issued a ticket for failure to yield the right of way.

Division Chief Named By BUW

Dan Griswold, general manager of the brake division of Auto Specialties Manufacturing company, will be chairman of the Major Firms "A" division of the 1976 Blossomland United Way campaign, according to Dr. Walter Browe, general chairman.

Griswold was a section chairman in the 1974 BUW campaign, and served as section chairman in 1973 in the former Industrial division.

The Major Firms "A" division covers 23 employee groups in the Blossomland United Way area. Griswold said the campaign unit produced $443,185 in the record-setting 1975 solicitation. Over 12,500 people are employed in the businesses covered by the division.

Employees in the various major firms were credited by Griswold for notable support of United Way services in the weak economic climate of last year's campaign. Nine of the division's employee groups were cited at the recent BUW giving awards ceremony for their financial support of United Way agency services.

Griswold joined the Ausco brake division in 1953. He has a degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Arizona.

Griswold and his wife, Linda, are parents of three children and live on Valley View drive, St. Joseph.

Crash Puts Driver In Hospital

SOUTH HAVEN — Henry Krystekci, 24, route 1, Grand Junction, was listed in fair condition today at South Haven Community hospital after being injured last night when his car plunged down an embankment and rolled over near here.

State police at the South Haven post said Krystekci was alone in his car and northbound on Blue Star Memorial highway near the Black River bridge, South Haven township, when the auto went out of control on a curve, struck 14 guardposts, rolled down an embankment and landed on its roof.

Krystekci suffered internal injuries, according to a hospital spokesman. The accident remains under investigation.

GIVE IT A CHANCE

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Auto mechanics and consumers should give the state's new auto repair law "an adequate trial period" to see how it works, Gov. William Milliken said Friday.

Van Buren Marriage Licenses

PAW PAW — The following marriage licenses have been issued by Van Buren county Clerk Charles E. MacDonald:

Tommy Lee Jackson, 30, and Dorothy Mae Jones, 18, both of Covert.

LeRoy Charles Dahms, Jr., 26, and Valla Dell Hurley, 28, both of Bangor.

Randolph Jesus Moreno, 27, Paw Paw, and Colleen Elizabeth McKee, 18, Mattawan.

Harold W. Chaddock, 61, and Margaret E. Sandstrom, 61, both of South Haven.

Christopher Lynn Kowalski, 21, Paw Paw, and Kathleen Ann Gallup, 17, Kalamazoo.

Hoffa's Wife Files Suits

DETROIT (AP) — The wife of missing ex-Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa is suing to force Teamsters President Frank Fitzsimmons and a bank to pay $461,136 in pension benefits to her husband's estate.

The suit says Fitzsimmons told the American Security & Trust Co. to make no payment to the Hoffa family because Hoffa owed money to the pension fund.

Crackups Hurt Eight In Twin Cities Area

Eight people were reported injured in four separate traffic accidents investigated by Twin Cities area police yesterday and early this morning.

In St. Joseph, police said Robert A. Lange, 49, of Box 400 Arbor road, Route 3, Benton Harbor, and Merye Arent, 37, of 1030 Lausman drive, St. Joseph, were treated and released from Memorial hospital after an auto driven by Lange struck a utility pole about 1:30 a.m. today.

The accident occurred on Niles avenue, near Lane drive. Police said Lange reported that something went wrong with the steering and brakes. Police said Lange was ticketed for careless driving.

St. Joseph police reported that Kurt Walter Hornack, 13, of 2816 Sunnydale drive, was treated and released from Memorial hospital after a bicycle he was driving struck a parked car on Sunnydale near Highland avenue about 8:33 a.m. Friday.

The car was reported owned by Wilbur Walske, 2715 Sunnydale, and unoccupied at the time. No tickets were issued.

Benton township police said three people were injured, but not hospitalized, in a two-car collision on Territorial road, near Benton Center road, at 6:23 p.m. Friday.

They were identified as the drivers, George W. Varvel, 23, of 589 Midway avenue, Benton township, and Norine Ruby Benton, 44, of 4085 Territorial road, Benton township; and a passenger in the Benton auto, William H. Benton, 56, also of 4085 Territorial road. No tickets were issued, police said.

Also in Benton township, police said two people received apparently minor injuries in the collision of three cars on M-139, about 600 feet south of Napier avenue, at 7:34 p.m. Friday.

Injured were Lucie Moore, age not reported, of 495 North

Stevens, Benton Harbor, who was a passenger in an auto driven by Mary Jimison, 52, of 636 Clay, Benton Harbor; and Ruth Goldstein, age not reported, of 442 Delaware, Fairplain, a passenger in an auto driven by Herman L. Goldstein, 59, also of 442 Delaware.

Unhurt were the two drivers and the driver of the third auto, Bertram A. Turner, 16, of 1291

Pearl street, Benton Harbor.

Police said the Jimison and Goldstein autos collided and the Goldstein car was pushed into the Turner car. Police said Goldstein was issued a ticket for failure to yield the right of way.

RARE MEETING: Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter leans over to talk with Alabama Gov. George Wallace as Rep. Three Democratic Hopefuls Will Visit Detroit Today

DETROIT (AP) — Three top Democratic contenders unofficially kick off Michigan's presidential primary campaign today as they attend the state party's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner.

USSR Dissident Is Questioned

MOSCOW (AP) — Just 24 hours after he applied for a passport to leave the Soviet Union permanently, says dissident historian Andrei Amalrik, police detained him for 90 minutes of questioning. Amalrik told reporters the police questioned him only about a two-week trip around the Soviet Union he plans to make with his wife. They told him he must find work within a month or face trial, he said.

Cuba Hall event are former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, Arizona Congressman Morris Udall and Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington won't attend, but his national campaign director, Robert Koefe, will be present.

The appearance interrupts campaigns by Udall, Jackson and Carter in Pennsylvania, where an April 27 primary is regarded as a major showdown.

The Pennsylvania vote has left Michigan's May 18 election with an uncertain impact, but Democratic chiefs say there will be a major battle for this northern industrial state.

The Jefferson-Jackson Day event, four years ago, gave Wallace, one of his most memorable and powerful campaign triumphs. Frozen out by the party regulars at Cuba Hall, Wallace held two huge rallies which attracted far more attention. Several weeks later he carried 51 per cent of the vote in Michigan's first presidential primary.

But this year, Wallace's rally reflects his 1976 campaign, slumping after defeats by Carter in the early primaries. It will be held Saturday at a motel near the Detroit Metropolitan Airport, since the governor is not judged capable of filling Detroit's fair grounds arena as he did four years ago.

Carter is scheduled to arrive late in the afternoon and will attend a $10-a-person rally at a United Auto Workers local in Detroit. He arrives amid a controversy over his comment — and later apology — about "ethnic purity" regarding his opposition to government imposed artificial changes in the character of neighborhoods.

Carter hoped to obtain a UAW endorsement in Michigan — a hope that led Morris Udall to come to Detroit in mid-week to meet with union officials and make a pitch of his own.

But the union's political arm on Friday said it wasn't ready to endorse anyone, saying instead it liked non-candidate Hubert Humphrey.

Udall is slated to arrive about dinner time Saturday to attend a Democratic fund-raising cocktail party at the downtown Pontchartrain Hotel.

Then all three candidates will attend the Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner at 7:30 p.m., and a reception sponsored by Udall will be held at the Pontchartrain afterwards.

REAGAN HUMOR: Former California Gov. Ronald Reagan tells 800 Republican supporters at a $10 box-lunch rally in Cheyenne, Wyo., Friday night that "status quo" was Latin for "the mess we're in today." He referred to the current economic situation in the nation. Reagan takes his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination to Seattle, Wash. today. (AP Wirephoto)

Ethnic Remark Still Dogs Carter

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jimmy Carter, his Democratic presidential campaign still dogged by a remark about preserving "ethnic purity" in neighborhoods, says he endorses federal intervention to desegregate private schools.

Meanwhile, President Ford campaigned in Dallas today while his Republican challenger, Ronald Reagan, continued a campaign tour through several Western states where he hopes for strong support.

Carter, Arizona Rep. Morris K. Udall and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace moved on to Detroit today after attending a Democratic fund-raising dinner Friday in Columbus, Ohio.

Campaigning in Dallas, Ford sought to counter Reagan's claim that the nation is slipping behind the Soviet Union in armaments.

"Our military capability is fully sufficient to deter aggression, keep the peace and to protect our national security," Ford said. "But strength involves more than military might. A nation's real power is measured more completely by considering a combination of its military, agricultural, industrial, technological and moral strength. In every one of these areas, the No. 1 nation in the world is the United States of America."

The President made the claim in a text for an address at a convention of the Texas Grains and Feed Association in El Paso.

Ford began his first campaign foray into Texas with appearances Friday in San Antonio and Dallas, and was to head back to Washington late tonight after a final speech in Amarillo.

Aides describe Ford as the underdog in his Texas Republican primary battle with Reagan. The President plans to return to the state April 28 for at least two more days of vote seeking.

Carter has apologized repeatedly for the neighborhood remark, calling it "an unfortunate choice of words." He said he meant to say "ethnic heritage" rather than "ethnic purity."

But George L. Brown, lieutenant governor of Colorado and head of the Democratic National Committee's Black Caucus, said the former Georgia governor is going to have to do something more than apologize for the comment.

Carter's apologies, while a step in the right direction, are "certainly not the giant stride" toward showing he "has concern for minorities and particularly black minorities."

Brown said Friday.

"Black people have lived with that 'I'm sorry' story for more than 300 years," he added.

When asked Friday at a news conference in Columbus if he agrees with federal intervention to desegregate private schools, Carter hesitated, then replied: "Yes, I believe so."

He noted that the courts have denied federal tax exemptions in schools which discriminate racially in their enrollments. "I think that was a good decision," Carter said.

"I favor the opening up of schools to those who want to enroll. I don't favor, ever, excluding anyone because of race or ethnic background," he said.

Now See Here! BY BERT BACHARACH

A FRIEND of mine spent real big money at a European health spa and learned this effective exercise for removing a double chin: you sit in front of a mirror and make a face like Maurice Chevalier used to make, with lower lip pushed up and out. Turn head all the way to right, then to left — and you'll find real pull on neck and chin muscles. Repeat 12 times, morning and night. This year offers great opportunities for the Aries-born (March 21-April 19) engaged in creative work in the fields of music, art and writing. Celebrate-Tip from Bobby Vinton: "When punelling an egg, a little lemon juice will keep the egg white compact and will prevent spreading." Graphologists say people who dot their "i"s precisely over the stem are generally meticulous, neat and conscientious — whereas those who place the dot far from the letter are generally sloppy and do not pay attention to detail.

TWO NEW BROADWAY SHOWS are smash hits: "Bubbling Brown Sugar" at the Anta Theater and "My Fair Lady" at the St. James. There's an unforgettable lap-dancing chorus in the former, the likes of which hasn't been seen since the early Harlem days. And the return to Broadway of "My Fair Lady" is a real triumph.

On Monday, we gave our city of St. Joseph a vote of confidence by overwhelmingly passing an amendment to the city charter which raises our property tax limit.

(But we hold to our promise that your tax increase will not exceed one mill, during the coming year.)

It's not often that any community in America volunteers to increase its tax levy — especially now, when inflation and jumps in the cost of living are squeezing the available dollars of all of us like never before. That's what makes our action especially meaningful — we saw the need and responded to it without selfishness, partisanship, or hostility.

We proved, once again, what we've been saying all along "St. Joe is a great place to live — and we all aim to keep it that way."

Truckers May Reach $35,000

DETROIT (AP) — Long haul truck drivers could be making as much as $35,000 annually under a contract which has received tentative union approval, a local Teamsters official reports. The increase, according to Robert L. Holmes, who heads the 13,000 member Local 337 in Detroit, could be almost $10,400 over the three year life of the pact. Holmes also is an International Teamsters union vice president.

"There is no question about it — this is the best contract we've ever had," said Holmes.

"I think we accomplished some very important strides when we got an open-end cost-of-living (COLA) and established the sick-day principle."

Holmes said tentative three-year national master freight agreement included three paid sick days in the second year and a total of six in the third year.

He said the union figures on COLA boosts of 29 cents an hour next April and an additional 35 cents an hour in April 1978.

"That is based on an annual cost-of-living of 6 per cent which is what the federal government tells us to expect. If the cost of living goes higher, we will get more," the Teamster official said.

Holmes said chief beneficiaries of the new contract, which is being voted on in a special election under the watch of the U.S. Department of Labor, include 150,000 over-the-road drivers who will get an additional 5.1 cents a mile. These are the drivers who travel long distances and are paid by the mile rather than by the hour.

For some 250,000 dockmen and city drivers, the contract would mean an immediate hourly boost of 65 cents, another 50 cents next April and a third 50 cents in April 1978.

Holmes said the wages of some drivers could go up as much as $5,800 in the first year.

SCOUT RESIGNS

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — The chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, Alden G. Barber, has resigned effective May 1, a spokesman at the BSA national office announced Friday.

project. Butz said Friday that he would be willing to testify before a Senate subcommittee holding hearings in an effort to determine whether Callaway, while serving as Army secretary, used improper influence to gain approval for the expansion of his Crested Butte, Colo., ski resort.

The Senate interior and insular affairs subcommittee was to hear testimony today from Forest Service employees who were overruled by higher authorities after they recommended that Callaway's resort not be allowed to expand.

Callaway resigned as President Ford's campaign manager after published reports that he met with Agriculture Department officials in his Pentagon office in an effort to win approval of the resort expansion. He sat in the audience during Friday's subcommittee hearing and is to testify before the panel on Monday.

Butz, on a speaking tour in the Midwest, insisted during stops in Chicago and Des Moines, Iowa, that he was not personally involved in Callaway's efforts.

He said he recalled a memo from a subordinate urging him to back Callaway's request, but the memo was mislaid for 10 weeks "until I found it one day while I was cleaning off my desk."

Butz said he then forwarded the memo to a subordinate, but took no further action on it and never discussed the matter with Callaway.

"It should have been pretty evident after a 10-week delay that we weren't giving the matter any special treatment," Butz said.

Less than six months after the Pentagon meeting with Agriculture Department officials, the Forest Service issued an environmental impact statement tentatively approving the expansion. The action overruled the earlier recommendation by the lower-level Forest Service officials that the expansion be blocked.

Testifying before the panel on Friday, former agriculture undersecretary J. Phillip Campbell said he was the one who sent Butz the memo urging the secretary to "push" the Forest Service into approving the Crested Butte expansion.

Milliken, Young Agree On Detroit Aid Request

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. William Milliken and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young agreed Friday to seek legislative approval of $34.9 million in direct state aid for the financially troubled Motor City.

The eight-point, one-year package for the 1976-77 fiscal year is aimed at helping the city overcome a projected $96 million deficit.

At the same time, Young committed the city to taking $46 million in economy measures — including extensive mid-summer layoffs and imposition of a new tax on city residents.

Even with the cutbacks and state aid, the city would still be millions short by July 1977, Young and Milliken said.

Details of the plan are subject to further discussion between state and city officials and depends ultimately on legislative approval. Milliken and Young said. About 1,200 city employees were laid off on April 5 — 489 permanently — and Young had said more layoffs could be expected this summer.

The new tax on city residents would be a garbage tax, reportedly levied at three mills to bring in $14.4 million a year.

Milliken and Young said the level of cutbacks cannot be sustained for long. They pledged to work on a long-range solution to the city's troubles.

They also acknowledged that an adverse U.S. Labor Department decision on Detroit's use of federal job funds would have a major impact on the package.

The city had planned to rehire some of its idled workers with funds provided under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act, but there has been some question about whether the money can be used for that purpose. Among the proposals in the package are $9.7 million in state money for Detroit's cultural institutions, including libraries, the Historical Museum and the Art Institute. All branch libraries in the city have been temporarily closed, and the Historical Museum was closed indefinitely.

Also included are $9.1 million in transportation pension aid; $8 million for Detroit General Hospital; $1 million for the harbor-master program; $500,000 for the city health department; $600,000 for the health laboratory; and $6.2 million in additional revenue sharing to match the garbage tax proposal.

'Kill Every Animal' Called Only Way To Erase PBB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Killing "every animal in the state of Michigan" is the only sure way to rid farm products of a poisonous chemical, the commissioner of the federal Food and Drug Administration says.

Alexander Schmidt made the statement testimony Thursday before a Senate subcommittee chaired by Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.

The commissioner stressed "that's the only way" to solve the problem when asked why the agency allows free sale of livestock products containing traces of polybrominated biphenyl (PBB).

"The situation with an industrial contamination is that, because of widespread distribution, we do not know what animals may be coming on the market and have PBB in them," Schmidt added.

He also reported livestock feed originally tainted with the chemical during a 1973 Michigan mixup was diluted, spreading PBB even further.

Kennedy asked who did the dilution and Schmidt replied, "It is the subject of possible law enforcement action and there is continuing investigation."

The commissioner contended PBB is not widespread outside Michigan although "there is some evidence of PBB isolated in a spot or two (outside the state). We're not sure why."

Schmidt defended the current three-tenths parts per million tolerance level his agency sets on PBB saying it provides "the necessary margin of safety."

Seven Michigan farm residents testified about their problems with livestock and their own health during the hearing. Kennedy pledged he "personally" will see they get some sort of federal aid.

How Much PBB Needed To Poison A Human?

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The agriculture department knows almost to the tablespoon how much polybrominated biphenyl is in Michigan's contaminated cattle but it still can't say how much will poison humans.

"I couldn't tell you that, I don't know if anybody can say," B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said Friday.

Ball's comments came after he released a statement that some 23,500 Michigan beef and dairy cattle with low-levels of the toxic fire retardant contain overall less than one-tenth of a pound of the toxic substance commonly called PBB.

Thus, Ball said, is less than four tablespoonsful.

But 23,000 cattle slaughtered due to high-level PBB contamination contained up to 200 pounds of the substance, he said, with most of it contained in the first 10,000 cattle buried in 1975.

He said the calculations were made by Dr. Donald Isieb of the department.

Ball said he released the figures because, "The people need to know the facts. They may have got ideas that hundreds of pounds of it are around."

He said the figures give "people some idea in relation to what the original problem was, and shows them it's a great deal less now than it was then."

PBB, a fire retardant, was accidentally mixed with Michigan cattle feed in 1973. Besides the cattle that were slaughtered, 1.5 million chickens, hundreds of hogs and large amounts of butter and milk were destroyed.

Under federal guidelines, a product containing less than three-tenths parts per million

(ppm) of PBB can be sold to humans.

Some say that level should be lower, and a bill in the House Agriculture Committee would reduce it to two-thousandths ppm.

Another bill now in the Senate would impose a 60-day moratorium on sale of meat or poultry containing PBB.

Some farm families claim they are ill from eating PBB-tainted food. They also say that cattle with less than the federal tolerance limit of three-tenths ppm are sick.

One doctor has attributed illnesses in some of his patients to eating PBB-contaminated food.

The state health department said a short-term study has revealed no link between PBB and human illnesses. A 15-year state study is under way to gauge long-term effects.

Today In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Saturday, April 10, the 101st day of 1976. There are 255 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1963, it was disclosed that the United States had suffered its worst submarine disaster. The atomic sub, Thresher, with 129 men aboard, had failed to surface after making a deep dive in the North Atlantic.

On this date:

In 1790, Congress passed the first U.S. patent law.

In 1849, Walter Hunt of New York City received a patent for his invention of the safety pin.

In 1864, Archduke Maximilian of Austria accepted the title of Emperor of Mexico.

In 1945, the Nazi concentration camp at Buchenwald in Germany was liberated by American soldiers.

In 1974, Israeli Premier Golda Meir announced that she was resigning.

Ten years ago: Buddhist leaders in South Vietnam called for the resignation of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky after demonstrating their power by halting anti-government demonstrations and rioting.

Five years ago: Thousands of young rebels were battling army troops in the hills on the Indian Ocean island of Ceylon.

One year ago: President Ford called on a joint session of Congress for an additional $1 billion in military and other aid for South Vietnam to help stem a Communist drive toward Saigon.

Today's birthdays: Former ambassador and playwright Clare Boothe Luce is 73. Actor Omar Sharif is 44.

Thought for today: Intelligence consists in recognizing opportunity — a Chinese proverb.

Centennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, in Boston, the Revolutionary War leader, Artemas Ward, proposed that some system be established to sound an alarm in case the British who had evacuated Boston returned. He suggested that a signal be sent from Cape Ann or Marblehead, relayed to Boston and from there to the interior.

House Adds Funds To Weapons Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House approval of a $33.3 billion weapons bill that includes additional funds for Navy ships and the controversial B-1 bomber is expected to touch off a battle when the measure reaches the Senate.

Rejecting nearly all efforts to cut the weapons measure, the House actually increased it by $1.1 billion Friday before approving it 298 to 52 and sending it to the Senate.

Along with efforts to cut money from the measure, the House defeated amendments seeking to reduce U.S. forces in the Pacific by 47,000 and to block testing of a sophisticated new multiple nuclear warhead.

The $33.3 billion, a net $528 million more than President Ford requested, would authorize obligations of $22.9 billion for weapons procurement in the fiscal year starting Oct. 1 and $10.4 billion for research and development.

The extra money for construction of Navy ships was added by the Armed Services Committee.

But the bill appeared headed for trouble in the Senate Armed Services Committee where chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., has repeatedly said he intends to add no extra money for ships unless the Ford administration asks for it. And efforts to increase weapons spending are sure to set off fireworks in the Senate.

The House actually added $2.2 billion to Ford's $6.3 billion ship construction request, but half of that would be deferred and counted against future budgets.

The votes Friday seemed to indicate there will be less trouble between President Ford and Congress than had been expected in reaching agreement on budget matters for the coming fiscal year.

The increase, according to Robert L. Holmes, who heads the 14,000 member Local 357 in Detroit, could be almost $10,400 over the three year life of the pact. Holmes also is an International Teamsters union vice president.

"There is no question about it — this is the best contract we've ever had," said Holmes.

"I think we accomplished some very important strides when we got an open-end cost-of-living (COLA) and established the sick-day principle."

Holmes said tentative three-year national master freight agreement included three paid sick days in the second year and a total of six in the third year.

He said the union figures on COLA boosts of 29 cents an hour next April and an additional 35 cents an hour in April 1978.

"That is based on an annual cost-of-living of 11 per cent which is what the federal government tells us to expect. If the cost of living goes higher, we will get more," the Teamster official said.

Holmes said chief beneficiaries of the new contract, which is being voted on in a special election under the watch of the U.S. Department of Labor, include 150,000 over-the-road drivers who will get an additional 5.1 cents a mile. These are the drivers who travel long distances and are paid by the mile rather than by the hour.

For some 250,000 dockmen and city drivers, the contract would mean an immediate hourly boost of 85 cents, another 50 cents next April and a third 50 cents in April 1978.

Holmes said the wages of some drivers could go up as much as $3,800 in the first year.

SCOUT RESIGNS
NORTH BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — The chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, Aiden G. Barber, has resigned effective May 1, a spokesman at the BSA national office announced Friday.

Butz said Friday that he would be willing to testify before a Senate subcommittee holding hearings in an effort to determine whether Callaway, while serving as Army secretary, used improper influence to gain approval for the expansion of his Crested Butte, Colo., ski resort.

The Senate interior and insular affairs subcommittee was to hear testimony today from Forest Service employees who were overruled by higher authorities after they recommended that Callaway's resort not be allowed to expand.

Callaway resigned as President Ford's campaign manager after published reports that he met with Agriculture Department officials in his Pentagon office in an effort to win approval of the resort expansion. He sat in the audience during Friday's subcommittee hearing and is to testify before the panel on Monday.

Butz, on a speaking tour in the Midwest, insisted during stops in Chicago and Des Moines, Iowa, that he was not personally involved in Callaway's efforts.

He said he recalled a memo from a subordinate urging him to back Callaway's request, but the memo was mislaid for 10 weeks "until I found it one day while I was cleaning off my desk."

Butz said he then forwarded the memo to a subordinate, but took no further action on it and never discussed the matter with Callaway.

"It should have been pretty evident after a 10-week delay that we weren't giving the matter any special treatment," Butz said.

Less than six months after the Pentagon meeting with Agriculture Department officials, the Forest Service issued an environmental impact statement tentatively approving the expansion. The action overruled the earlier recommendation by the lower-level Forest Service officials that the expansion be blocked.

Testifying before the panel on Friday, former agriculture undersecretary J. Phillip Campbell said he was the one who sent Butz the memo urging the secretary to "push" the Forest Service into approving the Crested Butte expansion.

Milliken, Young Agree On Detroit Aid Request

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. William Milliken and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young agreed Friday to seek legislative approval of $34.9 million in direct state aid for the financially troubled Motor City.

The eight-point, one-year package for the 1976-77 fiscal year is aimed at helping the city overcome a projected $96 million deficit.

At the same time, Young committed the city to taking $46 million in economy measures — including extensive mid-summer layoffs and imposition of a new tax on city residents.

Even with the cutbacks and state aid, the city would still be millions short by July 1977, Young and Milliken said.

Details of the plan are subject to further discussion between state and city officials, and depends ultimately on legislative approval, Milliken and Young said. About 1,200 city employees were laid off on April 8 — 488 permanently — and Young had said more layoffs could be expected this summer.

The new tax on city residents would be a garbage tax, reportedly levied at three mills to bring in $14.4 million a year.

Milliken and Young said the level of cutbacks cannot be sustained for long. They pledged to work on a long-range solution to the city's troubles.

They also acknowledged that an adverse U.S. Labor Department decision on Detroit's use of federal job funds would have a major impact on the package.

The city had planned to rehire some of its idled workers with funds provided under the Comprehensive Employment Training Act, but there has been some question about whether the money can be used for that purpose. Among the proposals in the package are $9.7 million in state money for Detroit's cultural institutions, including libraries, the Historical Museum and the Art Institute. All branch libraries in the city have been temporarily closed, and the Historical Museum was closed indefinitely.

Also included are $9.1 million in transportation pension aid; $8 million for Detroit General Hospital; $1 million for the harbor-master program; $300,000 for the city health department; $800,000 for the health laboratory; and $6.2 million in additional revenue sharing to match the garbage tax proposal.

Truckers May Reach $35,000

DETROIT (AP) — Long haul truck drivers could be making as much as $35,000 annually under a contract which has received tentative union approval, a local Teamsters official reports.

House Adds Funds To Weapons Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House approval of a $33.3 billion weapons bill that includes additional funds for Navy ships and the controversial B-1 bomber is expected to touch off a battle when the measure reaches the Senate.

Rejecting nearly all efforts to cut the weapons measure, the House actually increased it by $1.1 billion Friday before approving it 298 to 52 and sending it to the Senate.

Along with efforts to cut money from the measure, the House defeated amendments seeking to reduce U.S. forces in the Pacific by 47,000 and to block testing of a sophisticated new multiple nuclear warhead.

The $33.3 billion, a net $328 million more than President Ford requested, would authorize obligations of $22.9 billion for weapons procurement in the fiscal year starting Oct. 1 and $10.4 billion for research and development.

The extra money for construction of Navy ships was added by the Armed Services Committee.

But the bill appeared headed for trouble in the Senate Armed Services Committee where chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., has repeatedly said he intends to add no extra money for ships unless the Ford administration asks for it. And efforts to increase weapons spending are sure to set off fireworks in the Senate.

The House actually added $2.2 billion to Ford's $6.3 billion ship construction request, but half of that would be deferred and counted against future budgets.

The increase, according to Robert L. Holmes, who heads the 13,000 member Local 337 in Detroit, could be almost $10,400 over the three year life of the pact. Holmes also is an International Teamsters union vice president.

Butz Claims He Lost 'Push' Memo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz says he was so unconcerned with whether Howard H. Callaway won approval to expand his ski resort on federal land that he misplaced a memo urging him to "push" the project.

Butz said Friday that he would be willing to testify before a Senate subcommittee holding hearings in an effort to determine whether Callaway, while serving as Army secretary, used improper influence to gain approval for the expansion of his Crested Butte, Colo., ski resort.

'Kill Every Animal' Called Only Way To Erase PBB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Killing "every animal in the state of Michigan" is the only sure way to rid farm products of a poisonous chemical, the commissioner of the Federal Food and Drug Administration says.

Alexander Schmidt made the statement Thursday before a Senate subcommittee chaired by Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.

The commissioner stressed "that's the only way" to solve the problem when asked why the agency allows free sale of livestock products containing traces of polybrominated biphenyl (PBB).

"The situation with an industrial contamination is that, because of widespread distribution, we do not know what animals may be coming on the market and have PBB in them," Schmidt added.

He also reported livestock feed originally tainted with the chemical during a 1973 Michigan misup was diluted, spreading PBB even further.

Kennedy asked who did the dilution and Schmidt replied, "It is the subject of possible law enforcement action and there is continuing investigation."

The commissioner contended PBB is not widespread outside Michigan although "there is some evidence of PBB isolated in a spot or two (outside the state). We're not sure why."

Schmidt defended the current three-tenths parts per million tolerance level his agency sets on PBB saying it provides "the necessary margin of safety."

Seven Michigan farm residents testified about their problems with livestock and their own health during the hearing. Kennedy pledged he "personally" will see they get some sort of federal aid.

How Much PBB Needed To Poison A Human?

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The agriculture department knows almost to the tablespoon how much polybrominated biphenyl is in Michigan's contaminated cattle but it still can't say how much will poison humans.

"I couldn't tell you that. I don't know if anybody can say," B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said Friday.

Ball's comments came after he released a statement that some 23,500 Michigan beef and dairy cattle with low-levels of the toxic fire retardant contain overall less than one-tenth of a pound of the toxic substance commonly called PBB.

This, Ball said, is less than four tablespoonsful.

But 23,000 cattle slaughtered due to high-level PBB contamination contained up to 200 pounds of the substance, he said, with most of it contained in the first 10,000 cattle buried in 1975.

He said the calculations were made by Dr. Donald Islieb of the department.

Ball said he released the figures because, "The people need to know the facts. They may have got ideas that hundreds of pounds of it are around."

He said the figures give "people some idea in relation to what the original problem was, and shows them it's a great deal less now than it was then."

PBB, a fire retardant, was accidentally mixed with Michigan cattle feed in 1973. Besides the cattle that were slaughtered, 1.5 million chickens, hundreds of hogs and large amounts of butter and milk were destroyed.

Under federal guidelines, a product containing less than three-tenths parts per million

(ppm) of PBB can be sold to humans.

Some say that level should be lower, and a bill in the House Agriculture Committee would reduce it to two-thousandths ppm.

Another bill now in the Senate would impose a 60-day moratorium on sale of meat or poultry containing PBB.

Some farm families claim they are ill from eating PBB-tainted food. They also say that cattle with less than the federal tolerance limit of three-tenths ppm are sick.

One doctor has attributed illnesses in some of his patients to eating PBB-contaminated food.

The state health department said a short-term study has revealed no link between PBB and human illnesses. A 15-year state study is under way to gauge long-term effects.

Today is Saturday, April 10, the 101st day of 1976. There are 259 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1963, it was disclosed that the United States had suffered its worst submarine disaster. The atomic sub, Thresher, with 129 men aboard, had failed to surface after making a deep dive in the North Atlantic.

On this date:

In 1790, Congress passed the first U.S. patent law.

In 1948, Walter Hunt of New York City received a patent for his invention of the safety pin.

In 1864, Archduke Maximilian of Austria accepted the title of Emperor of Mexico.

In 1932, in a runoff election for the German presidency, Paul von Hindenburg defeated Adolf Hitler.

In 1945, the Nazi concentration camp at Buchenwald in Germany was liberated by American soldiers.

In 1974, Israeli Premier Golda Meir announced that she was resigning.

Ten years ago: Buddhist leaders in South Vietnam called for the resignation of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky after demonstrating their power by halting anti-government demonstrations and rioting.

Five years ago: Thousands of young rebels were battling army troops in the hills on the Indian Ocean island of Ceylon.

One year ago: President Ford called on a joint session of Congress for an additional $1 billion in military and other aid for South Vietnam to help stem a Communist drive toward Saigon.

Today's birthdays: Former ambassador and playwright Clare Boothe Luce is 73. Actor Omar Sharif is 44.

Thought for today: Intelligence consists in recognizing opportunity — a Chinese proverb.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, in Boston, the Revolutionary War leader, Artemas Ward, proposed that some system be established to sound an alarm in case the British who had evacuated Boston returned. He suggested that a signal be sent from Cape Ann or Marblehead, relayed to Boston and from there to the interior.

'Kill Every Animal' Called Only Way To Erase PBB

WASHINGTON (AP) — Killing "every animal in the state of Michigan" is the only sure way to rid farm products of a poisonous chemical, the commissioner of the federal Food and Drug Administration says.

Alexander Schmidt made the statement testimony Thursday before a Senate subcommittee chaired by Edward Kennedy, D-Mass.

The commissioner stressed "that's the only way" to solve the problem when asked why the agency allows free sale of livestock products containing traces of polybrominated biphenyl (PBB).

"The situation with an industrial contamination is that, because of widespread distribution, we do not know what animals may be coming on the market and have PBB in them," Schmidt added.

He also reported livestock feed originally tainted with the chemical during a 1973 Michigan mixup was diluted, spreading PBB even further.

Kennedy asked who did the dilution and Schmidt replied, "It is the subject of possible law enforcement action and there is continuing investigation."

The commissioner contended PBB is not widespread outside Michigan although "there is some evidence of PBB isolated in a spot or two (outside the state). We're not sure why."

Schmidt defended the current three-tenths parts per million tolerance level his agency sets on PBB saying it provides "the necessary margin of safety."

Seven Michigan farm residents testified about their problems with livestock and their own health during the hearing. Kennedy pledged he "personally" will see they get some sort of federal aid.

How Much PBB Needed To Poison A Human?

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The agriculture department knows almost to the tablespoon how much polybrominated biphenyl is in Michigan's contaminated cattle but it still can't say how much will poison humans.

"I couldn't tell you that. I don't know if anybody can say," B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said Friday.

Ball's comments came after he released a statement that some 23,500 Michigan beef and dairy cattle with low-levels of the toxic fire retardant contain overall less than one-tenth of a pound of the toxic substance commonly called PBB.

This, Ball said, is less than four tablespoonsful.

But 23,000 cattle slaughtered due to high-level PBB contamination contained up to 200 pounds of the substance, he said, with most of it contained in the first 10,000 cattle buried in 1975.

He said the calculations were made by Dr. Donald Isheb of the department.

Ball said he released the figures because, "The people need to know the facts. They may have got ideas that hundreds of pounds of it are around."

He said the figures give "people some idea in relation to what the original problem was, and shows them it's a great deal less now than it was then."

PBB, a fire retardant, was accidentally mixed with Michigan cattle feed in 1973. Besides the cattle that were slaughtered, 1.5 million chickens, hundreds of hogs and large amounts of butter and milk were destroyed.

Under federal guidelines, a product containing less than three-tenths parts per million

(ppm) of PBB can be sold to humans.

Some say that level should be lower, and a bill in the House Agriculture Committee would reduce it to two-thousandths ppm.

Another bill now in the Senate would impose a 60-day moratorium on sale of meat or poultry containing PBB.

Some farm families claim they are ill from eating PBB-tainted food. They also say that cattle with less than the federal tolerance limit of three-tenths ppm are sick.

One doctor has attributed illnesses in some of his patients to eating PBB-contaminated food.

The state health department said a short-term study has revealed no link between PBB and human illnesses. A 15-year state study is under way to gauge long-term effects.

Covert Youth Held As Alleged Sniper

COVERT — Police have taken a 15-year-old Covert township boy into custody following an alleged sniper shooting near here last night that left one man slightly wounded.

State police at South Haven, who assisted Covert police in the investigation said Uellis Ellis, 30, route 2, Covert, suffered a scalp wound in the 8:15 p.m. shooting, but did not require hospitalization.

The suspected young sniper is Paul Bryant, son of Geraklime

Bryant, 78th street, Covert.

He was taken into custody during a police search of the area in an abandoned house about a half mile from the shooting scene.

Ward S. Hamlin, an assistant Van Buren county prosecutor, said Bryant was arrested on a preliminary charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Mrs. Bryant is currently serving a six-month county jail term after her conviction in Van Buren circuit court on a charge of felonious assault.

That assault occurred when shots were fired at the car of a Covert township couple on Feb. 21, 1975. Mrs. Bryant was sentenced to the six-month term in February of this year.

Young Bryant was taken to the Berrien county juvenile detention center pending further investigation of the shooting, Hamlin said.

Police said witnesses reported that three or four shots were fired from a wooded area near the Elizabeth Ellis residence on 72nd street.

Federal Bigwigs Would Have To Reveal Finances

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is considering a bill spawned by the Watergate scandals that would require the president, Congress, federal judges and other government officials to make full disclosure of their finances. The result of 14 months of deliberation, the bill also will create a division in the Justice Department to investigate government employee crimes. It also sets up the mechanism to name a temporary special prosecutor in cases of serious accusations against an incumbent president or members of his administration.

The bill, presented to the Senate on Friday, represents a redrafting of recommendations made originally in the final report of the Senate Watergate committee.

Financial disclosure provisions of the bill apply to the president, vice president, cabinet members, senators, House members, judges and all military officers at or about the rank of Army colonel or Navy captain.

In essence, the measure applies to all federal employees earning more than $38,000 a year and to their spouses and dependents. In all, some 15,000 persons would be required to file disclosure reports annually with the General Accounting Office.

Introducing the measure, Government Operations Committee chairman Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said the bill written by his panel seeks to provide the public with adequate information to judge the integrity of public officials, while insuring that those officials will not be given special treatment when they are accused of crimes.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., the committee's ranking Republican member, called the bill "a substantial, positive step forward in curing some of the institutional flaws which allowed the Watergate scandal to mushroom into a national tragedy."

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., the committee's ranking Republican member, called the bill "a substantial, positive step forward in curing some of the institutional flaws which allowed the Watergate scandal to mushroom into a national tragedy."

The Watergate committee had proposed setting up a permanent special prosecutor's office to handle government-related crimes, but that concept was rejected in the bill presented to the Senate.

"This will guard against employees being involved in decisions which will directly benefit an employer," the government official just left a staff report on the bill said.

Move To End Civil War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanon's parliament today opened the way for election of a new president to defuse a year-long civil war between Muslims and Christians. In a 15-minute emergency session under heavy security, 81 members of the nation's parliament passed by acclamation a Constitutional amendment permitting replacement of Christian President Suleiman Franjeh. Muslim leftists have made his departure a condition for continuing a 10-day trial truce expiring Monday. But the 65-year-old Maronite Christian chief has given no indication whether he will sign the amendment into law or step down if parliament moves on to elect a new man. There is still no guarantee that the nation's parliamentarians can agree on who the new president will be. Their action today only made it possible to elect a new president before Franjeh's term expires Sept. 23.

Election Prospects Brighter

ROME (AP) — Members of Italy's Communist party prepared to rally in front of the Lateran Basilica today while prospects for early elections, increased under pressure of the country's social and economic woes. Premier Aldo Moro, opposed to giving the Communists a voice in the government, appeared to have failed in an attempt to prevent elections that could give the Communists added power. The party, largest in the West, captured 34.4 per cent of the vote in nationwide regional elections last June, only slightly behind the 35.3 per cent won by Moro's Christian Democrats. The Communists called off all other party meetings scheduled earlier in the Rome area and urged militants to push for a huge turnout at the Lateran. It took on the tune of the opening event of what promised to be the most tense electoral campaign in decades. The final decision on disbarring the parliament and calling general elections a year ahead of schedule rested with President Giovanni Leone.

Conviction For Killing Newsgirl Upheld By Court

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Court of Appeals has upheld the murder conviction of Rudolph Acosta in the 1974 death of a 12-year-old girl delivering newspapers.

The ruling upholds Acosta's second-degree murder conviction in Wayne County Circuit Court stemming from the shooting death of Edith Perchman, 12, in Highland Park.

The girl was shot and killed after she left her father's car and approached Acosta's home to deliver the Sunday morning newspaper.

Milliken Blasts TV Interview As 'The Shoddiest Cheap Shot'

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has denounced the showing on a Detroit television newscast of a film in which he refused to answer a question about his appearance at a recent restaurant opening.

Contending he had been asked for the interview under false pretenses, Milliken criticized the broadcasting of the segment on WXYZ as "the shoddiest cheap shot, and the grossest breach of ethics I've ever encountered."

In the interview, filmed Friday morning, reporter Vince Wade displayed a local Italian-language newspaper which printed a photograph showing Milliken and state Rep. Thomas J. Anderson, D-Southgate, seated at a table at the Southgate restaurant.

The photograph showed manager Anthony J. Palazzola and an employee tying bibs on the two guests.

Palazzola is part-owner of the restaurant, along with Anthony J. Zerilli, son of Joseph Zerilli, 78. Both Zerillis have been described by the U.S. Justice Department as Mafia figures, with the elder Zerilli said to head Detroit's Mafia crime syndicate.

When Wade asked Milliken to explain his presence at the restaurant opening, the governor replied: "You didn't ask me anything about this. You got me here under false pretenses."

Milliken said he would answer the question if the TV cameras were turned off, but Wade refused the request and Milliken left after a brief exchange.

Later, Joyce Brailhwaite, executive assistant to the governor, explained Milliken did not know of the restaurant's ownership when he accepted an invitation from Anderson to appear at the opening.

Anderson also said neither he nor the governor knew that Zerilli and Palazzola were connected with the restaurant.

Mrs. Brailhwaite said the governor's office had been asked for a Milliken interview to ask him about his plans to campaign for President Ford.

It's NEWS TODAY In MICHIGAN

Small-Mesh Gill Nets Banned

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Natural Resources Commission has approved a permanent ban on small-mesh gill-net fishing. The action may put about 30 Michigan fishermen out of business. The commission voted for the ban Friday. It eliminates the only technique used by about 30 commercial fishermen to harvest a rapidly depleting stock of chubs. The Department of Natural Resources said that without a permanent ban, the chub industry would all but go out of business in 1977. The 30 chub fishermen will be eligible to receive part of a $1.5 million state reimbursement. But they likely will have to share the money with some 60 other fishermen who use large-mesh gill nets. The DNR hopes to ban the large-mesh nets by the end of the year because they are nonselective and catch and kill lake trout and other sport fish.

Cederberg Trying For 13

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Republican Congressman Elford Cederberg announced Friday he will seek election to his 13th term from Michigan's 10th Congressional District. The district includes part of central and northwestern Lower Michigan. Cederberg faces no Republican opposition, but on the Democratic side, other candidates are political science professor Sam Marble of Midland; Rep. Donald J. Alstie, D-St. Charles; and Patrick Casey of Midland, an educator.

Crib Death Study Continues

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County medical examiner Werner Spitz has received the go-ahead to continue research into crib deaths during an audit of his office and a private group he heads. The public safety and judiciary committees of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners said the work being carried on by the Michigan Medical-Legal Educational Association is "too important to stop." Spitz founded the non-profit company in 1974 and hired a pathologist and four employees to operate it. The firm was given a $243,307 grant for three years by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to study the cause of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome and to assist parents of such children in their time of tragedy. Spitz and his office have been under investigation for a month by the Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force after some morgue employees complained that parts of human bodies were sold after autopsies and the money diverted to Spitz's private firm.

Decatur Class On Trip

DECATUR — A group of students from the advanced biology class at the high school here is scheduled to be in Cape Hatteras, N.C., until April 14. George Finko, class teacher, said 20 students were involved. They plan on collecting marine life and other samples for study. The students raised the estimated $1,200 cost of the trip themselves. The class, accompanied by Finko and three other adults, left early Friday.

Watervliet Checkup

WATERVLIE — For the next two weeks, Watervliet city commissioners will be checking to find areas of the city in need of repair and rehabilitate themselves with the entire city. Watervliet Mayor Arvid Frazier said the commission members will individually review the city at large, and make notes of problems and possible violations of city ordinances. According to Frazier, commissioners will report their findings during a special commission meeting, Tuesday, April 20, at 8 p.m. Following the verbal reports, Frazier plans to begin preparation of a tour of portions of the city on Sunday afternoons, with the entire commission joining in, to meet with citizens having complaints about their neighborhood and to personally view areas where commissioners have indicated in the spot check that some work is needed.

Increase Dump Hours

WATERVLIE — Barbara Tyler, Watervliet township clerk, announced the township dump is now open Wednesdays throughout the summer months in addition to being open on Saturdays. According to Mrs. Tyler, the dumping hours on both days are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., with township residents requested to pickup refuse identification cards, if they have not yet obtained one, at the township hall. Only Watervliet township residents are permitted to use the dump, said Mrs. Tyler. The township disposal center is located on the west side of County Line road, north of Red Arrow highway, she said.

Welfare Worker Accused

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — An employee of the Oakland County Department of Social Services was arraigned Friday on charges she embezzled $300 from the state by filling out forms for a phony client. Dorothy Cannon, 38, of Pontiac, was arrested in her office Friday and she stood mute at her arraignment before 50th District Court Judge Christopher Brown. A preliminary exam was set for April 15 and she was released on $1,000 bond. Mrs. Cannon was charged with a single count of embezzlement after a clerk at the office said she issued a $300 check in the name of Eva P. Lee of 257 Bondale, Pontiac. No one of that name lives at the address, but Mrs. Cannon's mother does, investigators said.

Playmate Stabbed To Death

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP) — A 13-year-old boy faced charges of manslaughter and assault with a deadly weapon Friday after a playmate was stabbed to death during an argument over a basketball game. Muskegon County Prosecutor Gerald Warner said he would file charges against the youth. He said the boy is too young to be tried as an adult. Police Chief Willie R. Howell said 12-year-old Reveal Smith of Muskegon Heights was dead on arrival at a hospital Thursday night. The youngster had been stabbed once in the heart, Howell said. The 13-year-old was hauled the knife by older spectators during a fist fight with Smith.

Rape Victim Aided

DETROIT (AP) — A group of Detroit businessmen has organized to help a 10-year-old Windsor woman who was repeatedly gang-raped after being abducted from a Detroit freeway. In February. Although the businessmen have never met the woman, they have started a trust fund for her and have offered to give her career counseling. They've also offered influence in helping her find another job in Windsor. They asked to remain anonymous but reportedly include utility company officials, bankers, retailers and civic leaders. The woman has been physically and emotionally unable to work since the incident. She said she is looking for another job, but feels it would be unfair to an employer for her to return to work until trial of her accused assailants ends.

War Against Arson Mounts

DETROIT (AP) — City officials have appealed for help from the FBI and other federal agencies as they expanded their war against arson, one of the city's most acute crime problems. The drive against the professional firebug got its impetus from a report to the city council from Fire Chief Charles E. Craft. Craft said the official record listed 1,922 cases of arson last year, a jump of 36 per cent over 1974. "Arson is such a difficult crime to prove that if someone were to claim Detroit really had 10 times that many cases last year, I might agree," he said. Craft said arson cost the city $5.5 million last year, more than double the preceding year. Council members said they would ask the FBI to help check the tide of arson and also would ask the Department of Housing and Urban Affairs, which controls many vacant properties, to take steps to protect them from arsonists.

A Shot At Affirmative Action

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Public employees could be hired or promoted only on the basis of competitive tests under legislation that takes a shot at affirmative action programs. Rep. Thaddeus Stojewski, D-Detroit, has introduced the bill and another that would make the handling of promotions of public employees a subject for collective bargaining. "Hiring should not be based on race, sex or any other factor," Stojewski said in explaining the testing bill. "A black person has just as much right to a job as a white person and a woman just as much right as a man, but no more. The job should go to the best qualified person. The same is true of promotions. To do otherwise is inequality and a reverse form of discrimination." The bill requires state and local governments to hire or promote civil service employees in the numerical order in which they are placed on hiring or promotional lists.

Too Many Children

DETROIT (AP) — The stork was not alone last week when it visited the Harold Duensing family for the seventh time. A court bailiff tagged along with an eviction notice for the family. The problem was that — like the old woman in the shoe — the family just had too many children as far as its apartment complex was concerned. Duensing, a Detroit bar owner, was due to move his family out of its three-bedroom apartment in suburban Clinton Township after losing a court battle. "Simply put, they are three children over the limit," said attorney Frank Janiga of the Charter Oaks Cooperative Association. He said regulations limit occupancy in the apartment project to two persons per bedroom and added the Duensings were familiar with the rule.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Some place in Iowa are 99 odd-shaped rocks destined to be part of the state's history. The rocks will be chiseled into the shapes of the state's 99 counties and set into a huge map on the Iowa State Fairgrounds here. It is one of the state's Bicentennial projects.

Covert Youth Held As Alleged Sniper

COVERT — Police have taken a 15-year-old Covert township boy into custody following an alleged sniper shooting near here last night that left one man slightly wounded.

State police at South Haven, who assisted Covert police in the investigation said Utellis Ellis, 30, route 2, Covert, suffered a scalp wound in the 6:15 p.m. shooting, but did not require hospitalization.

The suspected young sniper is Paul Bryant, son of Geraldine

Bryant, 76th street, Covert.

He was taken into custody during a police search of the area in an abandoned house about a half mile from the shooting scene.

Ward S. Hamlin, an assistant Van Buren county prosecutor, said Bryant was arrested on a preliminary charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Mrs. Bryant is currently serving a six-month county jail term after her conviction in Van Buren circuit court on a charge of felonious assault.

That assault occurred when shots were fired at the car of a Covert township couple on Feb. 21, 1975. Mrs. Bryant was sentenced to the six-month term in February of this year.

Young Bryant was taken to the Berrien county juvenile detention center pending further investigation of the shooting, Hamlin said. Police said witnesses reported that three or four shots were fired from a wooded area near the Elizabeth Ellis residence on 72nd street.

Federal Bigwigs Would Have To Reveal Finances

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is considering a bill spawned by the Watergate scandals that would require the president, Congress, federal judges and other government officials to make full disclosure of their finances. The result of 14 months of deliberation, the bill also will create a division in the Justice Department to investigate government employee crimes. It also sets up the mechanism to name a temporary special prosecutor in cases of serious accusations against an incumbent president or members of his administration.

The bill, presented to the Senate on Friday, represents a redrafting of recommendations, made originally in the final report of the Senate Watergate committee.

Financial disclosure provisions of the bill apply to the president, vice president, Cabinet members, senators, House members, judges and all military officers at or above the rank of Army colonel or Navy captain.

In essence, the measure applies to all federal employees earning more than $36,000 a year and to their spouses and dependents. In all, some 15,000 persons would be required to file disclosure reports annually with the General Accounting Office.

In introducing the measure, Government Operations Committee chairman Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., said the bill written by his panel seeks to provide the public with adequate information to judge the integrity of public officials, while insuring that those officials will not be given special treatment when they are accused of crimes.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., the committee's ranking Republican member, called the bill "a substantial, positive step forward in curing some of the institutional flaws which allowed the Watergate scandal to mushroom into a national tragedy."

"This is turning the spotlight of full disclosure on ourselves," said Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn. "Self exposure rather than self-service is the only way for the government to earn credibility."

Disclosure provisions would apply to all business assets or liabilities and to any transactions in real estate or securities of more than $1,000. Personal property such as jewelry, paintings or fur coats would be exempt.

Financial reports would require the listing of any income of more than $100 in value or any gift worth more than $500 unless it came from a member of one's immediate family.

It would require also the listing of any agreement for future employment outside government. Non-elected government officials would be required to list the name of any previous private employer who paid them more than $5,000 in any of the previous five years.

"This will guard against employees being involved in decisions which will directly benefit an employer the government official just left," a staff report on the bill said.

The Watergate committee had proposed setting up a permanent special prosecutor's office to handle government-related crimes, but that concept was rejected in the bill presented to the Senate.

Conviction For Killing Newsgirl Upheld By Court

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Court of Appeals has upheld the murder conviction of Rudolph Acosta in the 1974 death of a 12-year-old girl delivering newspapers.

The ruling upholds Acosta's second-degree murder conviction in Wayne County Circuit Court stemming from the shooting death of Edith Perchman, 12, in Highland Park.

The girl was shot and killed after she left her father's car and approached Acosta's home to deliver the Sunday morning newspaper.

Move To End Civil War

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanon's parliament today opened the way for election of a new president to defuse a year-long civil war between Moslems and Christians. In a 15-minute emergency session under heavy security, 81 members of the nation's parliament passed by acclamation a constitutional amendment permitting replacement of Christian President Suleiman Franjeh. Moslem leftists have made his departure a condition for continuing a 10-day truce expiring Monday. But the 65-year-old Maronite Christian clan chief has given no indication whether he will sign the amendment into law or step down if parliament moves on to elect a new man. There is still no guarantee that the nation's parliamentarians can agree on who the new president will be. Their action today only made it possible to elect a new president before Franjeh's term expires Sept. 23.

Election Prospects Brighter

ROME (AP) — Members of Italy's Communist party prepared to rally in front of the Lateran Basilica today while prospects for early elections increased under pressure of the country's social and economic woes. Premier Aldo Moro, opposed to giving the Communists a voice in the government, appeared to have failed in an attempt to prevent elections that could give the Communists added power. The party, largest in the West, captured 33.4 per cent of the vote in nationwide regional elections last June, only slightly behind the 35.3 per cent won by Moro's Christian Democrats. The Communists called off all other party meetings scheduled earlier in the Rome area and urged militants to push for a huge turnout at the Lateran. It took on the tone of the opening event of what promised to be the most tense electoral campaign in decades. The final decision on disbanding the parliament and calling general elections a year ahead of schedule rested with President Giovanni Leone.

Milliken Blasts TV Interview As 'The Shoddiest Cheap Shot'

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has denounced the showing on a Detroit television newscast of a film in which he refused to answer a question about his appearance at a recent restaurant opening.

Contending he had been asked for the interview under false pretenses, Milliken criticized the broadcasting of the segment on WXYZ as "the shoddiest cheap shot, and the grossest breach of ethics I've ever encountered."

In the interview, filmed Friday morning, reporter Vince Wade displayed a local Italian-language newspaper which printed a photograph showing Milliken and state Rep. Thomas J. Anderson, D-Southgate, seated at a table at the Southgate restaurant.

The photograph showed manager Anthony J. Palazzola and an employee tying bibs on the two guests.

Palazzola is part-owner of the restaurant, along with Anthony J. Zerilli, son of Joseph Zerilli, 78. Both Zerillis have been described by the U.S. Justice Department as Mafia figures, with the elder Zerilli said to head Detroit's Mafia crime syndicate.

When Wade asked Milliken to explain his presence at the restaurant opening, the governor replied: "You didn't ask me anything about this. You got me here under false pretenses."

Milliken said he would answer the question if the TV cameras were turned off, but Wade refused the request and Milliken left after a brief exchange.

Later, Joyce Braithwaite, executive assistant to the governor, explained Milliken did not know of the restaurant's ownership when he accepted an invitation from Anderson to appear at the opening.

Anderson also said neither he nor the governor knew that Zerilli and Palazzola were connected with the restaurant.

Mrs. Braithwaite said the governor's office had been asked for a Milliken interview to ask him about his plans to campaign for President Ford.

Small-Mesh Gill Nets Banned

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state Natural Resources Commission has approved a permanent ban on small-mesh gill-net fishing. The action may put about 30 Michigan fishermen out of business. The commission voted for the ban Friday. It eliminates the only technique used by about 30 commercial fishermen to harvest a rapidly depleting stock of chubs. The Department of Natural Resources said that without a permanent ban, the chub industry would all but go out of business in 1977. The 30 chub fishermen will be eligible to receive part of a $1.5 million state reimbursement. But they likely will have to share the money with some 60 other fishermen who use large-mesh gill nets. The DNR hopes to ban the large-mesh nets by the end of the year because they are nonselective and catch and kill lake trout and other sport fish.

Cederberg Trying For 13

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Republican Congressman Elford Cederberg announced Friday he will seek election to his 13th term from Michigan's 10th Congressional District. The district includes part of central and northwestern Lower Michigan. Cederberg faces no Republican opposition, but on the Democratic side, other candidates are political science professor Sam Marble of Midland; Rep. Donald J. Albosta, D-St. Charles; and Patrick Casey of Midland, an educator.

Crib Death Study Continues

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County medical examiner Werner Spitz has received the go-ahead to continue research into crib deaths during an audit of his office and a private group he heads. The public safety and judiciary committees of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners said the work being carried on by the Michigan Medical-Legal Educational Association is "too important to stop." Spitz founded the non-profit company in 1974 and hired a pathologist and four employees to operate it. The firm was given a $233,307 grant for three years by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to study the cause of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome and to assist parents of such children in their time of tragedy. Spitz and his office have been under investigation for a month by the Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force after some morgue employees complained that parts of human bodies were sold after autopsies and the money diverted to Spitz's private firm.

Decatur Class On Trip

DECATUR — A group of students from the advanced biology class at the high school here is scheduled to be in Cape Hatteras, N.C., until April 14. George Fusko, class teacher, said 20 students were involved. They plan on collecting marine life and other samples for study. The students raised the estimated $1,200 cost of the trip themselves, Fusko said. The class, accompanied by Fusko and three other adults, left early Friday.

Watervliet Checkup

WATERVLIEET — For the next two weeks, Watervliet city commissioners will be checking to find areas of the city in need of repair and refamiliarize themselves with the entire city. Watervliet Mayor Arvid Frazier said the commission members will individually review the city at large, and make notes of problems and possible violations of city ordinances. According to Frazier, commissioners will report their findings during a special commission meeting, Tuesday, April 20, at 8 p.m. Following the verbal reports, Frazier plans to begin preparation of a tour of portions of the city on Sunday afternoons, with the entire commission joining in, to meet with citizens having complaints about their neighborhood and to personally view areas where commissioners have indicated in the spot check that some work is needed.

Increase Dump Hours

WATERVLIEET — Barbara Tyler, Watervliet township clerk, announced the township dump is now open Wednesdays throughout the summer months in addition to being open on Saturdays. According to Mrs. Tyler, the dumping hours on both days are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., with township residents requested to pickup refuse identification cards, if they have not yet obtained one, at the township hall. Only Watervliet township residents are permitted to use the dump, said Mrs. Tyler. The township disposal center is located on the west side of County Line road, north of Red Arrow highway, she said.

Welfare Worker Accused

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — An employee at the Oakland County Department of Social Services was arraigned Friday on charges she embezzled $300 from the state by filling out forms for a phony client. Dorothy Cannon, 39, of Pontiac, was arrested in her office Friday and she stood mute at her arraignment before 30th District Court Judge Christopher Brown. A preliminary exam was set for April 15 and she was released on $1,000 bond. Mrs. Cannon was charged with a single count of embezzlement after a clerk at the office said she issued a $300 check in the name of Eva P. Lee of 257 Bondale, Pontiac. No one of that name lives at the address, but Mrs. Cannon's mother does, investigators said.

State Income Tax Rollback?--Don't Bet On It!

By PATRICK CONNOLLY
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—For the second time in recent years, state officials are preparing to roll Michigan taxpayers of a promised income tax rollback. The Legislature last May increased the state income tax by 18 per cent — from 3.9 per cent to 4.6 per cent. But as a little bit of sugar to make the medicine go down, they promised citizens the tax would be rolled back to 4.3 per cent on July 1, 1977.

Don't count on it.

Lawmakers won't want to talk much about erasing the rollback provision from the books this year because 110 state House seats are up for election and it's embarrassing to be caught with your hand on a voter's wallet. But they almost certainly will make the temporary 4.6 per cent tax a permanent fiscal feature for Michigan. A bill sponsored by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Adia, to kill the tax decrease was approved Wednesday by the House Taxation Committee and is up for debate by the full House.

Despite their 1975 promise of a rollback, lawmakers will argue they can't afford to keep their word. For one thing, State Budget Director Gerald Miller discovered last fall that Michigan faces a $300 million budget deficit and officials now are scrambling to avoid that cataract of red ink. Cutting the income tax would be idiotic under those circumstances, it will be argued.

Also, Gov. William Milliken predicted in 1974 that the income tax would have to be boosted if voters repealed the sales tax on food and prescription drugs, which they did. Milliken condoned the "rollback" provision when he signed the tax hike under an agreement with legislative leaders.

Miller shrugged off the impending reversal of the rollback as "a rather minor issue." He said he will ask lawmakers to repeal the reduction. Miller said he does not recall the governor making any political deal to get the tax increase passed. But the rollback was written into the bill the day of its final passage on an agreement between Milliken and legislative leaders, which was announced at a crowded news conference.

And House Speaker Bobby Crim, D-Davison, acknowledges lawmakers will have to repeal the tax cut before it approves the 1977 budget.

If taxpayers don't get their promised tax break, it should come as no surprise. It is history repeating itself. Lawmakers and Milliken said in 1971 that a 50 per cent tax increase from 2.0 per cent to 3.0 per cent would be repealed in August 1972. The money — an estimated $250 million — was just needed on a one-shot basis to prop up sagging state finances, they assured taxpayers.

The 1971 tax hike was to be rolled back, lawmakers said, unless the public was given a choice to vote on property tax relief or on permitting a graduated income tax. But to further cloud the issue, the legislature found itself unable to agree on a measure to submit to voters. So since 1971, the state income tax has jumped by about 68 per cent, accompanied by ardent assurances it would be reduced later. But government is expensive — and words are cheap.

Southwestern Michigan Banks
Introducing $2 Bills TuesdayBy JIM DeLAND
Assistant City Editor

Banks in southwestern Michigan are prepared to join others across the nation in returning the $2 bill to circulation after an absence of 10 years.

Distribution of the new bills will begin Tuesday, April 13 — the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, whose portrait again will adorn the face of the $2 bill.

An estimated 225 million of the new bills will be ready for issue by banks across the county next Tuesday and it is hoped that 400 million will be in circulation by July 4, the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the 150th anniversary of Jefferson's death.

A survey of southwestern Michigan banks this week showed there will be more than $142,000 worth of $2 bills available locally when the banks open Tuesday morning.

Most bank officials said that because of the large number of bills available, there will probably not be any limits placed on them.

A spokesman for Peoples State bank, St. Joseph, said the bank and its branches would not have the bills available until after 1 p.m. Tuesday. All other banks contacted said they would have the bills on hand when they open Tuesday.

The return of the $2 bill is planned as a salute to the nation's Bicentennial, but it is expected to be an economy measure as well.

Treasury officials expect to save $35 million printing and handling costs over the next five years by gradually substituting $2 bills for nearly half of the $1 bills, which now represent almost 40 per cent of the currency in circulation.

Before the old $2 bill was discontinued in 1966, only about 11 million a year were printed. An average of 1.7 billion $1 bills a year are circulated at the present time.

Treasury officials say there are more than 67 million $2 bills from earlier printings still in the hands of the public.

The old $2 bill was popular at racetracks, because most bets are made in that amount, but otherwise was largely regarded as a nuisance and even a bad luck charm.

Because it was relatively rare, it sometimes was mistaken by shoppers and shopkeepers for other denominations and the scarcity of the bills gave the public the impression they were an oddity.

Treasury officials are confident of a warmer reception this time. According to a Treasury Department news release, "today's educated public will not be deterred by the colorful superstitions of folklore regarding the $2 bill; if anything, they add to the mystique and charm of this bill."

The face of the new $2 bill reintroduces a portrait of Jefferson painted in the early 1800s by Gilbert Stuart and incorporates features of the last $2 U.S. note with a change in designation to Federal Reserve note.

The reverse side of the bill is completely new. Instead of a picture of Jefferson's home, Monticello, the reverse side will show a reproduction of a John Trumbull painting of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson, the country's third President, is universally recognized as the author of the Declaration of Independence.

The new notes will bear the signature of William E. Simon, Secretary of the Treasury, and Francis I. Nef, Treasurer of the U.S.

The $2 denomination dates back to 1776, when it was first issued by the Continental Congress as "bills of credit for the defense of America."

During the Civil War, an Act of Congress recognized the $2 denomination as a form of U.S. currency and it reappeared in subsequent years as various U.S. notes, silver certificates, Treasury notes, national bank currency and Federal Reserve notes with various portraits, including Alexander Hamilton.

James B. McPherson, Winfield S. Hancock and George Washington.

In 1928 the more familiar size bill with the portrait of Jefferson was introduced as a U.S. note.

The Treasury says there will not be a special or "collector's" issue of the new note.

Four Flags Hotel Blaze
At Niles Called Arson

NILES — The state fire marshal's office has ruled that a fire that struck the Four Flags hotel here one week ago today was arson, according to Marion Fuller, acting Niles fire chief.

Fuller said today that Sgt. Philip Nielson, state fire marshal from Paw Paw, has ruled the April 3 fire was deliberately set.

The blaze injured seven people, none seriously, and caused an estimated $20,000 to $30,000 damage to the four-story, 60-year-old building in downtown Niles.

Fuller said while investigators could uncover no evidence that flammable liquids were used to start the fire in a basement storage area, they believe the fire was arson because of the unusual burn pattern discovered in the basement.

Investigation of the fire by the fire marshal's office, local firemen and Niles police is continuing, Fuller said.

Van Buren Migrant Summer School Program Opens June 1

LAWRENCE — Recruitment of migrant children for a special summer education program will begin June 1, according to John H. Dominguez, director of migrant education for the Van Buren intermediate school district. Designated Project NOMAD, the federally-funded program will offer classes at centers in Bangor, Lawrence, and Wayland from June 21-Aug. 6, Dominguez said. Last year, he said, some 1,500 children were recruited, with 1,000 enrolling. Dominguez said a limited number of teacher and teacher aide positions with the program are still open, and that applicants should contact him. Pre-service training and orientation are scheduled to begin June 14.

Lawrence Petitions Ask Return Of Police Chief

LAWRENCE — Petitions signed by 140 to 150 village residents seeking the reinstatement of first Police Chief Eugene Earls will be presented to the Lawrence village council Tuesday night, according to Earls' wife, Francine.

The petitions have been circulated among the village's approximately 300 registered voters by eight residents who, according to Mrs. Earls, "think he got a raw deal."

Earls, 57, had been chief of the small department for 10 years prior to his dismissal at a special village council meeting March 3. Council members had accused him of unwillingness to cooperate with them and with a lack of interest and motivation. He is now raising beef cattle on a 71-acre farm near Lawrence, Mrs. Earls said.

She said she had taken out an advertisement in a weekly newspaper in an effort to get a large turnout of residents to support Earls at the council meeting Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the fire station.

She said her husband's attorney, Frank Kanelos of Columbia, had told the couple to circulate the petitions as a step to getting Earls reinstated.

If the council refuses to reinstate Earls after it receives the petitions, Mrs. Earls said she will press for a recall election.

The residents who circulated petitions in Earls' behalf were identified by Mrs. Earls as Rebecca Selters, McKinley Ivole, Rex Donovan Jr., James Dillenbeck, William Queen Jr., Mrs. Bertha Queen, Clark Matheny and Fern Conklin.

Patrolman Dale Gribler has been appointed acting chief.

Graduating At Alma

ALMA — Four southwestern Michigan students at Alma college here are among the 252 candidates for bachelor's degrees at the college's 89th commencement, Saturday, April 17. A college spokesman identified the four as Susan P. Freridge, 2310 Stadium drive, St. Joseph; Vicki L. Hagberg, Lawrence; Charles A. Hoffmann, Harbert; and Russell A. Rock, 1322 Bishop avenue, Benton Harbor.

Indicted Niles Officers
Ask Preliminary Hearings

Four Niles city policemen and a former Niles patrolman indicted by the Berrien county citizens' grand jury demanded preliminary examinations Friday when arraigned before Fifth District Judge Len K. Cook.

The five arrested on charges ranging from perjury to breaking and entering, were released following their arraignments on bonds ranging from $1,500 to $5,000.

Demanding examinations were Patrolmen Alan M. DeLee, 29, 416 North 13th street; Gary Koller, 23, 734 Oak street; Michael Lewandowski, 33, 2203 Burton road; William Mason, 38, 1311 Florence street; and former patrolman Thomas G. Dipert, 29, 825 East Park street, all of Niles.

The first four have been suspended without pay by Niles Police Chief Raymond Rudman for a tentative period of 30 days. Dipert resigned from the force last summer.

Lewandowski was freed on $1,000 bond on each of five separate charges:

— Nine counts of perjury before the grand jury.

— Breaking and entering the caretaker's office at Plym Park golf course in Niles.

— Inducing Gilbert Brazo, another former Niles police officer, to perjure himself.

— Larceny from an unoccupied dwelling — the alleged theft of a hot water heater from a residence at 1845 Sioux trail.

— Larceny in a building — the alleged theft of two coats from Montgomery Wards in Niles.

The other four were released on $1,500 personal recognizance bond each.

Koller is charged with 10 counts of perjury before the grand jury, Mason with two counts of perjury and DeLee with one count of perjury.

Dipert is charged with larceny in a building — the alleged theft of a shotgun and two sleeping bags from the John R. Lutz Co. in Niles.

The indictments, returned on true bills Thursday and signed by Circuit Judge William S. White Thursday, bring to seven the number of people indicted by the county's first citizen's grand jury.

On Dean's List

GREENCASTLE, Ind. — John Sterling, a 1972 graduate of St. Joseph high school, has been named to the Dean's List at DePauw University. Sterling, a senior psychology major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay U. Sterling, 1361 Susan drive, St. Joseph. The Dean's List is for students who have earned at least a 3.5 academic average on a 4-point scale.

Two St. Joseph attorneys were indicted last month. Atty. Robert Locke is charged with embezzlement and Atty. Thomas McCoy is charged with perjury.

State Income Tax Rollback?--Don't Bet On It!

By PATRICK CONNOLLY
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — For the second time in recent years, state officials are preparing to rob Michigan taxpayers of a promised income tax rollback. The Legislature last May 1 increased the state income tax by 18 per cent — from 3.9 per cent to 4.6 per cent. But as a little bit of sugar to make the medicine go down, they promised citizens the tax would be rolled back to 4.4 per cent on July 1, 1977.

Don't count on it.

Lawmakers won't want to talk much about erasing the rollback provision from the books this year because 110 state House seats are up for election and it's embarrassing to be caught with your hand on a voter's wallet. But they almost certainly will make the

"temporary" 4.6 per cent tax a permanent fiscal feature for Michigan. A bill sponsored by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, to kill the tax decrease was approved Wednesday by the House Taxation Committee and is up for debate by the full House.

Despite their 1975 promise of a rollback, lawmakers will argue they can't afford to keep their word. For one thing, State Budget Director Gerald Miller discovered last fall that Michigan faces a $300 million budget deficit and officials now are scrambling to avoid that cataract of red ink. Cutting the income tax would be idiotic under those circumstances, it will be argued.

Also, Gov. William Milliken predicted in 1974 that the income tax would have to be boosted if voters repealed the sales tax on food and prescription drugs, which they did. Milliken condoned the "rollback" provision when he signed the tax hike under an agreement with legislative leaders.

Miller shrugged off the impending reversal of the rollback as "a rather minor issue." He said he will ask lawmakers to repeal the reduction. Miller said he does not recall the governor making any political deal to get the tax increase passed. But the rollback was written into the bill the day of its final passage on an agreement between Milliken and legislative leaders, which was announced at a crowded news conference.

And House Speaker Bobby Crim, D-Davison, acknowledges lawmakers will have to repeal the tax cut before it approves the 1977 budget.

If taxpayers don't get their promised tax break, it should come as no surprise. It is history repeating itself. Lawmakers and Milliken said in 1971 that a 50 per cent tax increase from 2.6 per cent to 3.9 per cent would be repealed in August 1972. The money — an estimated $250 million — was just needed on a one-shot basis to prop up sagging state finances, they assured taxpayers.

The 1971 tax hike was to be rolled back, lawmakers said, unless the public was given a chance to vote on property tax relief or on permitting a graduated income tax. But to further cloud the issue, the legislature found itself unable to agree on a measure to submit to voters. So since 1971, the state income tax has jumped by about 68 per cent, accompanied by ardent assurances it would be reduced later. But government is expensive — and words are cheap.

Introducing $2 Bills TuesdayBy JIM DeLAND
Assistant City Editor

Banks in southwestern Michigan are prepared to join others across the nation in returning the $2 bill to circulation after an absence of 10 years.

Distribution of the new bills will begin Tuesday, April 13 — the birthday of Thomas Jefferson, whose portrait again will adorn the face of the $2 bill.

An estimated 225 million of the new bills will be ready for issue by banks across the county next Tuesday and it is hoped that 400 million will be in circulation by July 4, the 200th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the 150th anniversary of Jefferson's death.

A survey of southwestern Michigan banks this week showed there will be more than $132,000 worth of $2 bills available locally when the banks open Tuesday morning.

Most bank officials said that because of the large number of bills available, there will probably not be any limits placed on them.

A spokesman for Peoples State bank, St. Joseph, said the bank and its branches would not have the bills available until after 1 p.m. Tuesday. All other banks contacted said they would have the bills on hand when they open Tuesday.

The return of the $2 bill is planned as a salute to the nation's Bicentennial, but it is expected to be an economy measure as well.

Treasury officials expect to save $35 million printing and handling costs over the next five years by gradually substituting $2 bills for nearly half of the $1 bills, which now represent almost 60 per cent of the currency in circulation.

Before the old $2 bill was discontinued in 1966, only about 6 million a year were printed. An average of 1.7 billion $1 bills a year are circulated at the present time.

Treasury officials say there are more than 67 million $2 bills from earlier printings still in the hands of the public.

The old $2 bill was popular at racetracks, because most bets are made in that amount, but otherwise was largely regarded as a nuisance and even a bad luck omen.

Because it was relatively rare, it sometimes was mistaken by shoppers and shopkeepers for other denominations and the scarcity of the bills gave the public the impression they were an oddity.

Treasury officials are confident of a warmer reception this time. According to a Treasury Department news release, "today's educated public will not be deterred by the colorful superstitions of folklore regarding the $2 bill; if anything, they add to the mystique and charm of this bill."

The face of the new $2 bill reintroduces a portrait of Jefferson painted in the early 1800s by Gilbert Stuart and incorporates features of the last $2 U.S. note with a change in designation to Federal Reserve note.

The reverse side of the bill is completely new. Instead of a picture of Jefferson's home, Monticello, the reverse side will show a reproduction of a John Trumbull painting of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Jefferson, the country's third President, is universally recognized as the author of the Declaration of Independence.

The new notes will bear the signature of William E. Simon, Secretary of the Treasury, and Francis I. Neff, Treasurer of the U.S.

The $2 denomination dates back to 1776, when it was first issued by the Continental Congress as "bills of credit for the defense of America."

During the Civil War, an Act of Congress recognized the $2 denomination as a form of U.S. currency and it reappeared in subsequent years as oversize U.S. notes, silver certificates, Treasury notes, national bank currency and Federal Reserve notes, with various portraits, including Alexander Hamilton,

James B. McPherson, Winfield S. Hancock and George Washington.

In 1928 the more familiar size bill with the portrait of Jefferson was introduced as a U.S. note.

The Treasury says there will not be a special or "collector's" issue of the new note.

Four Flags Hotel Blaze
At Niles Called Arson

NILES — The state fire marshal's office has ruled that a fire that struck the Four Flags hotel here one week ago today was arson, according to Marion Fuller, acting Niles fire chief.

Fuller said today that Sgt. Philip Nielson, state fire marshal from Paw Paw, has ruled the April 3 fire was deliberately set.

The blaze injured seven people, none seriously, and caused an estimated $20,000 to $30,000 damage to the four-story, 50-year-old building in downtown Niles.

Fuller said while investigators could uncover no evidence that flammable liquids were used to start the fire in a basement storage area, they believe the fire was arson because of the unusual burn pattern discovered in the basement.

Investigation of the fire by the fire marshal's office, local firemen and Niles police is continuing, Fuller said.

TAKES FIVE-SHOT LEAD

Floyd Setting Record Pace

By WILL GRIMSLEY

AP Special Correspondent

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—There is a word of caution that has become patent in big-time golf—"Don't Make the Golden Bear Mad"—but a completely poised and confident Ray Floyd was paying no mind as he entered today's third round of the Masters.

"If that means let the sleeping giant lie," the bull-shoaled four veteran suit, referring to five-time winner Jack Nicklaus, "then I am sorry to disturb him. But I hope to do it again in the last two rounds."

Floyd, a reformed playboy, refused to be jarred by a pair of Nicklaus' eagles and, keeping his calm under the severest pressure, tucked a six-under-par 36 into an earlier 65 for a five-shot lead over Nicklaus after 36 holes.

His 131 total was the best halfway start in the history of Augusta National's big spring bash, clipping four strokes off the mark of four giants of the game—Henry Picard, Byron Nelson, Ken Venturi and Nicklaus.

Nicklaus, who has won more major championships than any golfer who has ever lived, coasted along with his eagles and birdies about an hour ahead of Floyd, the first-round leader, with everyone wondering when the paunchy, 33-year-old guy from Miami would crack. Floyd never did.

Nicklaus snared in with a 69 for 136 and, shortly afterward, Hubert Green, winner of three straight events in March, breezed home with a 66 for 137 only to find that their efforts went largely for naught.

Green, a tall, wisecracking Southerner out of Birmingham, Ala., came to the press interview room just about the time that the scoreboard was registering an eagle for Floyd on the under par for the tournament.

Entering the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday, it's Floyd five shots ahead of Nicklaus, six ahead of Green and seven over Larry Ziegler, another golfing gypsy who hung on with a 71-138.

It appears it's a four-run flight down the wire, barring miracles.

Johann Miller, a charger, staged such a miracle a year ago, rallying from 11 shots back to finish in a tie with Tom Weiskopf, just one shot back of Nicklaus. Miller, with a 73, found himself 13 strokes back this time—a predicament he shared with Weiskopf, who shot 71.

Closest to the four leaders were a pair of young teammates out of the University of Texas—Ben Crenshaw and Tom Kite—five strokes out at 140, followed by U.S. Open champion Lou Graham, former Masters winner Charles Coody and Australia's Graham Marsh, tied at 141.

British Open champion Tom Watson and Lee Trevino barely sneaked inside the 150 cutoff point and 63-year-old Sam Snead, a three-time winner, and 1968 champion Bob Goulby missed by a stroke at 151. Andy North, who opened with a 68, skidded to an 81.

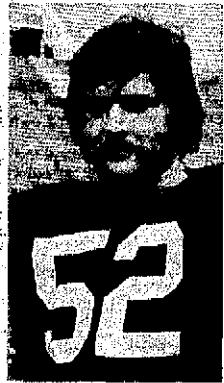

The most notable casualty, however, was Arnold Palmer, once the king of Augusta's fairways with four crowns between 1958 and 1964. Arnie, his once almost invincible game showing the frayed edges of age, took an eight under hole and blew to an 81 for 155.

St. Joe's Czirr Picked By Denver

JIM CZIRR

NEW YORK — University of Michigan center Jim Czirr was picked Friday in the ninth round of the National Football League college player draft by the Denver Broncos.

Czirr, a former St. Joseph standout, was one of 487 collegiate players selected during the two-day, 17-round draft. An UPI All-Big Ten pick, Czirr was one of six Wolverine players tapped in the first 10 rounds. Others include running back Gordon Bell, picked by the New York Giants in the fourth round; linebacker Dan Jilek, taken by Buffalo in the fourth round; safety Don Dufek, selected by Seattle in the fifth round; offensive tackle Steve King, grabbed by the New York Jets in the fifth round; and defensive end Jeff Perlinger, who went to San Diego in the 10th round.

"Jim will get to finally make it to Colorado," Jim's mother, Frances, said Saturday morning. "He had thought about going to the Air Force Academy. It was between the Air Force and Michigan. Now he'll get to Colorado, anyway."

One surprise selection was that of Michigan basketball player Wayne Britt, who was taken by Washington in the 13th round. Britt has never played football.

Sox, Wood Blank Royals In Opener

Bill Veeck's Return Huge Success

By JOHN VANDEN HEED

Sports Editor

CHICAGO — Bill Veeck's "grass roots" baseball movement in Chicago seems to be catching hold.

The biggest White Sox crowd at Comiskey Park in two years, and the third largest opening day turnout in history, watched Chicago blank Kansas City 4-0 here Friday afternoon.

While veteran knuckle balling lefthander Wilbur Wood and newly-acquired slugger Jim Spencer were taking care of the Royals on the diamond, including a new infield of "real grass," Veeck was charming the fans in the American League president then mingled with the crowd of 40,318 much of the rest of the afternoon — shaking hands and signing autographs.

Veeck's personality is certainly a big part of the White Sox effort to produce a new image, but there are many material signs.

Besides replacing the artificial grass around the infield with real turf, the Sox are sprucing up their stadium with a new paint job. The temporary centerfield fence has also been removed, making it a long, long 445-foot shot in dead centerfield.

The scoreboard still goes off when there's a home run — Spencer parked a two-run shot

Friday — but it now has a Speed-O-Meter which is used to time runners going from home plate to first base. There's also hope of getting a Pitch-O-Meter into operation soon. It would time the speed of pitches.

A new loud and clear public address system is another big improvement, but the favorite addition of fans seemed to be down in the first base coaching box... old Chicago favorite Minnie Minoso returned as a coach and received two standing ovations.

Most of the White Sox starting lineup was also new, with only Wood, Bucky Dent and Buddy Bradford back from last year's season-opening lineup. And on Friday at least, the Sox looked capable of improving an last year's 75-86 record.

Wood held the Royals in check with six harmless singles while striking out seven. No opposing runner got past second. (Some also thought Wilbur's big belly looked thinner in the new Sox uniforms which are worn without the shirt being tucked in.)

Spencer, obtained over the winter from the California Angels, provided the batting strength with his two-run homer, three RBIs and a single. Rookie centerfielder Chet Lemon got credit for the other RBI.

Chicago finished with ten hits overall, with catcher Pete Varney and second baseman Jack Brohamer — obtained from Cleveland — also having two each.

Chicago has also been advertised as a running team, and they showed they are going to gamble on the baspaths. Two runners were cut down at the plate trying to score on infield grounders, and George Orta had a stolen base.

Start Paul Spittorf was the starting and losing Kansas City pitcher. He was relieved in the fifth by Doug Bird after Spencer's two-run shot just made it into the rightfield seats.

Seaver Shows Mets He's Worth Bundle
Cubs Drop Opener To St. Louis

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Seaver is putting his money where his arm is.

fastest of his month.

The three-time National League Cy Young winner was his usual tight-fisted self Friday, allowing but five hits and striking out eight batters in seven innings while leading the Mets to a 3-2 opening day victory over the Montreal Expos.

Seaver just lost Monday agreed on a three-year contract at about $250,000 a season.

Seaver walked just one batter in his day's work.

While the Mets' money pitcher was tuning Montreal in the Shea Stadium opener, three other National League games were featured during Friday's action. The San Francisco Giants beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2; the St. Louis Cardinals checked the Chicago Cubs 5-0 and the San Diego Padres rocked the Atlanta Braves 6-2.

Bud Harrelson supported Seaver's strong pitching with a two-run double off Steve Rogers in the fourth inning. Skip Lockwood pitched the last two innings for the Mets.

Gary Matthews sent San Francisco ahead with a two-run homer off Don Sutton in the fourth inning, triggering the Giants past the Dodgers. Matthews' home run was the third of the game played before a crowd of 37,261 at Candlestick Park despite picketing outside by striking city employees.

Before the game, San Francisco starter John Montefusco had predicted a shutout, but saw it disappear immediately when Dusty Baker lumbered in the Dodgers first. Bobby Murcer later hit one for the Giants.

Bake McBride, Ted Simmons and rookie Hector Cruz

collected two singles apiece for St. Louis and Keith Hernandez and Mike Tyson hammered triples, with Tyson's blow lighting the Cards' offense in the fifth inning.

After Tyson, a stubby second baseman, opened the fifth with his hit into the right-field corner, Lou Brock singled on the infield to snap a scoreless tie.

Bee Bee Richard and Simmons followed with singles to produce a second St. Louis run in the inning and the Cards broke through for three more in the seventh off Cubs' relievers Buddy Schuttz and Paul Reuschel.

McBride's second single started the late attack and Reggie Smith and Cruz drove in runs following a Chicago error.

Randy Jones scattered five hits in spark San Diego over Atlanta. Jones, the National League's earned run average champion last season when he posted a 20-12 record with a

2.24 ERA, had a no-hitter for five innings.

Former Padres Cito Gaston singled to center with one out in the sixth, however, to spoil Jones' bid. The Braves then took away Jones' shutout the next inning when an error by shortstop Buzz Hernandez and singles by Jim Wynn, Tom Paciorek and Earl Williams produced the two Atlanta runs.

Sparked by Johnny Grubbs' four hits and two RBIs, the Padres took a 7-0 lead in the first five innings off Atlanta right-hander Carl Morton.

Floyd Setting Record Pace

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — There is a word of caution that has become patent in big-time golf—"Don't Make the Golden Bear Mad"—but a completely poised and confident Ray Floyd was paying no mind as he entered today's third round of the Masters.

"If that means let the sleeping giant lie," the bull-shoofled four veteran said, referring to five-time winner Jack Nicklaus, "then I am sorry to disturb him. But I hope to do it again in the last two rounds."

Floyd, a reformed playboy, refused to be jarred by a pair of Nicklaus eagles and, keeping his calm under the severest pressure, tacked a six-under-par 66 onto an earlier 65 for a five-shot lead over Nicklaus after 36 holes.

His 131 total was the best halfway start in the history of Augusta National's big spring bash, clipping four strokes off the mark of four giants of the game—Henry Picard, Byron Nelson, Ken Venturi and Nicklaus.

Nicklaus, who has won more major championships than any golfer who has ever lived, coasted along with his eagles and birdies about an hour ahead of Floyd, the first-round leader, with everyone wondering when the paunchy, 33-year-old guy from Miami would crack. Floyd never did.

Nicklaus soared in with a 69 for 136 and, shortly afterward, Hubert Green, winner of three straight events in March, breezed home with a 66 for 137 only to find that their efforts went largely for naught.

Green, a tall, wisecracking Southerner out of Birmingham, Ala., came to the press interview room just about the time that the scoreboard was registering an eagle for Floyd on the 15th hole, putting Floyd 14 under par for the tournament.

Entering the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday, it's Floyd five shots ahead of Nicklaus, six ahead of Green and seven over Larry Ziegler, another golfing gypsy who hung on with a 71-138.

It appears it's a four-man fight down the wire, barring miracles.

Johnny Miller, a charger, staged such a miracle a year ago, rallying from 11 shots back to finish in a tie with Tom Weiskopf, just one shot back of Nicklaus. Miller, with a 73, found himself 13 strokes back this time—a predicament he shared with Weiskopf, who shot 71.

Closest to the four leaders were a pair of young tentmates out of the University of Texas—Ben Crenshaw and Tom Kite—nine strokes out at 140, followed by U.S. Open champion Lou Graham, former Masters winner Charles Coody and Australia's Graham Marsh, tied at 141.

British Open champion Tom Watson and Lee Trevino barely sneaked inside the 150 cutoff point and 63-year-old Sam Snead, a three-time winner, and 1968 champion Bob Goalby missed by a stroke at 151. Andy North, who opened with a 66, skied to an 81.

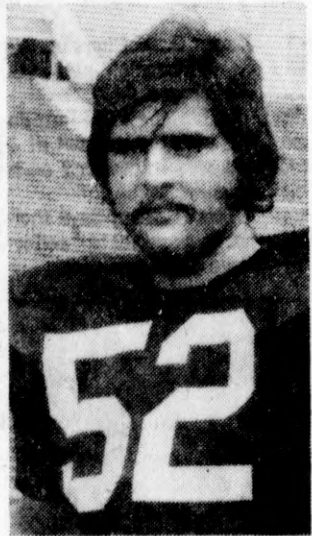

The most notable casualty, however, was Arnold Palmer, once the king of Augusta's fairways with four crowns between 1958 and 1964. Arnie, his once almost invincible game showing the frayed edges of age, took an eight on one hole and blew to an 81 for 155.

St. Joe's Czirr Picked By Denver

JIM CZIRR

NEW YORK — University of Michigan center Jim Czirr was picked Friday in the ninth round of the National Football League college player draft by the Denver Broncos.

Czirr, a former St. Joseph standout, was one of 487 collegiate players selected during the two-day, 17-round draft. An UPI All-Big Ten pick, Czirr was one of six Wolverine players tapped in the first 10 rounds. Others include running back Gordon Bell, picked by the New York Giants in the fourth round; linebacker Dan Jilek, taken by Buffalo in the fourth round; safety Don Dufek, selected by Seattle in the fifth round; offensive tackle Steve King, grabbed by the New York Jets in the fifth round; and defensive end Jeff Perlinger, who went to San Diego in the 10th round.

"Jim will get to finally make it to Colorado," Jim's mother, Frances, said Saturday morning. "He had thought about going to the Air Force Academy. It was between the Air Force and Michigan. Now he'll get to Colorado, anyway."

One surprise selection was that of Michigan basketball player Wayman Britt, who was taken by Washington in the 13th round. Britt has never played football.

Sox, Wood Blank Royals In Opener

By JOHN VANDEN HEED
Sports Editor

CHICAGO — Bill Veeck's "grass roots" baseball movement in Chicago seems to be catching hold.

The biggest White Sox crowd at Comiskey Park in two years, and the third largest opening day turnout in history, watched Chicago blank Kansas City 4-0 here Friday afternoon.

While veteran knuckle balling lefthander Wilbur Wood and newly-acquired slugger Jim Spencer were taking care of the Royals on the diamond, including a new infield of "real grass," Veeck was charming the fans in the American League opener.

The aging Veeck, who owned the Sox once previously and has always been a showman, started the afternoon by wearing a wig and playing a life in a pre-game Spirit of '76 ceremony. He then moved into the box seats with Mayor Richard Daley, as "Chicago's No. 1 White Sox fan" threw out the traditional first ball. The peg-legged Sox president then mingled with the crowd of 40,318 much of the rest of the afternoon — shaking hands and signing autographs.

Veeck's personality is certainly a big part of the White Sox effort to produce a new image, but there are many material signs.

Besides replacing the artificial grass around the infield with real turf, the Sox are sprucing up their stadium with a new paint job. The temporary centerfield fence has also been removed, making it a long, long 445-foot shot to dead centerfield.

The scoreboard still goes off when there's a home run — Spencer parked a two-run shot

Friday — but it now has a Speed-O-Meter which is used to time runners going from home plate to first base. There's also hope of getting a Pitch-O-Meter into operation soon. It would time the speed of pitches.

A new loud and clear public address system is another big improvement, but the favorite addition of fans seemed to be down in the first base coaching box.... old Chicago favorite Minnie Minoso returned as a coach and received two standing ovations.

Most of the White Sox starting lineup was also new, with only Wood, Bucky Dent and Buddy Bradford back from last year's season-opening lineup. And on Friday at least, the Sox looked capable of improving on last year's 75-86 record.

Wood held the Royals in check with six harmless singles while striking out seven. No opposing runner got past second. (Some also thought Wilbur's big belly looked thinner in the new Sox uniforms which are worn without the shirt being tucked in.)

Spencer, obtained over the winter from the California Angels, provided the batting strength with his two-run homer, three RBIs and a single. Rookie centerfielder Chet Lemon got credit for the other RBI.

Chicago finished with ten hits overall, with catcher Pete Varney and second baseman Jack Brohamer — obtained from Cleveland — also having two each.

Chicago has also been advertised as a running team, and they showed they are going to gamble on the basepaths. Two runners were cut down at the plate trying to score on infield grounders, and George Orta had a stolen base.

Start Paul Spittorff was the starting and losing Kansas City pitcher. He was relieved in the fifth by Doug Bird after Spencer's two-run shot just made it into the rightfield seats.

Seaver Shows Mets He's Worth Bundle

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Seaver is putting his money where his arm is.

After a spring training of bitter contract negotiations with the New York Mets, the righthander now is throwing his weight behind his pitches instead of his mouth.

The three-time National League Cy Young winner was his usual tight-fisted self Friday, allowing but five hits and striking out eight batters in seven innings while leading the Mets to a 3-2 opening day victory over the Montreal Expos.

Seaver just last Monday agreed on a three-year contract at about $250,000 a season.

Seaver walked just one batter in his day's work.

While the Mets' money pitcher was taming Montreal in the Shea Stadium opener, three other National League games were featured during Friday's action. The San Francisco Giants beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2; the St. Louis Cardinals checked the Chicago Cubs 5-0 and the San Diego Padres rocked the Atlanta Braves 8-2.

Bud Harrelson supported Seaver's strong pitching with a two-run double off Steve Rogers in the fourth inning. Skip Lockwood pitched the last two innings for the Mets.

Gary Matthews sent San Francisco ahead with a two-run homer off Don Sutton in the fourth inning, triggering the Giants past the Dodgers. Matthews' home run was the third of the game played before a crowd of 37,261 at Candlestick Park despite picketing outside by striking city employees.

Before the game, San Francisco starter John Montefusco had predicted a shutout, but saw it disappear immediately when Dusty Baker homered in the Dodgers first. Bobby Murcer later hit one for the Giants.

Bake McBride, Ted Simmons and rookie Hector Cruz

collected two singles apiece for St. Louis and Keith Hernandez and Mike Tyson hammered triples, with Tyson's blow igniting the Cards' offense in the fifth inning.

After Tyson, a stubby second baseman, opened the fifth with his hit into the right-field corner, Lou Brock singled on the infield to snap a scoreless tie.

Bee Bee Richard and Simmons followed with singles to produce a second St. Louis run in the inning and the Cards broke through for three more in the seventh off Cubs' relievers Buddy Schultz and Paul Reuschel.

McBride's second single started the late attack and Reggie Smith and Cruz drove in runs following a Chicago error.

Randy Jones scattered five hits to spark San Diego over Atlanta. Jones, the National League's earned run average champion last season when he posted a 20-12 record with a

2.24 ERA, had a no-hitter for five innings.

Former Padres Cito Gaston singled to center with one out in the sixth, however, to spoil Jones' bid. The Braves then took away Jones' shutout the next inning when an error by shortstop Enzo Hernandez and singles by Jim Wynn, Tom Paciorek and Earl Williams produced the two Atlanta runs.

Sparked by Johnny Grubb's four hits and two RBI, the Padres took a 7-0 lead in the first five innings off Atlanta right-hander Carl Morton.

Orioles Edge Boston Without Star Jackson

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Baltimore Orioles apparently don't need Reggie Jackson... at least not when Jim Palmer's pitching.

The Orioles couldn't entice Jackson to Baltimore Friday for their American League opener with the defending champion Boston Red Sox. After the Birds' 1-0 squeaker over the Sox, Manager Earl Weaver read a telegram from the reluctant slugger, who was placed on the disqualified list before the game after rejecting a contract offer.

The Orioles needed all the help they could get because Boston's Ferguson Jenkins more than matched the six-hit pitching of Palmer and Dyer Miller but was done in by an unearned run that scored on a throwing error by 1975 hero Fred Lynn.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Chicago White Sox blanked the Kansas City Royals 4-0 behind Wilbur Wood's six-hitter; the Texas Rangers edged the Minnesota 2-1 in 11 innings and the Oakland A's, with Don Baylor and Mike Torrez playing key roles, downed the California Angels 5-2.

Baltimore got its only run in the fourth inning. Lee May reached on an error by shortstop Rick Burleson, Bobby Grich singled and May lumbered all the way home when center fielder Lynn's throw bounced over the head of third baseman Ricco Petrocelli.

Jenkins, acquired from Texas during the off-season, allowed three hits, walked none and struck out seven. Palmer, who pitched 10 shutouts a year ago en route to a 24-11 record and his second Cy Young Award, yielded all six Boston hits in eight innings and Miller worked a 1-2-3 ninth.

Toby Harrah's two-out tie-breaking single with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 11th enabled the Rangers to edge Minnesota before a Texas crowd that included President Gerald R. Ford. Harrah's single bucked the seven-hit pitching of 37-year-old Gaylord Perry, who retired the last 16 Minnesota batters.

Harrah's hit came off reliever Bill Campbell, who replaced starter Bert Blyleven in the 10th inning after Blyleven also retired the last 16 batters he faced. Jeff Burroughs homered in the second inning for the Rangers' first run.

Don Baylor and Mike Torrez, the newest additions to Oakland's line-up, played key roles for the A's. Baylor hit a game-tying homer off Frank Tanana in his first official plate appearance while Torrez pitched five innings and gained credit for the victory.

Torrez was relieved by Jim Todd and Rolfe Fingers and the trio combined to hold the Angels to five singles.

Baylor also scored Oakland's final run in the eighth when he was hit by a pitch, stole second and eventually came home on a wild pitch.

Sabres Edge Blues In OT

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ed Stasiowski had done more than anyone had expected, blunting a Sabres attack that can slice through any defense when it is at its sharpest. In three games against Buffalo, the 26-year-old St. Louis Blues rookie stopped 121 of the 128 shots which rained on him from every area of the rink.

But he fell one save short Friday night after forcing the volatile Sabres into overtime for the second time in 24 hours. Don Lucie's 40-foot shot deflected off a player's leg and sneaked through Stasiowski's leg pads at 14:27 of the extra session, sending Buffalo into the Stanley Cup quarter-finals and sending the Blues home for the summer.

In the other National Hockey League playoff decided Friday night, the Toronto Maple Leafs gained a quarter-final berth with a 4-0 shutout of the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Despite the 2-1 loss to the heavily-favored Sabres, the St. Louis netminder held his head high. Blues Coach Leo Bolvin agreed.

Against overwhelming odds, they had won the first game 5-2 with a stunning performance in St. Louis Tuesday night. Thursday, Stasiowski faced 57 shots in Buffalo but forced the Sabres into overtime before Danny Gare struck his weakness — low shots — and evened the best-of-three series.

It was more of the same

Friday, the Sabres shooting and Stasiowski saving, until Gil Perreault powered in a 35-foot shot for a 1-0 lead with 55 seconds left in the first period.

Still, the gutsy Blues came back, when veteran Red Berenson stole the puck from Buffalo defenseman Jerry Korab in neutral zone, broke in and scored on Gerry Desjardins at 9:10 of the middle period.

The Sabres will host Sunday night's quarter-final opener against another determined hockey club, the New York Islanders. In the other best-of-seven series debuts, the Chicago Black Hawks visit the Canadiens in Montreal and the Los Angeles Kings meet the Bruins in Boston.

The Maple Leafs will wait until Monday to face the defending Stanley Cup champion Philadelphia Flyers, whose Spectrum home is committed to other activity Sunday.

Jim McKenny, Pat Boutette, Berje Sahlin and Lanny McDonald scored the goals that backed a 26-save Wayne Thomas' shutout and carried Toronto past Pittsburgh, which couldn't score while the Maple Leafs' Dave Williams sat out a five-minute major in the first period.

The Penguins lost more than the game when center Syl Apps suffered torn knee ligaments in the first period. He may need surgery.

Lions Grinning Over Draft Picks

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The Detroit Lions are grinning about what they regard as a top crop of college players they chose in the 1976 National Football League college draft.

"The first four players we got all could have gone first round," General Manager Russ Thomas said.

The Lions had extra selections in the first three rounds which Thomas said "caused us to have what is probably the best draft we've ever had."

James Hunter, a defensive back from Grambling, is expected to be a starter. So is Lawrence Gaines, a running back from Wyoming.

Hunter is compared by the Lions to talented Lem Barney, while Gaines is likened to the great Franco Harris of the champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

The two second-round choices were offensive lineman Ken Long of Purdue and tight end David Hill of Texas A&T. The two third-rounders were offensive linebacker Russ Bulinger of Long Beach State and defensive lineman John Woodcock of Hawaii.

The Lions picked up a quarterback and a kicker Friday as the hunt for college talent ended in the two-day draft.

"The kicker was Rich Sorenson of Ohio State, who kicks off and punts. Lions officials have often said they could use some help in the kickoff department to boot the ball consistently into the endzone.

On offense Friday, the Lions picks included 6-foot-3, 215-pound light end Leonard Jones from Long Beach State in the ninth round; New Mexico State quarterback Bill Bowerman in the 10th round; 6-foot-5, 245-pound center Mike McCabe of South Carolina in the 12th round, and wide receiver Mel Jacobs of San Diego State in the 13th round.

On defense, the Lions also drafted end Gary Snugie from Villanova. He is 6-foot-5 and weighs 240.

Chiefs' Reist Hurls Another No-Hit Gem

Brian Reist pitched his second straight no-hitter Friday to help keep the surprising Dowagiac baseball team unbeaten.

Reist held Edwardsburg without a safety Friday as the Chiefs edged the Eagles 1-0 in the Blossomland opener for both teams.

In other-area action Friday, Berrien Springs blanked New Buffalo 5-0 and Hartford, Nippon 7-0 in eight innings in a pair of Red Arrow openers; Oshtemo upset South Haven 4-2 and Paw Paw outslugged Plainwell 12-5. In two Wolverine clashes, Fennville got by Bangor 5-3.

Reist struck out 12 and walked just two in hurling his gem. The junior right-hander, a transfer student from South Haven, had thrown a no-hitter against Three Rivers only a week ago.

"Brian keeps the ball low and throws real hard," Dowagiac coach Dave Mahar said. "We expected him to be good and are real pleased with his progress."

Dowagiac, now 5-0 overall, scored the game's only run in the first inning when Ron Grady walked, stole second and came in to score on Dave Sprague's double.

Sophomore Dan Correll took the loss for the Chiefs, despite yielding just three hits himself. Senior Barry Adams held New Buffalo to just three hits in Berrien's victory. Adams struck out nine and walked two. Carl Underwood took the loss for the Blons.

Sophomore Mike Shemberger gave Adams the only run he needed with a second-inning home run.

Jim Paskel won his own game with an eighth inning double in Hartford's win. Paskel, who went the distance on the mound, came through with the key hit in the bottom of the eighth after Dave Galthouse had singled and advanced to second on a groundout. Dale Luther took the loss for Gallen.

Kent Hendricks' brilliant relief pitching helped Oshtemo stymie South Haven. The Rams had trailed 3-1 going into the sixth inning, but Frank Winter doubled in a run to cut the deficit to one. Hendricks then came on in relief of starter Stan Saunders and struck out four in the final four South Haven batters to preserve the win. Terry Marr was the losing Ram hurler.

Rick Kendall, Tim Baker, Randy Ayres and Dave Field each drove in a pair of runs in Paw Paw's win. Baker slammed a home run to highlight a seven-run third inning and break the game open.

Ernie proved costly to Bangor as all five Fennville runs were unearned. Jim Seidler picked up the win for the Blackhawks with a five-hitter. Bangor starter Gary Garrett was the loser.

John Dentzman belted a two-run homer for the Vikings.

Jabbar-less Bucks Capture Division, Home Playoff Edge

From Associated Press
The Milwaukee Bucks didn't need Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to win the Midwest Division—but they would probably love to have him for the National Basketball Association playoffs.

"We are not as talented or as experienced as many teams," said Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello. "Some of the Boston Celtics have been in 10 playoffs."

The Bucks, who trailed Abdul-Jabbar before the season to the Los Angeles Lakers, weren't given much of a chance to win the Midwest. But they nailed it down Friday night by beating the Celtics 106-100.

Friday night's victory not only clinched first place in the Midwest for the Bucks but gave them the homecourt advantage in the upcoming NBA playoffs.

In the other NBA games, the Portland Trail Blazers stopped the Chicago Bulls 106-89; the Detroit Pistons whipped the Atlanta Hawks 116-108; the New Orleans Jazz outscored the Houston Rockets 99-89; the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Kansas City Kings 112-108 and the Seattle SuperSonics trimmed Golden State 119-103.

Elmore Smith scored nine of his 20 points in the fourth period as Milwaukee beat Boston. Clyde Mayes dropped in the basket that put the Bucks ahead for good, 88-86, with one minute remaining and then Smith clinched it with a pair of free throws.

Steve Hawes and Bill Walton led Portland on a seven-point streak late in the game and the Trail Blazers went on to beat Chicago. The Blazers were nursing a narrow 85-82 lead when they put together their game-breaking surge.

Substitute center Roger Brown and guard John Mengelt spearheaded a fourth-period assault to help Detroit hand Atlanta its 16th straight loss. Brown, playing for flustered Bob Lanier, hit on three baskets and two free throws while Mengelt made two baskets and two free throws in a 16-7 surge.

Pete Maravich scored 23 points to lead New Orleans over Houston. Behind 23-21 at the end of the first period, New Orleans outscored the Rockets 30-18 in the second quarter with a 54.2 per cent performance from the field.

Maravich had 21 of his points by the end of the third period, and took it easy the rest of the way as the Jazz boosted its record to 37-44.

George McGinnis scored 38 points—one under his season high—as Philadelphia clinched second place in the Atlantic Division with its victory over

Champ Ali, Ellis Featured Guests

Big Boxing Card Slated At LMC April 17

Heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali, now training at his Berrien Springs camp, and former heavyweight title holder Jimmy Ellis will be featured guests at next Saturday night's boxing show in the Lake Michigan College gym.

Alli, Ellis and sparring partner Alonzo Johnson will be introduced during the program which features a 12-bout card, according to promoter Willie Dillon.

The April 17 event, sponsored by the Benton Harbor Better Youth Development group, is scheduled to get underway at 8:30 p.m.

Twelve boxers from Benton Harbor and South Haven will be matched against fighters from South Bend, Elkhart, Fort Wayne and Kalamazoo in Indiana. The area boxers will include Willie Glass, Bennett Moore, Willie Campbell, Sam Williams, Al Brazil, Wallace Fly, Jessie Williams, Jo Jo Wilburn, Robert Smith, Arthur Burkhead, Sam Williams (no relation to the other Williams) and Ken Harrington.

Ringside seats have been priced at $3. General admission is $2. Tickets are available in Benton Harbor at Gardner's, Avery's Record Shop, Johnny's Fashions, Bargain Center and Walt's Shoe Shop.

Alli is now training for his April 30 title bout with No. 3 contender Jimmy Young in Washington, D.C. He also has a May 24 bout set against Richard Dunn, the European heavyweight champion, in Munich, Germany.

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets lead their American Basketball Association playoff series 1-0 after routing the San Antonio Spurs, but Coach Kevin Loughery is taking nothing for granted.

He remembers what happened last year.

"It doesn't set us on fire," said Loughery after a 118-101 victory Friday night. "It just means we're 1-0 and we have to win Sunday."

Of course, you couldn't blame Loughery for tempering his exuberance. Last year, the Nets also won their first playoff game—against St. Louis—and then lost four in a row for a fast, five-game knockout.

Loughery wants to make sure that doesn't happen again this year.

The Nets will play the Spurs in the second game of the best-of-seven semifinal series Sunday in New York before the scene switches to San Antonio for Game No. 3 next Wednesday.

The Kentucky Colonels, holding a 1-0 lead, meet the Indiana Pacers today in the second game of their series.

Julius Erving scored 31 points and Al Skinner had a career-high 25 to lead New York's victory Friday night.

Erving and the Nets' first seven points and triggered them to a 33-18 lead at the end of the first period. The Nets, behind their two high scorers, built a 22-point advantage at 64-42 in the second period and to 70-50 at the half.

A dunk shot by Brian Taylor powered the runaway New Yorkers to an 80-55 lead with 8:41 left in the third period and the Nets took their biggest lead of the game, 118-80, on a Tim Bissett field goal with 7:14 remaining.

With 8:41 to go, both teams cleared their benches.

Bissett collected 12 rebounds to aid the Nets' cause while George Gervin led the Spurs with 30 points.

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Orioles apparently don't need Reggie Jackson...at least not when Jim Palmer's pitching.

The Orioles couldn't entice Jackson to Baltimore Friday for their American League opener with the defending champion Boston Red Sox. After the Birds' 1-0 squeaker over the Bosox, Manager Earl Weaver read a telegram from the reluctant slugger, who was placed on the disqualified list before the game after rejecting a contract offer.

The Orioles needed all the help they could get because Boston's Ferguson-Jenkins more than matched the six-hit pitching of Palmer and Dyer Miller but was done in by an unearned run that scored on a throwing error by 1975 hero Fred Lynn.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Chicago White Sox blanked the Kansas City Royals 4-0 behind Wilbur Wood's six-hitter, the Texas Rangers edged the Minnesota 2-1 in 11 innings and the Oakland A's, with Don Baylor and Mike Torrez playing key roles, downed the California Angels 5-2.

Baltimore got its only run in the fourth inning. Lee May reached on an error by shortstop Rick Burleson. Bobby Grich singled and May lumbered all the way home when center fielder Lynn's throw bounced over the head of third baseman Rico Petrocelli.

Jenkins, acquired from Texas during the off-season, allowed three hits, walked none and struck out seven. Palmer, who pitched 10 shutouts a year ago en route to a 23-11 record and his second Cy Young Award, yielded all six Boston hits in eight innings and Miller worked a 1-2-3 ninth.

Toby Harrah's two-out tie-breaking single with the bases loaded in the bottom of the 11th enabled the Rangers to edge Minnesota before a Texas crowd that included President Gerald R. Ford. Harrah's single backed the seven-hit pitching of 37-year-old Gaylord Perry, who retired the last 16 Minnesota batters.

Harrah's hit came off reliever Bill Campbell, who replaced starter Bert Blyleven in the 10th inning after Blyleven also retired the last 16 batters he faced. Jeff Burroughs homered in the second inning for the Rangers' first run.

Don Baylor and Mike Torrez, the newest additions to Oakland's line-up, played key roles for the A's. Baylor hit a game-tying homer off Frank Tanana in his first official plate appearance while Torrez pitched five innings and gained credit for the victory.

Torrez was relieved by Jim Todd and Rollie Fingers and the trio combined to hold the Angels to five singles.

Baylor also scored Oakland's final run in the eighth when he was hit by a pitch, stole second and eventually came home on a wild pitch.

Champ Ali, Ellis Featured Guests

Big Boxing Card Slated At LMC April 17

Heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali, now training at his Berrien Springs camp, and former heavyweight title holder Jimmy Ellis will be featured guests at next Saturday night's boxing show in the Lake Michigan College gym.

Ali, Ellis and sparring partner Alonzo Johnson will be introduced during the program which features a 12-bout card, according to promoter Willie Dillon.

The April 17 event, sponsored by the Benton Harbor Better Youth Development group, is scheduled to get underway at 8:30 p.m.

Twelve boxers from Benton Harbor and South Haven will be matched against fighters from South Bend, Elkhart, Fort Wayne and Kalamazoo in Indiana.

The area boxers will include Willie Glass, Bennett Moore, Willie Campbell, Sam Williams, Al Brazil, Wallace Fly, Jessie Williams, Jo Jo Wilburn, Robert Smith, Arthur Burkhead, Sam Williams (no relation to the other Williams) and Ken Harrington.

Ringside seats have been priced at $3. General admission is $2. Tickets are available in Benton Harbor at Gardner's, Avery's Record Shop, Johnny's Fashions, Bargain Center and Walt's Shoe Shop.

Ali is now training for his April 30 title bout with No. 3 contender Jimmy Young in Washington, D.C. He also has a May 24 bout set against Richard Dunn, the European heavyweight champion, in Munich, Germany.

Loughery Cautious After Nets Rip Spurs

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets lead their American Basketball Association playoff series 1-0 after routing the San Antonio Spurs, but Coach Kevin Loughery is taking nothing for granted.

He remembers what happened last year.

"It doesn't set us on fire," said Loughery after a 116-101 victory Friday night. "It just means we're 1-0 and we have to win Sunday."

Of course, you couldn't blame Loughery for tempering his exuberance. Last year, the Nets also won their first playoff game—against St. Louis—and then lost four in a row for a fast, five-game knockout.

A dunk shot by Brian Taylor powered the runaway New Yorkers to an 80-55 lead with 8:41 left in the third period and the Nets took their biggest lead of the game, 110-80, on a Tim Basset field goal with 7:14 remaining.

With 6:41 to go, both teams cleared their benches.

Basset collected 12 rebounds to aid the Nets cause while George Gervin led the losers with 30 points.

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ed Staniowski had done more than anyone had expected, blunting a Sabres attack that can slice through any defense when it is at its sharpest. In three games against Buffalo, the 20-year-old St. Louis Blues rookie stopped 121 of the 128 shots which rained on him from every area of the rink.

But he fell one save short Friday night after forcing the volatile Sabres into overtime for the second time in 24 hours. Don Luce's low 40-foot shot deflected off a player's leg and sneaked through Staniowski's leg pads at 14:27 of the extra session, sending Buffalo into the Stanley Cup quarter-finals and sending the Blues home for the summer.

In the other National Hockey League playoff decided Friday night, the Toronto Maple Leafs gained a quarter-final berth with a 4-0 shutout of the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Despite the 2-1 loss to the heavily-favored Sabres, the Blues netminder held his head high. Blues Coach Leo Boivin agreed.

Against overwhelming odds, they had won the first game 5-2 with a stunning performance in St. Louis Tuesday night. Thursday, Staniowski faced 57 shots in Buffalo but forced the Sabres into overtime before Danny Gare struck his weakness — low shots — and evened the best-of-three series.

It was more of the same

Friday, the Sabres shooting and Staniowski saving, until Gil Perreault powered in a 35-foot shot for a 1-0 lead with 55 seconds left in the first period.

Still the gutsy Blues came back, when veteran Red Berenson stole the puck from Buffalo defenseman Jerry Korab in neutral zone, broke in and scored on Gerry Desjardins at 9:10 of the middle period.

The Sabres will host Sunday night's quarter-final opener against another determined hockey club, the New York Islanders. In the other best-of-seven series debuts, the Chicago Black Hawks visit the Canadiens in Montreal and the Los Angeles Kings meet the Bruins in Boston.

The Maple Leafs will wait until Monday to face the defending Stanley Cup champion Philadelphia Flyers, whose Spectrum home is committed to other activity Sunday.

Jim McKenny, Pat Boutette, Borje Salming and Lanny McDonald scored the goals that backed a 26-save Wayne Thomas shutout and carried Toronto past Pittsburgh, which couldn't score while the Maple Leafs' Dave Williams sat out a five-minute major in the first period.

The Penguins lost more than the game when center Syl Apps suffered torn knee ligaments in the first period. He may need surgery.

Lions Grinning Over Draft Picks

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — The Detroit Lions are grinning about what they regard as a top crop of college players they chose in the 1976 National Football League college draft.

"The first four players we got all could have gone first round," General Manager Russ Thomas said.

The Lions had extra selections in the first three rounds which Thomas said "caused us to have what is probably the best draft we've ever had."

James Hunter, a defensive back from Grambling, is expected to be a starter. So is Lawrence Gaines, a running back from Wyoming.

Hunter is compared by the Lions, to talented Lem Barney, while Gaines is likened to the great Franco Harris of the champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

The second-round choices were offensive lineman Ken Long of Purdue and tight end David Hill of Texas A&I. The two third-rounders were offensive lineman Russ Bolinger of Long Beach State and defensive lineman John Woodcock of Hawaii.

The Lions picked up a quarterback and a kicker Friday as the hunt for college talent ended in the two-day draft.

The kicker was Rich Sorenson of Chico State, who kicks off and punts. Lions officials have often said they could use some help in the kickoff department to boot the ball consistently into the endzone.

Other draft picks Friday included Charlie Braswell, a defensive back from West Virginia.

On offense Friday, the Lions picked included 6-foot-3, 215-pound tight end Leannell Jones from Long Beach State in the ninth round; New Mexico State quarterback Bill Bowerman in the 10th round; 6-foot-5, 245-pound center Mike McCabe of South Carolina in the 12th round, and wide receiver Mel Jacobs of San Diego State in the 13th round.

On defense, the Lions also drafted end Gary Shugrue from Villanova. He is 6-foot-5 and weighs 240.

Chiefs' Reist Hurls Another No-Hit Gem

Brian Reist pitched his second straight no-hitter Friday to help keep the surprising Dowagiac baseball team unbeaten.

Reist held Edwardsburg without a safety Friday as the Chiefs edged the Eddie's 1-0 in the Blossomland opener for both teams.

In other area action Friday, Berrien Springs blanked New Buffalo 5-0 and Hartford nipped Galien 7-6 in eight innings in a pair of Red Arrow openers. Otsego upset South Haven 3-2 and Paw Paw outslugged Plainwell 12-5 in two Wolverine clashes. Fennville got by Bangor 5-3.

Reist struck out 12 and walked just two in hurling his gem. The junior right-hander, a transfer student from South Haven, had thrown a no-hitter against Three Rivers only a week ago.

"Brian keeps the ball low and throws real hard," Dowagiac coach Dave Mahar said. "We expected him to be good and are real pleased with his progress." Dowagiac, now 5-0 overall, scored the game's only run in the first inning when Ron Grady walked, stole second and came in to score on Dave Sprague's double.

Sophomore Dan Correll took the loss for the Eddie's, despite yielding just three hits himself.

Senior Barry Adams held New Buffalo to just three hits in Berrien's victory. Adams struck out nine and walked two. Carl Underwood took the loss for the Bisons.

Sophomore Mike Shembarger gave Adams the only run he needed with a second-inning home run.

Jim Paskel won his own game with an eighth-inning double in Hartford's win. Paskel, who went the distance on the mound, came through with the key hit in the bottom of the eighth after Dave Gailhouse had singled and advanced to second on a groundout. Dale Luther took the loss for Galien.

Kent Hendricks' brilliant relief pitching helped Otsego stun South Haven. The Rams had trailed 3-1 going into the sixth inning, but Frank Winter doubled in a run to cut the deficit to one. Hendricks then came on in relief of starter Stan Saunders and struck out the final four South Haven batters to preserve the win. Terry Marr was the losing Ram hurler.

Rick Kendall, Tim Baker, Randy Ayres and Dave Field each drove in a pair of runs in Paw Paw's win. Baker slammed a home run to highlight a seven-run third inning and break the game open.

Errors proved costly to Bangor as all five Fennville runs were unearned. Jim Scudder picked up the win for the Blackhawks with a five-hitter. Bangor starter Gary Garrett was the loser.

John Dentzman belted a two-run homer for the Vikings.

Jabbar-less Bucks Capture Division, Home Playoff Edge

From Associated Press

The Milwaukee Bucks didn't need Kareem Abdul-Jabbar to win the Midwest Division—but they would probably love to have him for the National Basketball Association playoffs.

"We are not as talented or as experienced as many teams," said Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello. "Some of the Boston Celtics have been in 10 playoffs."

The Bucks, who traded Abdul-Jabbar before the season to the Los Angeles Lakers, weren't given much of a chance to win the Midwest. But they nailed it down Friday night by beating the Celtics 106-100.

Friday night's victory not only clinched first place in the Midwest for the Bucks but gave them the homecourt advantage in the upcoming NBA playoffs.

In the other NBA games, the Portland Trail Blazers stopped the Chicago Bulls 100-88; the Detroit Pistons whipped the Atlanta Hawks 116-108; the New Orleans Jazz outscored the Houston Rockets 99-89; the Philadelphia 76ers beat the Kansas City Kings 112-108 and the Seattle SuperSonics trimmed Golden State 119-103.

Elmore Smith scored nine of his 20 points in the fourth period as Milwaukee beat Boston. Clyde Mayes dropped in the basket that put the Bucks ahead for good, 99-98, with one minute remaining and then Smith clinched it with a pair of free throws.

Steve Hawes and Bill Walton led Portland on a seven-point streak late in the game and the Trail Blazers went on to beat Chicago. The Blazers were nursing a narrow 85-82 lead when they put together their game-breaking surge.

Substitute center Roger Brown and guard John Mengelt spearheaded a fourth-period assault to help Detroit hand Atlanta its 16th straight loss. Brown, playing for floundering Bob Lanier, hit on three baskets and two free throws while Mengelt made two baskets and two free throws in a 16-7 surge.

Pete Maravich scored 23 points to lead New Orleans over Houston. Behind 23-21 at the end of the first period, New Orleans outscored the Rockets 30-16 in the second quarter with a 54.2 per cent performance from the field.

Maravich had 21 of his points by the end of the third period, and took it easy the rest of the way as the Jazz boosted its record to 37-44.

George McGinnis scored 38 points—one under his season high—as Philadelphia clinched second place in the Atlantic Division with its victory over Kansas City. The victory insured the homecourt advantage for Philadelphia in the opening round of the NBA playoffs. The 76ers have a 46-35 record with one game remaining.

Fred Brown scored 26 points as Seattle won its club record 15th consecutive home game by beating Golden State. Brown triggered a Sonics spurt at the end of the third quarter to break open a close game.

Kalamazoo Man Asks Hearing

PAW PAW — A Kalamazoo man was released on his own recognizance Friday following arraignment in Van Buren Seventh district court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Larry Raderstorff, 34, demanded a preliminary examination on the charge. The exam was set for next Wednesday.

Smash-Grab Theft Told In Dowagiac

DOWAGIAC — Thieves smashed out a display window at the Curtis TV shop here about 12:45 a.m. this morning and ran off with two portable television sets valued at $700, according to Dowagiac police.

Officers said the theft was reported by a tenant living above the store at 113 Pennsylvania avenue who said he looked out when he heard the glass crash, but the thieves had already gone.

Hearings On Theft Charges Asked

Three Benton township women charged with stealing six pairs of women's slacks from a Stevensville clothing store demanded preliminary examinations Friday in Berrien Fifth District court.

Demanding examinations on charges of larceny in a building were Phyllis Reed, 24, 1946 East Britain; Gwendolyn Ann Reed, 19, 124 Concord; and Jacqueline Renae Wade, 17, 2443 Crawford.

They are charged with stealing the slacks Thursday from the Clothes Horse store in the Village Square shopping center. Phyllis Reed was jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond while the other two were jailed on $2,500 bonds.

Also demanding examination on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder was Steven Allen Vincent, 18, 1139 Lavette street, Benton Harbor.

He is charged with assaulting John Maxson Collard Thursday in Benton Harbor. He was jailed in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Sentenced were:

Jeffery Lynn Wendt, 18, 1189 Miners road, St. Joseph, 4 days in jail, $200 and two years probation for petty larceny — tools, speakers and keys — from a building at 1073 Miners road on Feb. 21.

Jessie James Davis, 27, 968 Chicago avenue, Benton township, 10 days in jail and $152 for conspiracy to commit petty larceny of non-food products from Jewel Food store in Benton township Aug. 27, 1975. A co-defendant, Bernestine Howard, 24, of 117 Fulton street, Buchanan, was sentenced to 15 days and $152.

Henry Ray Grier, 25, 766 Pipestone, Benton Harbor, 60 days and $200 for petty larceny of a CB radio March 1 in Benton Harbor. He also was placed on two years probation.

Samuel James Wolshlager, 21, Box 9939 Holden road, Baroda, $200 for assault and battery against Thomas Cahill Jan. 18 in Bridgman.

Sandra Gloria Hopson, 24, 650 Crystal, Lot 69, Benton township, $75 for writing an insufficient funds check Jan. 17 at Plaza Cleaners in Benton township.

Mike James Bush, 21, 15617 Nannene street, Union Pier, $150 for possession of marijuana.

Bobby Jean Williams, 25, 1946 East Britain avenue, Benton township, 6 days and $75 for driving while license suspended.

Sentenced for impaired driving were:

William Otis Carroll, 49, 4525 Wil-O-Paw drive, Coloma, 3 days, $300 and two years probation for second offense; Jose Torres Zapata, 28, Apt. 46, Parkhill Apartments, Berrien Springs, $450 and one year probation for second offense; Jack Mance Coburn, 39, 1041 West Euclid, Benton Harbor, $175; Charles Elmer Meister, 39, 4670 Notre Dame drive, Stevensville, $152.

Kalamazoo Man Asks Hearing

PAW PAW — A Kalamazoo man was released on his own recognizance Friday following arraignment in Van Buren Seventh district court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Larry Raderstorff, 34, demanded a preliminary examination on the charge. The exam was set for next Wednesday.

Smash-Grab Theft Told In Dowagiac

DOWAGIAC — Thieves smashed out a display window at the Curtis TV shop here about 12:45 a.m. this morning and ran off with two portable television sets valued at $700, according to Dowagiac police.

Officers said the theft was reported by a tenant living above the store at 113 Pennsylvania avenue who said he looked out when he heard the glass crash, but the thieves had already gone.

Flexible Plan Suits Family's Changing Needs

By JOHN D. BLOODGOOD, Architect

HOUSE DESIGN 7615: When you build today, think about tomorrow and select a plan, such as this one, that's flexible for changing family needs. The main level is for starters, with two bedrooms, living and dining areas, spacious kitchen-breakfast room. Upstairs, you can finish two-dorm-sized bedrooms and another bath later. In the beginning, bedroom No. 4 could serve a young couple as a den, then a nursery, then revert to a den when children move upstairs, possibly serve as a bedroom again for a grandparent. The full basement, which offers generous storage space, can be developed into a recreation room, laundry, etc.

POTATOES

The soil temperature at four inches should be at least 45° before potatoes are planted. Use certified seed and for best results plant whole or uncut.

DESERT HOMES

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Giant saguaro cactuses serve as desert condominiums. Gila woodpeckers and gilded flickers peck out nest-size caves.

seed pieces 1½-2¼ inches in diameter. Larger seed should be cut. If the seed is cut, make blocky pieces about 2 ounces in size with two active eyes. Plant seed three inches deep and about 10-12 inches in the row. After the plants emerge and they begin to grow, they can be killed as needed.

Suggested varieties are: Early — Norland, On Away; Medium maturity — Superior, Norchip, Kennebec; Late — Katahdin, Sebago. The Russet Burbank or Idaho potato is harder to grow because it gets knobby when moisture is uneven during the growing season.

WHERE?

GROUND MOLES

Ground moles eat grubs and worms in the soil. They tear up the lawn looking for them. Chloroform applied to the lawn soil will kill much of this mole food and the mole will go to your neighbors for food. Traps can also be used but be sure that the soil is moist enough for the harpoon to penetrate.

Shrubs Can Fill A Host Of Roles

WASHINGTON — Flowering shrubs are multi-purpose plants, says the American Association of Nurserymen.

They can be used singly or in rows; can be decorative borders or backgrounds; can cover a fence or be a fence; can create privacy, prevent soil erosion and block drifting snow — plus provide a display of flowers annually.

Hagar Projects Cover A Broad Spectrum

Twenty-one permits, representing an estimated $91,650 in construction projects, were issued during the first three months of 1978 by Hagar Township Building Inspector Floyd Elson.

Issued permits were: William Leedy, 4640 Hagar Shore road, convert garage into family room, estimated cost, $1,500; Coloma Construction company, 5608 Wilson road, Coloma, install block foundation under house for R&J Crowley, 8304 Harding street, Lake Michigan Beach, $600; Justine Anzalone, 8048 Central avenue Coloma, remodel upstairs into living quarters, $1,000.

Robert Miller, 6219 Washington, Coloma, winterize utility room, add partial new roof, new wiring, $500; George Nuffke, 3833 Kerlikowske road, construct site and feed barn, $9,500; Riley McIntosh, Milpah Park road, erect 24 by 30-foot bi-level frame house, east side of Branderick road, $29,000.

H. Van Dongen, 3572 US-33, Benton Harbor, apply roof on carport and breezeway, $800; Dae's Do-All repair shop, 611 Ansley drive, St. Joseph, new 24 by 70-foot house, for Tony Argondelis in Harrington Heights, $20,000; Walter Mosberg, 2717 Kerlikowske road, erect three-car garage, $4,000.

Ralph Dewey, 163 Morrison, Coloma, demolish house on south side of Birney road, in east Dae's Do-All repair shop 611 Ansley drive, St. Joseph, construct 24 by 72 foot house, with garage for Tony Argondelis in Cruising Estates, $20,000; Charles Flynn, Elk Grove Village, Ill.; panel walls, insulation, general repairs for office building at 4922 US-33, $300, and add dormer over garage, same location, $1,000.

POTATOES

The soil temperature at four inches should be at least 45° before potatoes are planted. Use certified seed and for best results plant whole or uncut seed pieces 1 1/2-2 1/4 inches in diameter. Larger seed should be cut. If the seed is cut, make blocky pieces about 2 ounces in size with two active eyes. Plant seed three inches deep and about 10-12 inches in the row. After the plants emerge and they begin to grow, they can be killed as needed. Suggested varieties are: Early — Norland, On Away; Medium maturity — Superior, Norchip, Kennebec; Late — Katahdin, Sebago. The Russet Burbank or Idaho potato is harder to grow because it gets knobby when moisture is uneven during the growing season.

WHERE?

GROUND MOLES

Ground moles eat grubs and worms in the soil. They tear up the lawn looking for them. Chlordane applied to the lawn soil will kill much of this mole food and the mole will go to your neighbors for food. Traps can also be used but be sure that the soil is moist enough for the harpoon to penetrate.

Shrubs Can Fill A Host Of Roles

WASHINGTON — Flowering shrubs are multi-purpose plants, says the American Association of Nurserymen.

They can be used singly or in rows; can be decorative borders or backgrounds; can cover a fence or be a fence; can create privacy, prevent soil erosion and block drifting snow — plus provide a display of flowers annually.

Feminists Open Own Club In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) -- A one-of-a-kind Detroit women's club was reborn Friday with a new name, new interior and a whole new set of values.

Speeches by Ms. Magazine editor Gloria Steinem and other feminists inaugurated the Women's Feminist City Club, which is being called the largest feminist economic undertaking in the nation.

The old downtown building was formerly the Women's City Club, patronized mostly by the wives of wealthy Detroit men.

The new center will house six retail shops, all operated and owned by women, and the Feminist Credit Union. Other facilities at the club include a bar and cafe, 50 sleeping rooms, a swimming pool, meeting rooms and a medical clinic.

The clinic will be staffed by physicians and para-professionals and will offer abortions, vasectomies, gynecological examinations, birth control prescriptions and mental health services.

Women who pay the $100 a year membership fee will get bar and cafe privileges (men will be allowed only when escorted by a member), discounts in the retail boutiques and use of the club's pool and facilities.

"Frankly, we expect to be inundated with membership applications," said one official. The feminists paid $200,000 for the building with the money coming from a national alliance of businesses called the Feminist Economic Network (FEN).

"This is the biggest financial undertaking the feminist movement has ever embarked upon," said FEN Director Laura Brown of Oakland, Calif. "This is the beginning of the feminist economic revolution."

Another $50,000 has been spent for repairs and redecorating, a spokeswoman said.

Membership fees and the lease money from the businesses will support the venture, along with proceeds from renting club facilities. Club officials say they have discussed reducing the membership rate to bring in a more diverse group of women and avoid the stereotype of feminism as a white, middle-class, college-educated movement.

The club will have women security guards, some of them armed, and will provide an escort service to and from the club and nearby parking lots.

Founders say the club will provide a place for women to go for a drink alone without being harassed by men. It is also intended to demonstrate that feminism and capitalism can coexist.

"We're not going to rip women off, certainly," Ms. Dixon said. "But we believe we can do a lot better job for women if we have the money to do things right."

NOTICE
SERVICES FOR PERSONS
UNABLE TO PAY
THEREFORE

Berrien County Health Department, 790 Pipestone, Benton Harbor, Michigan 49022, has notified that in the current fiscal period from January 1, 1976 to December 31, 1976, it will not exclude any person from admission on the grounds that such person is unable to pay for needed services, and that it will make available to each person so admitted services provided by the facility without charge or at a charge which does not exceed such person's ability to pay therefor.

The service set out above meet the presumptive compliance guidelines of the Federal regulations.

Copies of the criteria used for identifying persons unable to pay for services may be obtained from Michigan Department of Public Health.

Records and documents on the basis of which the above decision was established are available for public inspection at 4223 North Logan Street, Lansing, Michigan between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. on regular business days.

Ask Them Yourself

Want to ask a famous person a question? Send the question on a postcard, to "Ask," Family Weekly, 641 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022. We'll pay $5 for published questions. Sorry, we can't answer others.

FOR ANN LANDERS

Do you feel you lost the confidence of your readers after your own marital problem?—Mary Ellen Wallace, Los Angeles, Calif.

● Reader response to my divorce was incredibly supportive and heartwarming. My readers (over 10,000 of them) let me know they loved me and that, if anything, my split-up made me more "human." As one put it: "Dentists do get cavities and doctors become sick." I never realized how many beautiful people there were in the world until I announced my divorce.

FOR DENNIS WEAVER

How long have you been a vegetarian?—Marie Militello, Utica, N.Y.

● Since about 15 years ago, when I heard that the drug injected into cattle (to fatten them up) caused cancer in rats but didn't harm humans. I didn't like the idea. Took it personally, in fact, and said to heck with it. I gave up meat then and there and so did my family.

FOR ED McMAHON

How do you manage to give that phony laugh every time Johnny Carson does his monologue at the beginning of the show? I realize that you have a good financial deal, but you still must work hard to force that laugh.—William Connolly, Bridgeport, Conn.

● The simple answer is that I don't have to force any laughs. You see, I don't hear the monologue until the audience hears it, and so it is as new to me as it is to the people watching in the studio and at home.

FOR JOE NAMATH

Your campaign to get yourself traded to the Los Angeles Rams bewilders some of us. What can you, a sore-kneed quarterback whose best days are behind him, bring to a team with two young quarterbacks who have won a lot of games for the Rams the last two years?—John Richardson, Canton, Ohio

● I can bring them an instant Super Bowl championship which they won't get next year playing either one of their present quarterbacks.

FOR JEAN STAPLETON

Are you as domesticated in real life as you are as Edith Bunker?—T.R., Flint, Mich.

● No, because I don't really have that much time. I'm a good housekeeper and a pretty good cook, but find it quicker and easier (also healthier) to make braided things. I wish I were more creative, though. I envy all those women who stitch away and produce marvelous creations with their hands. I'm all thumbs. I can't make anything functional or interesting. Flops emerge from my fingers.

FOR KATE SMITH

Who is your favorite singer?—S.T., Cumberland, Md.

● I like them all. Every singer is tops with me. But these days the one who immediately comes to mind is John Denver. The minute he opens his mouth, you can see he enjoys what he's doing. That's what I like to see—people enjoying their work!

FOR REP. JOHN E. MOSS

Chairman of the Oversight and Investigations Subcommittee. What was the best suggestion (at your hearings) for cutting down on the number of operations performed on patients?—A.K., Flushing, N.Y.

● The recommendation that independent and objective second consultations by an expert doctor be required before a patient undergoes surgery. This would apply particularly to tonsillectomies, hysterectomies and other elective procedures.

Did the Vatican or any part of the Catholic Church secretly have anything to do with the recent Watergate scandal?—Mrs. Emilie Rooney, Glendale, N.Y.

● No way. Not generally known, however, is the fact that the Watergate office and apartment complex in Washington, D.C., was built by Società Generale Immobiliare, a Rome-based company, and that the Vatican owned 22 percent of the company's stock when the complex was built.

FOR JERRY LEWIS

Have your bizarre antics ever embarrassed your wife?—Mrs. John Rogers, Atlantic City, N.J.

● If I have ever embarrassed Patti, she loves me too much to take me to task for it, and I love her too much over to embarrass her wittingly. Neither one of us has claims to insensitivity.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

What is Debbie Reynolds's marital status now?—S.W., Florence, S.C.

● Debbie became Mrs. Harry Karl in 1960, and divorced her husband 13 years later; she was first married to Eddie Fisher (1953-1959). There are no men around right now, at least no one of a serious nature. Says Debbie: "Marriage doesn't interest me at the moment. Maybe later on, if I find someone with whom I'd like to spend the rest of my life." Her main concern is her children: Carrie, 19, and Todd, 18 (their father is Eddie Fisher). Even though Carrie will soon have her own apartment and Todd will go off to college next year (they're still living with their mother), Debbie wants to be with them as much as she can. "I lack nothing emotionally or financially. I'm surrounded by love and warmth," says Debbie.

- Reader response to my divorce was incredibly supportive and heartwarming. My readers (over 10,000 of them) let me know they loved me and that, if anything, my split-up made me more "human." As one put it: "Dentists do get cavities and doctors become sick." I never realized how many beautiful people there were in the world until I announced my divorce.

FOR DENNIS WEAVER

How long have you been a vegetarian?—Marie Militello, Utica, N.Y.

- Since about 15 years ago when I heard that the drug injected into cattle (to fatten them up) caused cancer in rats but didn't harm humans. I didn't like the idea. Took it personally, in fact, and said to heck with it. I gave up meat then and there and so did my family.

FOR ED McMAHON

How do you manage to give that phony laugh every time Johnny Carson does his monologue at the beginning of the show? I realize that you have a good financial deal, but you still must work hard to force that laugh.—William Connolly, Bridgeport, Conn.

- The simple answer is that I don't have to force any laughs. You see, I don't hear the monologue until the audience hears it, and so it is as new to me as it is to the people watching in the studio and at home.

FOR JOE NAMATH

Your campaign to get yourself traded to the Los Angeles Rams bewilders some of us. What can you, a sore-kneed quarterback whose best days are behind him, bring to a team with two young quarterbacks who have won a lot of games for the Rams the last two years?—John Richardson, Canton, Ohio

- I can bring them an instant Super Bowl championship which they won't get next year playing either one of their present quarterbacks.

FOR JEAN STAPLETON

Are you as domesticated in real life as you are as Edith Bunker?—T.R., Flint, Mich.

- No, because I don't really have that much time. I'm a good housekeeper and a pretty good cook, but find it quicker and easier (also healthier) to make broiled things. I wish I were more creative, though. I envy all those women who stitch away and produce marvelous creations with their hands. I'm all thumbs. I can't make anything functional or interesting. Flops emerge from my fingers.

FOR KATE SMITH

Who is your favorite singer?—S.T., Cumberland, Md.

- I like them all. Every singer is tops with me. But these days the one who immediately comes to mind is John Denver. The minute he opens his mouth, you can see he enjoys what he's doing. That's what I like to see—people enjoying their work!

FOR REP. JOHN E. MOSS

Chairman of the Oversight and Investigations Subcommittee
What was the best suggestion (at your hearings) for cutting down on the number of operations performed on patients?—A.K., Flushing, N.Y.

- The recommendation that independent and objective second consultations by an expert doctor be required before a patient undergoes surgery. This would apply particularly to tonsillectomies, hysterectomies and other elective procedures.

Did the Vatican or any part of the Catholic Church secretly have anything to do with the recent Watergate scandal?—Mrs. Emilie Rooney, Glendale, N.Y.

- No way. Not generally known, however, is the fact that the Watergate office and apartment complex in Washington, D.C., was built by Societa Generale Immobiliare, a Rome-based company, and that the Vatican owned 22 percent of the company's stock when the complex was built.

FOR JERRY LEWIS

Have your bizarre antics ever embarrassed your wife?—Mrs. John Rogers, Atlantic City, N.J.

- If I have ever embarrassed Patti, she loves me too much to take me to task for it, and I love her too much ever to embarrass her wittingly. Neither one of us has claims to insensitivity.

FOR THE "ASK THEM YOURSELF" EDITOR

What is Debbie Reynolds's marital status now?—S.W. Florence, S.C.

- Debbie became Mrs. Harry Karl in 1960, and divorced her husband 13 years later; she was first married to Eddie Fisher (1955-1959). There are no men around right now, at least no one of a serious nature. Says Debbie: "Marriage doesn't interest me at the moment. Maybe later on, if I find someone with whom I'd like to spend the rest of my life." Her main concern is her children: Carrie, 19, and Todd, 18 (their father is Eddie Fisher). Even though Carrie will soon have her own apartment and Todd will go off to college next year (they're still living with their mother), Debbie wants to be with them as much as she can. "I lack nothing emotionally or financially. I'm surrounded by love and warmth," says Debbie.

All of Family Love Is Not Loving:

One Father's View of the Seesawing Emotions Every Family Experiences

By Wyatt Cooper

Is yours a happy family? Wait. Don't answer yet. Let's think about it, look at it from several angles. Let's examine it together and make up our minds so that we may not reach the end of our time together without having arrived at a definitive answer.

It is highly impertinent of me to blurt out such a question without warning or preamble on an innocent weekend morning when we're all on our best behavior, looking forward to spending a family day together as peacefully as possible. If I were crass enough to ask you publicly, of course, on TV, say, or standing up in church in front of all your friends, you'd have no choice but to reply with considerable vigor, even indignation, "Why, certainly we are!" Naturally, if that were the occasion, you would, by the tone of your voice, dismiss any possibility that there could exist any flaw, any conflict, or any apprehension in your domestic arrangement. Each of us wishes to put the best face on things when others are watching. We have a perfect right to do so. A right? More like an obligation, I should think. It is none of my business, and I should assume that all the folks at your house live together as serenely and as cheerfully as you all appeared in the photograph on your Christmas card last yuletide, where even the dog was smiling as guilelessly as if he'd never quarreled with a cat in his life.

Is yours a happy family?

Well, if I were your oldest friend, had been your roommate at school and we had participated in late-night discussions, exchanging confidences about our hopes, dreams, ideals and sensual experiments; if we hadn't seen each other for a long time, were totally alone, with absolutely no possibility of being overheard, and if I had just confessed to you my own unhappiness, and you were feeling vulnerable about some misunderstanding over unpaid bills, garbage that had not been removed from the kitchen, coffee grounds that had gotten wrapped up in the sports section before anybody had had a chance to read it, is it possible that you might either burst into tears or break into swearing and start pounding the table, shouting,

"We are blenders of whirling emotions—anger, love, remorse, guilt, joy, sweetness, resentments, sulks—all tumbling about like the ingredients of the world's most exotic recipe, and sorting them out is more than most of us can do."

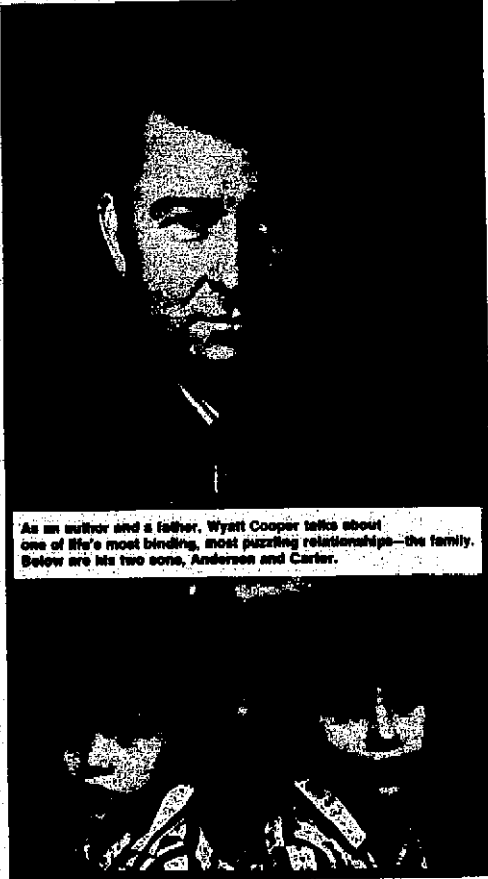

ing. "Miserable! Miserable! Miserable!" Probably not. Such scenes probably never occur in your life. But there are other homes, not too far from yours, in which worse things have occurred, are occurring even as you read this or will occur at some time in the near future, and it may be that one of the parties to such a scene will some day call on you for advice. So let us, for the sake of your friend, proceed as if we were examining your own life.

Is yours a happy family?

In the first place, whatever your reply and however convinced you may be of your happiness or unhappiness, you may be quite wrong. We are not necessarily the best judges of our own happiness quotients and rarely know whether we're blissful, anguished or a combination of both. We have to realize that nobody—not your best friend or worst enemy, not President Ford or the Queen of England—has a life, either individual or marital, that is total joy or total hell. Well, maybe somebody has. But for the likes of you and me, our lives are a jumble of happiness and unhappiness, as untidy as a bathroom closet. All of us are blenders of whirling emotions—anger, love, remorse, guilt, joy, sweetness, resentments, sulks—all tumbling about like the ingredients of the world's most exotic recipe, and sorting them out is more than most of us can do. We have our good points and our poor ones, our highs and our lows, and we don't always know which is which.

What am I saying? Do I really mean that we don't always know whether we're happy or not? That's exactly what I mean. How are we to judge? We generally go by comparisons. And how much of the truth about other people's lives do we know? They're busy showing us their best faces, too, remember, and we're prone to think everybody else is what he seems to be. We are likely to think that we are the only persons with secret sorrows, secret pains.

As an author and a father, Wyatt Cooper talks about one of life's most binding, most puzzling relationships—the family. Below are his two sons, Anderson and Carter.

"When we are children, it's hard to understand how we can be angry with someone and love him at the same time. When we grow up, it isn't much easier because by that time we're supposed to have things sorted out."

Only we live with those secret failings; only we harbor unspeakable thoughts, dangerous and wild midnight wishes. And we are all amazed, with alarming frequency, when an apparently perfect couple announces that they're splitting up. "What went wrong?" we ask, as if anything "wrong" in the relationship must be new, not something that was a part of it all along.

I used to be terribly ashamed that my parents had ugly arguments. (You couldn't really call them arguments since Papa did all the shouting. Mama's participation consisted of going about her business in absolute silence, which drove him deeper and deeper into rage. On those few times that she yelled back, the fight ended immediately. I'm 48 years old now and still don't know why she replied so rarely. For all I know, the situation may have been a great source of happiness for them both.) I thought that ours was the only house in which such things went on. All of Family Love Is Not Loving:

One Father's View of the Seesawing Emotions Every Family Experiences

By Wyatt Cooper

Is yours a happy family?

Wait. Don't answer yet. Let's think about it, look at it from several angles. Let's examine it together and make up our minds so that we may not reach the end of our time together without having arrived at a definitive answer.

It is highly impertinent of me to blurt out such a question without warning or preamble on an innocent weekend morning when we're all on our best behavior, looking forward to spending a family day together as peacefully as possible. If I were crass enough to ask you publicly, of course, on TV, say, or standing up in church in front of all your friends, you'd have no choice but to reply with considerable vigor, even indignation, "Why, certainly we are!" Naturally, if that were the occasion, you would, by the tone of your voice, dismiss any possibility that there could exist any flaw, any conflict, or any apprehension in your domestic arrangement. Each of us wishes to put the best face on things when others are watching. We have a perfect right to do so. A right? More like an obligation, I should think. It is none of my business, and I should assume that all the folks at your house live together as serenely and as cheerfully as you all appeared in the photograph on your Christmas card last yuletide, where even the dog was smiling as guilelessly as if he'd never quarreled with a cat in his life. Is yours a happy family?

Well, if I were your oldest friend, had been your roommate at school and we had participated in late-night discussions, exchanging confidences about our hopes, dreams, ideals and sensual experiments; if we hadn't seen each other for a long time, were totally alone, with absolutely no possibility of being overheard, and if I had just confessed to you my own unhappiness, and you were feeling vulnerable about some misunderstanding over unpaid bills, garbage that had not been removed from the kitchen, coffee grounds that had gotten wrapped up in the sports section before anybody had had a chance to read it, is it possible that you might either burst into tears or break into swearing and start pounding the table, shout-

"We are blenders of whirling emotions—anger, love, remorse, guilt, joy, sweetness, resentments, sulks—all tumbling about like the ingredients of the world's most exotic recipe, and sorting them out is more than most of us can do."

ing, "Miserable! Miserable! Miserable!" Probably not. Such scenes probably never occur in your life. But there are other homes, not too far from yours, in which worse things have occurred, are occurring even as you read this or will occur at some time in the near future, and it may be that one of the parties to such a scene will some day call on you for advice. So let us, for the sake of your friend, proceed as if we were examining your own life.

Is yours a happy family?

In the first place, whatever your reply and however convinced you may be of your happiness or unhappiness, you may be quite wrong. We are not necessarily the best judges of our own happiness quotients and rarely know whether we're blissful, anguished or a combination of both. We have to realize that nobody—not your best friend or worst enemy, not President Ford or the Queen of England—has a life, either individual or marital, that is total joy or total hell. Well, maybe somebody has. But for the likes of you and me, our lives are a jumble of happiness and unhappiness, as untidy as a bathroom closet. All of us are blenders of whirling emotions—anger, love, remorse, guilt, joy, sweetness, resentments, sulks—all tumbling about like the ingredients of the world's most exotic recipe, and sorting them out is more than most of us can do. We have our good points and our poor ones, our highs and our lows, and we don't always know which is which.

What am I saying? Do I really mean that we don't always know whether we're happy or not? That's exactly what I mean. How are we to judge? We generally go by comparisons. And how much of the truth about other people's lives do we know? They're busy showing us their best faces, too, remember, and we're prone to think everybody else is what he seems to be. We are likely to think that we are the only persons with secret sorrows, secret pains.

As an author and a father, Wyatt Cooper talks about one of life's most binding, most puzzling relationships—the family. Below are his two sons, Anderson and Carter.

"When we are children, it's hard to understand how we can be angry with someone and love him at the same time. When we grow up, it isn't much easier because by that time we're supposed to have things sorted out."

Only we live with those secret failings; only we harbor unspeakable thoughts, dangerous and wild midnight wishes. And we are all amazed, with alarming frequency, when an apparently perfect couple announces that they're splitting up. "What went wrong?" we ask, as if anything "wrong" in the relationship must be new, not something that was a part of it all along.

I used to be terribly ashamed that my parents had ugly arguments. (You couldn't really call them arguments since Papa did all the shouting. Mama's participation consisted of going about her business in absolute silence, which drove him deeper and deeper into rage. On those few times that she yelled back, the fight ended immediately. I'm 48 years old now and still don't know why she replied so rarely. For all I know, the situation may have been a great source of happiness for them both.) I thought that ours was the only house in which such things went on. Consider my astonishment when the preacher's son told me that his parents had really monumental ones! From then on I couldn't take my eyes off the pair at church, all clean and starched and prayerful, halos firmly in place. Was it possible that an hour before they'd been yelling at each other over a strip of burnt bacon?

We're always thinking everybody else has it good except us. Well, I've been around a little, and nobody has it too easy. We're all inclined to feel locked in and alone with the secret of what we take to be our singular failure. We may not be the failures we think ourselves to be.

Another thing—today's discomfort, today's complaint, may well be the very source of tomorrow's nostalgia. Talk to a rich man and see if he doesn't tell you that the happiest days of his life were the tough ones of his early struggles. (I'm not necessarily saying that it's true. I'm only telling you that's what he would say.) If you don't have a rich man handy, ask yourself what you remember most fondly from your youth and see if there isn't some discomfort in it.

A friend of mine had an awful father who used to make scenes in restaurants. He would shout at the waiters. They had put him in a draft and tables would have to be moved. The soup was cold, the wine corked, the meat not fresh and cooked too little on one side and too much on the other. Everything got sent back—several times. And his family would be humiliated. My friend complained endlessly about his father's horrendous performance, dreaded any outing with him. Well, the old man died at last (of apoplexy, naturally), and I thought my friend would be vastly relieved. Wrong. He can hardly bear to go to a restaurant. It just doesn't seem right without Papa there.

It's more than that, deeper than that. Our feelings are terribly complicated toward anybody we love, whether it's our parents, our mates, children or friends. What we feel for others gives them some power over us; our feelings render us vulnerable, subject to injury, and we are afraid, not only of the danger to our feelings but of our own power to inflict wounds.

At this point I shall introduce a word you already know: "ambivalence"—and I don't have to tell you it means the coexistence of opposite and conflicting feelings about the same person or object. Many people know what the word means, but I'm not sure that all of them realize the extent to

At 16, I was so fat, I had to wear maternity clothes.

By Cheryl Bruhn—as told to Ruth L. McCarthy

My poor mother! She tried just about everything to get me to lose weight. Talks with our family doctor, reducing pills, the Stillman diet, the Atkins regime, sessions at Weight Watchers, promises of beautiful clothes—even insults about my fat. But all her efforts ended in my eating more. So by the time I was 16 years old, I weighed 210 pounds.

Actually I started building up my layers of fat at the age of 12. I put enough cookies, candy and ice cream on my hips, stomach and thighs to make me waddle like a duck. My twin-brother, Joe, was so ashamed of the way I looked, he wouldn't even walk with me. And as for gym class, it threw me into a panic every week. We wore shorts and I hated the thought of everybody staring at me.

Then came the time of my eighth grade graduation. I had such a terrible time finding a dress that Mom and I had to go to every store in Phoenix, Arizona (near my home in Scottsdale). But not even a girdle could get me into anything, except old-lady styles. That's when a friend of my mother's suggested a maternity shop. I was so heartbroken, I cried. But that's where I found my dress.

With all that grief I still didn't learn to control my appetite. And freshman year in high school, I became totally introverted. It wasn't until sophomore year that I realized nobody could change my life but me. And to do that I had to lose weight.

Fortunately, right after one of those thoughtful moments, I saw a woman on television talking about Ayds® Reducing Plan Candy. Since Ayds contained no drugs, I went to the drugstore and bought some of the chewy vanilla caramel kind. I didn't tell Mom what I'd done, because I didn't want to disappoint her again.

Well, I took Ayds as directed and they really helped me cut down on what I ate. By the third week on the Ayds plan, I'd lost nearly eight pounds. That's when I told my mother. I don't know who was more excited—she or I!

By the middle of the summer, I'd lost 50 pounds on the Ayds plan. A neighbor, who'd watched me lose, said to my mother: "She's a new girl! As soon as the weight came off, her mouth opened up." And she was right. I was no longer an introvert.

When I went back to school in the fall, I was even slimmer. If I do say so myself, I created quite a sensation that first day. My science teacher didn't even recognize me. But my brother's friends sure noticed me. Of course, now that I'm 125 pounds, Joe is proud to be seen with me—particularly since I have a whole new junior-size wardrobe.

Now there's just one thing I want to say for the benefit of any young people with a weight problem. You have to stop finding excuses for not losing weight. When you do, as I did at 16, there's no better or more pleasant way to take off pounds than on the Ayds plan.

ARTHUR ASHE: A Slow and Careful Game Plan Pays Off

Although Ashe supports programs for better race relations, he opposes militant behavior and tactics. He was severely criticized by some blacks when he accepted an invitation to play in South Africa. His contention is that he broke the color line by playing there before integrated audiences. He's also regarded it as a "privilege" to play for his country in Davis Cup matches. (He's won 26 matches against only four losses in Davis Cup competition for the U.S.) Ashe publicly criticized Connors when Connors refused to play in the Davis Cup in 1974, and the strained feelings between the two made their Wimbledon match seem like a grudge fight. Not a power hitter, Ashe wins his matches by skillfully mixing his shots and forcing his opponents into errors. He is very methodical about planning all his moves before the match starts. He actually writes down a game plan on notebook paper before each match, then studies the plan and carefully sticks to it. . . . A bachelor, Ashe maintains an apartment in New York, an office in Washington and a residence at the Doral Club in Florida. Dole invites you and your family to join our "It's a Natural" game for naturally exciting prizes!

Grand Prize: Two week vacation for a family of four, at a United States or Canadian Natural Wonder area — plus $5000 cash! Imagine the fun of spending two weeks at a "Natural Wonder" vacation area of your choice in the U.S. or Canada. Perhaps you'll choose the rugged excitement of Yellowstone National Park — or Diamond Head in Hawaii — or the splendor of a national seashore. Dole will provide first class air transportation and two weeks hotel accommodations for four members of your family and $5000 cash.

Official Rules

1. On an official entry blank, correctly identify and name the natural scenic wonder shown in this photograph. Entry blanks are available where you buy Dole bananas. OR identify this "Natural Wonder" on a plain piece of paper, along with your name, address and zip code. NOTE: THIS NATURAL WONDER IS IDENTIFIED ON A SPECIAL DOLE DISPLAY IN THE PRODUCE DEPARTMENTS OF PARTICIPATING STORES. LOOK FOR IT! Also enclose with your entry two Dole stickers found on Dole bananas OR hand-print the words "DOLE BANANAS" in block letters on a 2" x 3" piece of paper. No purchase necessary. Mail your entry to DOLE BANANA "IT'S A NATURAL" GAME, P.O. Box 41, New York, New York 10024. Enter as often as you like, but each entry must be mailed separately and received by June 15, 1976.
2. Winners will be selected in random drawings conducted by Maritz Research. Only entries correctly identifying the Natural Wonder will be eligible to win prizes. All winners will be notified by mail. Only one prize per family will be awarded. Any applicable taxes are to be paid by the prize winner. Some prizes may be subject to color and model availability.
3. Game open to all residents of the United States and Canada except employees of Castle & Cooke, Inc. and their families, advertising agencies, Maritz-Kane, Inc. and its printing and production agencies.
4. Game offer subject to all Federal, State and any local or restrictive laws and regulations. Void in Missouri and wherever else prohibited by law. Canadian winners whose names are drawn will be required to answer an additional mail question related to the subject of this game in order to win.
5. For list of winners, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to P.O. Box 71, New York, New York 10046.
6. Those who are unable to find a Dole banana display identifying the natural scenic wonder may obtain the correct answer by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to P.O. Box 273, New York, New York 10024.
7. The "Special Surprise" bonus checks in fourth prize bifolds will be awarded as follows: The first five winners in the category will receive $100 each, the next ten winners will receive $50 each, the next twenty winners will receive $20 each and the remaining 950 winners will receive $5 each.

The correct identity of this "natural wonder" is on the Dole banana display at participating stores.

baking chocolate

1. Preheat oven to 300°F. Grease a 10-inch tube pan or large Bundt pan.

2. In large bowl, with electric mixer set at medium speed, beat shortening until creamy. Gradually add sugar, beating until mixture is well-mixed.

3. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat after each addition. Blend in vanilla.

4. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Add in thirds to sugar-egg mixture alternately with buttermilk, (begin and end with flour mixture).

5. At low speed, add chocolate, mixing until well-blended. Pour batter evenly into prepared pan.

6. Bake for about 1½ hours or until cake tester inserted into center of cake comes out clean.

7. Cool for 10 minutes on rack in pan. Invert cake on rack to cool completely. Frost if desired (see frosting recipe below). Makes 12 servings

Dark Chocolate Frosting

unsweetened baking chocolate

2 tablespoons butter or peaks form. Gradually add remaining 3 tablespoons sugar. Continue beating until stiff peaks form.

5. Pour half of coffee mixture into prepared pastry shell.

6. Peel and slice bananas and make a layer of banana slices over filling in pastry shell. Cover with remaining filling.

7. Chill until gelatin sets. To serve, garnish with additional banana slices.

Makes 6 to 8 servings

4 packets (1 oz. each) premelts, unsweetened
baking chocolate

1. Preheat oven to 300°F. Grease a 10-inch tube pan or large Bundt pan.

2. In large bowl, with electric mixer set at medium speed, beat shortening until creamy. Gradually add sugar, beating until mixture is well-mixed.

3. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat after each addition. Blend in vanilla.

4. Sift together flour, baking soda and salt. Add in thirds to sugar-egg mixture alternately with buttermilk (begin and end with flour mixture).

5. At low speed, add chocolate, mixing until well-blended. Pour batter evenly into prepared pan.

6. Bake for about 1½ hours or until cake tester inserted into center of cake comes out clean.

7. Cool for 10 minutes on rack in pan. Invert cake on rack to cool completely. Frost if desired (see frosting recipe below). Makes 12 servings

Dark Chocolate Frosting

2 squares (1 oz. each) unsweetened baking
chocolate

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

3 tablespoons water

1 cup confectioners' sugar

1. Melt chocolate in small saucepan over very low heat. Add butter and water and stir until smooth.

2. Remove from heat, stir in confectioners' sugar and beat with wire whisk, spoon or electric mixer until smooth.

3. Pour frosting on cake, allowing it to drip naturally, to make a thick, shiny glaze. Makes 1 cup

"FAT DESTROYER FOODS"!

Dear Friend:

A fascinating concept has now been presented by a well-known diet expert—in a new book—to enable dieters to continue eating as much or as frequently as they did before, while slimming down!

It's the exciting news that certain foods destroy fat! (See page 10 for this electrifying idea—then read the whole story!) FORGET ABOUT CALORIES, says Sidney Petrie. As long as you eat "Fat-Destroyer Foods," you may, depending on your own metabolism, eat as much as 3,000 calories a day! All kinds of delicious treats while excess weight simply melts off your body!

Yes, you must EAT the substance found in "Fat-Destroyer Foods," a substance that burns away fat! In the words of one medical doctor, "By scientifically adjusting the body's metabolic processes, "Fat-Destroyer Foods" seem to melt away pound after pound . . .

What this means to you is this: "Fat-Destroyer Foods" actually force excess fat—hundreds and hundreds of extra calories a day—OUT OF YOUR BODY, says Petrie. And, because you must eat them on this weight-loss plan, unwanted pounds disappear fast—and you're never really hungry! Petrie says—

EAT "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" TILL YOU GROAN AND STILL LOSE WEIGHT!

Stick to "Fat-Destroyer Foods," and you'll lose weight—it's virtually automatic—says Petrie! And what foods!!!

EAT-ALL-YOU-WANT portions of . . . Cheeseburgers . . . Veal Parmigiana . . . Beef Stroganoff . . . Canadian Bacon . . . Eggs Benedict (fried or with mushrooms) . . . Cheese (the whole delicatessen is yours) . . . Barbequed Spareribs . . . Link Sausages . . . Butter, Sauces, Gravies . . . Hungarian Goulash . . . and much more!

GENEROUS, MOUTH-WATERING HELPINGS of Ice Cream . . . Butterscotch Pudding . . . Caramel Custard . . . Fruit-Flavored Gelatin . . . Vanilla Pudding . . . Apple sauce Chocolate Blanc Mange . . . Cheese Cake . . . Whipped Cream Desserts . . . washed down with goblets of red wine . . . coffee breaks . . . frequent snacks . . . drinks . . . and much, much more . . . Chopped herring, Gefilte Fish . . . BLTs . . . blackberries . . . strawberries . . . blueberries . . . cherries . . . dates . . . figs . . . AND STILL THAT'S JUST THE BEGINNING!

But there are certain foods you must avoid, reports the author, at least until you're all slimmed down to your ideal weight (it need not be a permanent sacrifice)!

A SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY THAT CAN CHANGE YOUR LIFE!

We all know some lucky person who can "eat like a horse" and never gain a pound! What has this person got that you haven't? That's what Sidney Petrie, a diet specialist who has treated thousands of overweight people, wanted to know.

"Then I made a fortuitous discovery," says Petrie. "Certain foods destroy fat!" he says. Other foods, in excess, are stored as fat. But not "Fat-Destroyer Foods," says Petrie. Excess "Fat-Destroyer Foods" are thrown off as waste. More important—in the absence of those other foods—"Fat-Destroyers" seem to drag body fat away, he says! "You can actually see evidence of your own fat going down the drain."

This is the scientific fact that is now revolutionizing the eating habits of thousands! "Fat-Destroyer Foods" are EAT-ALL-YOU-WANT foods—Petrie adds. There are MORE of them to choose from! They encourage less hunger—less water retention! They are go-go-go foods!

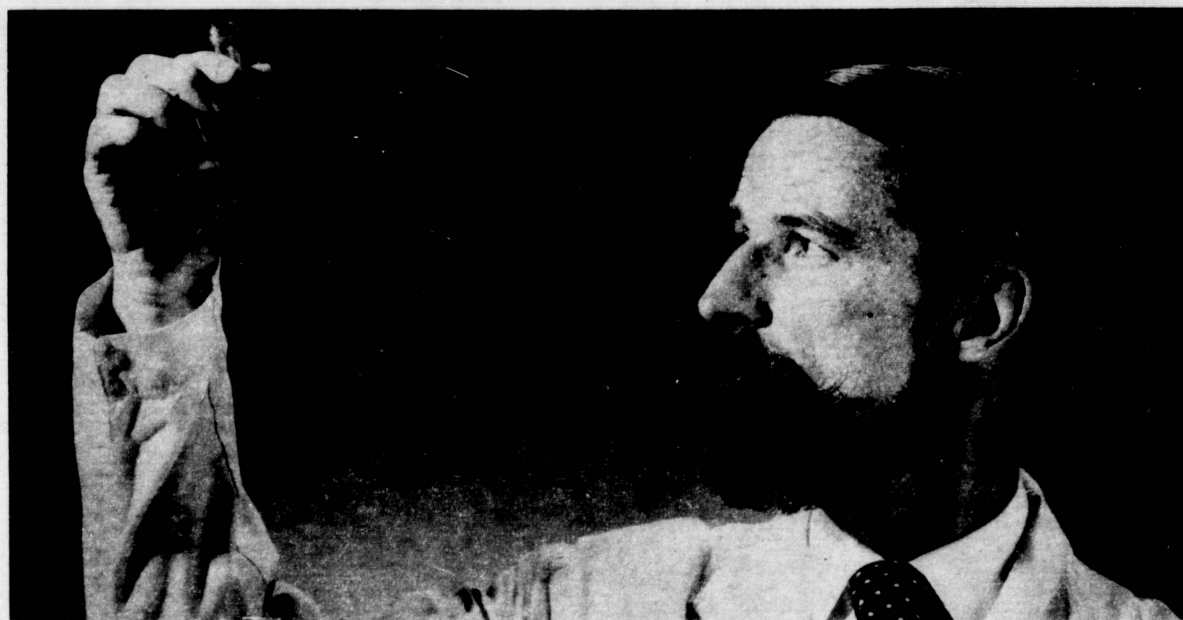

Other foods contain "fat hooks," says Petrie, that can literally hang excess fat on you. They contain "empty calories"—lacking vital nutrients the body needs. You could eat 5,000 calories a day of them and feel weak, says Petrie. And they PREVENT WEIGHT LOSS.

Stick to "Fat-Destroyer Foods," says Petrie. STUFF YOURSELF ON THEM, he says, without guilt. You will in all likelihood continue to lose weight. But let the other foods slip in—just one or two of them—and you are now geared to put the poundage on instead of take it off, he states. What are the "fat hooks"? You'll find complete details in Petrie's new book.

SNACK ANYTIME—EAT AS FREQUENTLY AS YOU WISH!

"Fat-Destroyer Foods" contain the most important ingredient your body needs, says Petrie. The entire body—hair, skin, veins, flesh, bones—everything depends on it.

What happens on a starvation diet of less food—or "empty" foods—that lack this vital ingredient?

"Doctor," you say, "I just can't stay on my diet. I get so hungry and I feel so weak."

WATCH YOUR WEIGHT PLUMMET!

Now, if you've ever tried conventional weight-loss diets, you know you just can't eat like this. But in scientific experiments, it was found many years ago, that the human body ACTUALLY BURNS UP MORE CALORIES OF "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" THAN IT TAKES IN! You can eat lavishly of fat burning foods and still lose weight, says Petrie!

As a result, you see your weight drop—see pound after pound of it melt away! Even if you're 10, 20, 30 lbs. or more overweight! Some of Petrie's clients have dropped as much as 200 pounds, eating as much and as frequently as before of "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS"!

"It sounds too good to be true," says Petrie, "but IT IS TRUE, and it has lost tons for my clients!" (Naturally, a dieter should use common sense, and not overemphasize fat burning foods to the point of severe underweight!!!)

"I have proved to thousands that they can eat all they want and still lose weight," says Petrie. People like . . .

Harriet, a telephone operator, 34 years old, came to Petrie as a "last resort." At 5 feet 10 inches, she weighed 400 pounds. With tears in her eyes, she told how her doctor had given her up in despair. She could not reduce and stay reduced, and she had a water weight problem. With "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" she never felt hungry . . .

The Result: 120 lbs. lost in 6 months! Harriet is today slim, attractive, and statuesque—without hunger!

Molly's habit of "tasting" her family's meals ballooned her body to 200 lbs. despite numerous attempts at dieting. Instead of starving, she switched to "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS," eating freely!

The Result: she is now below 140 lbs. and still losing!
Ronald, a business man in his early 40's, tipped the scales at 305 lbs. some 130 lbs. overweight! With "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" he lost 12 lbs. the first week alone! Week after week, he enjoyed a steady weight-loss, until he reached his desired goal.

The Result: 130 lbs. lost, remaining happy, healthy, and well-fed along the way!

Henry, a high-school principal, weighed 300 lbs. With conventional diets, he was never able to reduce and stay reduced. He loved his favorite foods, and found calorie-counting quite difficult. With "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS," he lost 30 lbs. the first month!

The Result: 110 lbs. lost without hunger. Even his back pains disappeared!

By using this fact in their daily lives, people are now able to eat more and weigh less. With "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS," says Petrie, you can eat more than you ever thought possible . . . and never gain an ounce!

A DOCTOR OF MEDICINE APPRAISES "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS"!

Frank S. Caprio, M.D., in his Foreword to the book, says—"I am . . . impressed by Petrie's remarkable discovery of "Fat-Destroyer Foods," which I believe to be an entirely new concept in dieting. It permits the dieter to enjoy what I, too, believe is one of the most permissive and pleasant diets ever devised . . . to lose weight and never gain it back."

"I am impressed," Dr. Caprio continues, "by the astonishing and dramatic weight loss results achieved by so many of Petrie's patients—even in seemingly hopeless cases referred to him by physicians and other medical specialists."

"I can honestly say that, in my medical opinion, this book . . . in its category (is) the best I have ever read, and I heartily recommend it to anyone who wants to lose weight quickly, easily, automatically and permanently."

THE EASY WAY TO SHED POUNDS FAST . . . FASTER . . . FASTEST!

You'll never be hungry, or need "will power" with "Fat-Destroyer Foods," Petrie reminds us. Eat all you want of them. AS FREQUENTLY AS YOU WISH, he states. "And if you can't make up your mind between 2 or 3 possibilities—have them all," he says of his Free Diet, the first of several plans revealed.

You can even enjoy frequent snacks . . . at TV time, between meals, at a restaurant. Enjoy a night on the town . . . even "hoist the elbow" with drinks like rye, bourbon, scotch, whiskeys, rum, vodka, gin and brandy, martinis and wines . . . a whole world of food opens up in a dazzling cavalcade of delights!

AND YOU CAN SPEED UP YOUR PROGRESS by adding more "Fat-Destroyer Foods"! There are 3 rapid reducing plans in this book: FAST, FASTER, AND FASTEST! You'll lose weight easily on all 3 depending on how fast you wish to shed those pounds, says Petrie!

SEND FOR 30-DAY NO RISK TRIAL RIGHT AWAY!

There's no better way to see how it works than this—use the amazing "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" plan at our risk for 30 full days!

It is never too late to become what you might have been. The opportunity is here on this page, in the coupon. Why not send it in—at our risk—today? Fair enough?

Excess "Fat-Destroyer Foods" are thrown off as waste. More important—in the absence of those other foods—"Fat-Destroyers" seem to drag body fat away, he says! "You can actually see evidence of your own fat going down the drain."

This is the scientific fact that is now revolutionizing the eating habits of thousands! "Fat-Destroyer Foods" are EAT-ALL-YOU-WANT Foods—Petrie adds. There are MORE of them to choose from! They encourage less hunger—less water retention! They are good for you!

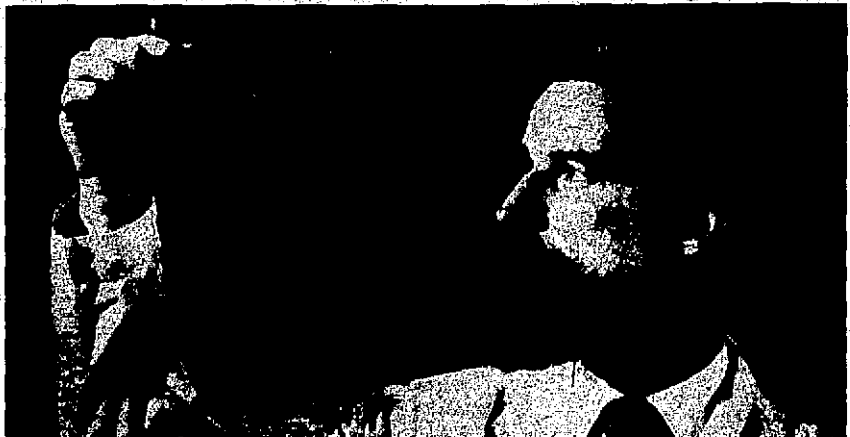

Other foods contain "fat bombs," says Petrie, that can literally hang excess fat on you. They contain "empty calories"—lacking vital nutrients the body needs. You could eat 3,000 calories a day of them and feel weak, says Petrie. And they PREVENT WEIGHT LOSS.

Stick to "Fat-Destroyer Foods," says Petrie. STUFF YOURSELF ON THEM, he says, without guilt. You will in all likelihood continue to lose weight. But let the other foods slip in—just one or two of them—and you are now geared to put the poundage on instead of take it off, he states. What are the "fat bombs"? You'll find complete details in Petrie's new book.

SNACK ANYTIME—EAT AS FREQUENTLY AS YOU WISH!

"Fat-Destroyer Foods" contain the most important ingredient your body needs, says Petrie. The entire body—hair, skin, veins, flesh, bones—everything depends on it.

What happens on a starvation diet of less food—or "empty" foods—that lack this vital ingredient?

"Doctor," you say, "I just can't stay on my diet. I get so hungry and I feel so weak."

WATCH YOUR WEIGHT PLUMMET!

Now, if you've ever tried conventional weight-loss diets, you know you just can't eat like this. But in scientific experiments, it was found many years ago that the human body ACTUALLY BURNS UP MORE CALORIES OF "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" THAN IT TAKES IN! You can eat lavishly of fat burning foods and still lose weight, says Petrie.

As a result, you see your weight drop—see pound after pound of it melt away! Even if you're 10, 20, 30 lbs. or more overweight! Some of Petrie's clients have dropped as much as 200 pounds, eating as much and as frequently as before of "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS!"

"It sounds too good to be true," says Petrie, "but it IS TRUE. And it has lost tons for my clients!" (Naturally, a dieter should use common sense, and not overemphasize fat burning foods to the point of severe underweight!!!)

HERE IS DRAMATIC PROOF THAT "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" CAN HELP YOU SHED 20—40—80 POUNDS OR MORE!

"I have proved to thousands that they can eat all they want and still lose weight," says Petrie. People like... Harriet, a telephone operator, 34 years old, came to Petrie as a "last resort." At 5 feet 10 inches, she weighed 400 pounds. With tears in her eyes, she told how her doctor had given her up in despair. She could not reduce and yet reduced, and she had a water weight problem. With "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" she never felt hungry.

The Result: 120 lbs. lost in 6 months! Harriet is today slim, attractive, and statuesque—without hunger!

Molly's habit of "lasting" her family's meals ballooned her body to 200 lbs. despite numerous attempts at dieting. Instead of starving, she switched to "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS," eating freely!

The Result: she is now below 140 lbs. and still losing!

Ronald, a business man in his early 40s, tipped the scales at 305 lbs. some 130 lbs. overweight! With "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" he lost 12 lbs. the first week alone! Week after week, he enjoyed a steady weight-loss, until he reached his desired goal.

The Result: 130 lbs. lost, remaining happy, healthy, and well-fed along the way!

Henry, a high-school principal, weighed 300 lbs. With conventional diets, he was never able to reduce and stay reduced. He loved his favorite foods, and found calorie-counting quite difficult. With "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS," he lost 30 lbs. the first month!

The Result: 110 lbs. lost without hunger. Even his back pains disappeared!

By using this fact in their daily lives, people are now able to eat more and weigh less. With "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS," says Petrie, you can eat more than you ever thought possible... and never gain an ounce!

A DOCTOR OF MEDICINE APPRAISES "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS"!

Frank S. Caprio, M.D., in his Foreword to the book, says— "I am... impressed by Petrie's remarkable discovery of 'Fat-Destroyer Foods,' which I believe to be an entirely new concept in dieting. It permits the dieter to enjoy what I, too, believe is one of the most permissive and pleasant diets ever devised... to lose weight and never gain it back."

"I am impressed," Dr. Caprio continues, "by the astonishing and dramatic weight loss results achieved by so many of Petrie's patients—even in seemingly hopeless cases referred to him by physicians and other medical specialists."

"I can honestly say that, in my medical opinion, this book... in its category (is) the best I have ever read, and I heartily recommend it to anyone who wants to lose weight quickly, automatically and permanently."

THE EASY WAY TO SHED POUNDS FAST... FASTER... FASTEST!

You'll never be hungry, or need "will power!" with "Fat-Destroyer Foods," Petrie reminds us. Eat all you want of them, AS FREQUENTLY AS YOU WISH, he states. "And if you can't make up your mind between 2 or 3 possibilities—have them all," he says of his Free Diet, the first of several plans revealed.

You can even enjoy frequent snacks... at TV time, between meals, at a restaurant. Enjoy a night on the town... even "hoist the elbow" with drinks like rye, bourbon, scotch, whiskeys, rum, vodka, gin and brandy, martinis and wines... a whole world of food opens up in a dazzling cavalcade of delight!

AND YOU CAN SPEED UP YOUR PROGRESS by adding more "Fat-Destroyer Foods!" There are 3 rapid reducing plans in this book: FAST, FASTER, AND FASTEST! You'll lose weight easily on all 3 depending on how fast you wish to shed those pounds, says Petrie.

SEND FOR 30-DAY NO RISK TRIAL RIGHT AWAY!

There's no better way to see how it works than this—the amazing "FAT-DESTROYER FOODS" plan at no risk for 30 full days!

It is never too late to become what you might have been. The opportunity is here on this page, in the coupon. Why not send it in at our risk—today? Fair enough?

P.S.: Always check with a medical doctor before and during any diet, says Petrie.

People Quiz

By John E. Gibson

Our Common Beliefs: Test Your Knowledge

True or False? Most American men believe that they have a better life than women. (See number 3.)

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. Regardless of where they live, most people believe their neighborhood is less dangerous than average.
2. Most of the people who believe in God can't tell you why.
3. Most American men believe that they have a better life than women.
4. It's difficult to tell whether many popular beliefs are based on fact or fancy.
5. Most American men believe that women are irresponsible, scatterbrained creatures who are basically selfish and inconsiderate of others.

ANSWERS

1. True—at least as far as city dwellers are concerned. This is the finding of an Institute of Social Research study. It was found that "people tend to underestimate the dangers and hazards in their own neighborhoods as compared with the city as a whole or to overestimate the danger of areas with which they have no personal experience." Also, two-thirds of the people surveyed thought that most crimes in their areas were committed by outsiders rather than neighborhood residents.

2. False. A nationwide survey of men and women showed that most have very definite reasons for their belief. The largest percentage attributed their belief to the Bible or some aspect of it. Others pointed to the wonders of nature, the order and laws of the universe and the miracle of the human body. About 12 percent were influenced by the practical necessity of believing in something: "It is safer to believe than not to believe."

3. False. According to a poll, nearly one-third of American men feel that they have the best life, but a like percentage is just as strongly convinced that women get more pleasure and satisfaction out of living. And a similar number of U.S. males feels that it is nip and tuck, with neither sex having the edge.

4. True. An example of this is "water-witching"—or dowsing—the art of locating underground water by interpreting the motion of a divining rod or forked stick. Whether or not it works has long been highly controversial. Some time ago Harvard University sponsored a wide-scale study of the subject. They surveyed county agricultural agents throughout the U.S. as to whether they thought witching worked or not. Findings: 56 percent expressed downright disbelief, 20 percent expressed belief and 24 percent said that they were open-minded on the subject. Exploratory experiments conducted by other universities yielded "evidence that certain dowsers perform much better than chance expectation and that such successes may be an example of ESP, where the response is mediated by unconscious movements of the arms and hands holding the divining rod."

5. False—according to the findings of Oklahoma State University studies which employed psychological tests to determine the beliefs and attitudes of a random sample of young men toward women. Most of them believed women to be "more considerate of the feelings of others and more concerned for their happiness, and felt that women were less ungrateful and less inclined to make selfish demands." Most of the men also believed women to be fully as responsible as men. On the other hand, they felt that women complain more, demand more attention and tend to be more vicious when angered and more stubborn-minded in an argument.

which we live with it, just how ambivalent our feelings are or how ambivalent are the feelings of others in our lives.

When we are children, it's hard to understand how we can be angry with someone and love him at the same time. When we grow up, it isn't much easier because by that time we think we're supposed to have things sorted out. Our parents talked in terms of "good" and "bad" and "right" and "wrong" as if those were absolutes and any reasonable person would know which was which. Life is not that tidy. Our emotions are not that orderly. There is ambiguity in all things, and the ambivalence of our feelings gives us trouble all our lives.

It comes up often in discussions with my sons Carter and Anderson. "But he's a nice person," they'll say about a friend who, perhaps, cheats at games. We talk about how it can be that we are not always totally one thing or the other and that we can love someone in spite of some glaring faults, that loving a person does not mean that we must either ignore, deny or defend those faults. We talk about the possibility that at some time in the future we might even find serious faults in each other (most unlikely, of course, but we're willing to examine even that possibility) but that the revelation of such faults will not end our love or respect for each other.

It is our intention to relish the diversity, the complexity of human nature without being too quick to attach the good and bad labels. We try to find pleasure in the differences between us and not take those divergences of taste or preferences as insults to our own taste and preferences. Anderson is crazy about snakes, for instance, but he mustn't take it as condemnation if Carter can't work up a similar enthusiasm. Members of families can deeply wound each other; they can even destroy each other. We as parents must encourage each member to respect the dignity, integrity and sense of independent growth of each of the others. We are more apt to be able to do so if we have come to terms with our own feelings.

The family as an institution has been highly romanticized. Like marriage itself, it's had a heavy load of expectations dumped on it, and it is now being attacked for struggling under that unfair burden.

We must learn to live with greater ambivalence. We have learned the hard way that all is not so simple as we were told it was. We've found romance and it's not quite what it was in the movies. Many people in my generation thought they were marrying a Ginger Rogers or Clark Gable, and before you could say Louis B. Mayer, their scripts went all awry. Those clever writers weren't around the morning after to provide cute quarrels and snappy dialogue, and pretty soon we were terribly puzzled about what was actually happening to us.

There's going to be a certain amount of conflict within all our families and we have to accept it without thinking evidence of it means the end of the world. Conflict can be useful, and in the case of children growing up, the right kind of conflict with parents helps to strengthen their own sense of identity. Parents who wish to influence their young had better rely on reason and respect to make it work rather than on the kind of authority their fathers used. Respect the child's urge to resist, his need to find his own way, to assert himself and make his own mistakes, and yet be there when he turns

"It comes up often in discussions with my sons Carter and Anderson. 'But he's a nice person,' they'll say about a friend who, perhaps, cheats at games. to you.

So, whether you are a parent or a child, look at your family and make a mental list of things that may trouble you now but that may be the occasion for bittersweet memories in future years (which, the way time goes now, will be the day after tomorrow) when everybody comes home to renew old ties. At those times we laugh together about old antagonisms, old conflicts. (And sometimes, before the laughter dies down, we start new fights.)

Look at your family and cherish the love that is there. Express it. Admit it. Get others to admit it. Love is too easily misinterpreted. Falling in love is as common as the endless piling up of days, taking place with no labor on our part. It is as effortless as breathing, but real loving is rare. Though we all do it to some degree, real love remains as rare as the perfect pearl. It's not found in everybody's oyster, and apart from those fortunate ones who stumble over one on the sandy shore, the prize of the pearl goes to those with practice, endurance and perseverance. It requires long training, persistent effort and the ability to hold one's breath under water for long intervals.

Grass Seed Will Never Grow A Lawn Like This!

From Part Shade To Full Sun!
Save Now. Special Introductory Offer.
Up To 200 Amazoy Zoysia Grass Plugs FREE

FULLY DROUGHT AND WEAR RESISTANT. Amazoy lawns take cookouts, parties, lawn furniture. You could even play football on it and not get your feet muddy. Rarely (if ever!) needs watering. If crabgrass grows in the area, Amazoy will not only grow it will drive out the crabgrass.

Grass Seed Is For The Birds! Zoysia Saves Time, Work, Money

the explorer, Frank Meyer, it was named Meyer Z-52 Zoysia Grass.

We received only a small amount of this Grass—enough to plant test plots in our Nursery Farm.

From that small beginning, these few precious clumps of Zoysia Grass spread until they built a lawn so thick and beautiful that visitors stopped to admire it.

We Tell People, "Walk On It"

Instead of saying "Keep Off The Grass," we invited visitors to walk on it. It was an unforgettable experience for them—like walking on a thick pile carpet.

After walking on it, visitors learned that Amazoy Zoysia turf was crabgrass-proof, and the next question never failed: "How can I get some?"

Other Lawns Burn Out

Now, grass is my company's business; but it was a long time before an order of Amazoy Zoysia Grass was accepted. First we wanted to see how good this grass was. We really found out!

One summer the heat was so great you could fry eggs on the highway. Daily the sun blazed from cloudless skies; the drought worsened; whole ponds dried up. Meanwhile crabgrass flourished and took over lawns by the thousands.

IT RESISTS DROUGHT, STAYS GREEN THRU HEAT WAVES

Through it all, our deep-rooted Amazoy Zoysia stood out like a green island in a brown wasteland.

Thrives In Poor Soils

When I planted it in sandy, clay soils and sub-soil, it took hold and thrived. Other grass in the same soils struggled and died.

I compared it to other grasses in the winter, too. Ordinary grasses may die or turn sparse and scraggly due to frost and winter, but in such weather my Amazoy Zoysia merely went off its green color . . . it stayed so thick you could walk on it and not get your feet muddy.

Through zero-cold winters and blistering summer droughts . . . through onslaughts by weeds and diseases . . . our Meyer Zoysia had proved it could "take it." It had earned the right to be called AMAZOY, our Trade Mark published coast to coast and border to border.

By Mike Senkiw

Years ago I was like nearly everyone else with a lawn. I worried about it more than any other thing around the house.

Then things changed. My company obtained a new grass just released by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. In honor of

HOW AMAZOY CHOKES OUT CRABGRASS AND WEEDS ALL SUMMER LONG!

If costly chemicals fail to control crabgrass for good, how does Amazoy Zoysia do it? Your deep-rooted, fully established Amazoy lawn grows so thick and luxurious that crabgrass seeds just do not germinate!

Your lawn chokes out not only crabgrass, but other weeds all summer long—year after year.

You will never need to spend a cent on crabgrass and weed killers again. So if you have wanted to get away from costly and dangerous lawn herbicides, Amazoy is your answer.

Your Own Supply Of Plug Transplants

Your established Amazoy lawn provides you with plugs for other areas as you may desire.

HERE'S WHY AMAZOY PLUGS ASSURE SUCCESS WHERE OTHER GRASSES FAIL

Due to Amazoy's national reputation, other grasses may be offered that sound like it. But Amazoy's pre-cut plugs look different, ARE different. They are deep-rooted, winter-hardy plugs produced exclusive for transplanting.

Each large sturdy plug contains 3 square inches or more of living vigorous Zoysia turf, complete with vigorous root system in its original enriched soil.

NEVER NEEDS REPLACEMENT

AMAZOY Saves Money, Cut Work. Never a seed to sow again with Amazoy! Year after year your lawn grows thicker, like a deep pile carpet. Defies enemies that kill other lawns.

PEOPLE WRITE TO ME

As Mrs. Harry Winslowe writes to me from the heart of wintry New England:

" . . . How pleased we are with our Zoysia lawn! We had a lawn that was a disgrace. My husband used weed killers for every known weed, but next season new weeds sprang up. We dug the lawn up twice and reseeded before we learned about Amazoy. It does everything you say."

"Mowed It 2 Times," Writes Woman

Mrs. M. R. Mitter writes me how her lawn " . . . is the envy of all who see it. When everybody's lawns around here are brown from drought ours just stays green as ever. I've never watered it, only when I put the plugs in . . . last summer we had it mowed (2) times. Another thing, we never have to pull any weeds—it's just wonderful!"

Wonderful? Yes, Amazoy Zoysia IS wonderful! Plant it now and you'll cut mowing by 2/3 . . . never have another weed problem all summer, for the rest of your life!

PLUG AMAZOY INTO OLD LAWN, NEW GROUND OR NURSERY AREA

Just set Amazoy plugs into hole in ground like a cork in a bottle. Plant 1 foot apart, checkerboard style.

When planted in existing lawn areas, plugs will spread to drive out old, unwanted growth including weeds.

AMAZOY CUTS WATERING, CUTS MOWING BY 2/3

Your drought-resistant Amazoy lawn not only cuts your water bills, it cuts your work in other ways: it cuts pushing a noisy mower under a broiling summer sun by 2/3. It resists blight, disease and most insects. It will NOT WINTER-KILL TO TEMPS. 30° BELOW ZERO. After killing frost, it merely goes off its green color, regains fresh new beauty every Spring—a true perennial that ends re-seeding forever!

THERE IS NO SEED

Reports U.S. Dept. of Agric., referring to Meyer Z-52 Zoysia. Experts advise planting only live grass to be sure of getting the famous winter-hardy grass perf. by U.S. Govt., Meyer Z-52.

For Slopes, Play Areas, Bare Spots

Or correct problem areas such as slopes where Amazoy halts erosion, in hard-to-cover spots, around swim pools, in play areas, etc.

NO SOD

Sod of ordinary grass carries with it the same problems as seed—such as weeds, disease, frequent mowing, burning out, etc. Amazoy is sold ONLY in pre-cut plugs . . . never a slab of field grown sod YOU must cut up in order to plant.

PATENTED STEP-ON PLUGGER IS . . . FREE WITH ORDERS OF 600 PLUGS OR MORE

Amazoy exclusive! No one else can offer you this patented 2-way plugger. Saves bending, time, work. Light, rugged, invaluable for transplanting. Cuts away competing growth as it digs plug holes.

MORE THAN A HALF-BILLION PLUGS SOLD, OUTSELLS OTHERS 10 TO 1!

The controlled transplant quality of Amazoy has made it another word for Meyer Z-52 Zoysia . . . the world's best known Zoysia Grass. If you don't want to take another chance with lawn disappointment, switch to the grass that assures your success: Amazoy. We guarantee every plug will grow, no matter your soil or why other grasses have failed you.

Order guaranteed Amazoy now, get your bonus plugs FREE. Your order will be delivered at earliest correct time for planting in your area.

We ship all orders the same day grass is taken from the soil, shipping charge collect via most economical means. © Zoysia Farm Nurseries, 1976

EVERY PLUG GUARANTEED TO GROW IN YOUR AREA IN YOUR SOIL

- AMAZOY WON'T WINTER-KILL — Has survived temperature 39° below zero!
- AMAZOY WON'T HEAT-KILL — when other grasses burn out, Amazoy turns its loveliest!

EVERY PLUG MUST GROW WITHIN 45 DAYS OR WE REPLACE IT FREE.

Since we are hardly in business for the fun of it, you know we have to be sure of our product.

Isn't It Time YOU Switched To The Grass Making Others Obsolete?

It simply doesn't make sense to take another chance on grass that fails you when you want it most. To plant more of the same bluegrass seed just asks for more of the same, disappointing results. Order Amazoy NOW . . . let it spread into thrillingly beautiful turf. And remember this:

If it isn't Amazoy, you're not getting the plugs that made Zoysia famous.

INTRODUCING 1976

The Rose of Love

The Inspiration of the Rose.

The unifying theme behind this year's Mother's Day collection is the rose. As the Queen of Flowers, the rose is an appropriate symbol for the joy every woman finds in motherhood. Our inspiration, in fact, came from one of the ancient legends associating woman and roses:

At the beginning of the world God created Woman, and to please her, created the rose.

The Hamilton Mint takes great pleasure in presenting The Rose of Love collection. To please mothers everywhere. And to satisfy collectors. And to delight all patrons of fine medallion art.

The 1976 Annual Mother's Day Plate: Love's Circle.

In the tradition of Old World craftsmen, each medallion plate is an individually minted masterpiece. Collectors may choose between antiqued pewter or 24 karat gold-on-pewter. The pewter edition is carefully struck, then finished solely by hand. The gold-on-pewter edition retains the remarkable luster of gold in an opulent satin-frost finish.

The "Love's Circle" plate depicts a delicate bas-relief sculpture of a mother with her infant. Around this touching scene, a garland of roses has been engraved.

"Love's Circle" arrives in a specially-designed case which both protects and elegantly displays the plate. The exterior of each case has been grained and hand-rubbed, making it ideal for presentation.

All Orders Must Be Postmarked by May 9, 1976! The entire The Rose of Love collection, including the "Love's Circle" plate, will be issued only once. The edition will close on May 9, 1976. Collectors may not apply for original purchase after that date.

Collectors who wish to acquire any commemorative from The Rose of Love collection are urged to apply immediately. The convenient application form may be used to hasten your order. Please remember that it must be postmarked by May 9, 1976 to be accepted by The Hamilton Mint.

"Mother's Rose" Pendant and Medallion.

Symbolizing the intense relationship, our Rose of Love is passed between the Mother and Child.

Available in either .999 fine silver, 24 karat gold-on-silver, or solid 14 karat gold.

Special Offer: Rare Enamel

As an exceptional tribute to this year's Mother's Day, The Hamilton Mint will offer the "Mother's Rose" pendant in beautiful enamel, an ancient process which enhances the original motif of the pendant.

INTRODUCING 1976

The Rose of Love

The Inspiration of the Rose.
The unifying theme behind this year's Mother's Day collection is the rose. As the Queen of Flowers, the rose is an appropriate symbol for the joy every woman finds in motherhood. Our inspiration, in fact, came from one of the ancient legends associating woman and roses.
At the beginning of the world God created Woman, and to please her, created the rose.
The Hamilton Mint takes great pleasure in presenting The Rose of Love collection. To please mothers everywhere. And to satisfy collectors. And to delight all patrons of fine medallion art.
The 1976 Annual Mother's Day Plate:
Love's Circle.
In the tradition of Old World craftsmanship, each medallion plate is an individually minted masterpiece. Collectors may choose between antiqued pewter or 24 karat gold-on-pewter. The pewter edition is carefully struck, then finished with by hand. The gold-on-pewter edition retains the remarkable luster of gold in an antique satin-finish finish.

The "Love's Circle" plate depicts a delicate bas-relief sculpture of a mother with her infant. Around this touching scene, a garland of roses has been engraved.

"Love's Circle" arrives in a specially-designed case which both protects and elegantly displays the plate. The exterior of each case has been grained and hand-rubbed, making it ideal for presentation.

All Orders Must Be Postmarked by May 9, 1976! The entire The Rose of Love collection, including the "Love's Circle" plate, will be issued only once. The edition will close on May 9, 1976. Collectors may not apply for original purchase after that date. Collectors who wish to acquire any commemorative from The Rose of Love collection are urged to apply immediately. The convenient application form may be used to hasten your order. Please remember that it must be postmarked by May 9, 1976 to be accepted by The Hamilton Mint.

"Mother's Rose" Pendant and Medallion.
Symbolizing the intense relationship, our Rose of Love is passed between the Mother and Child.
Available in either .999 fine silver, 24 karat gold-on-silver, or solid 14 karat gold.
Special Offer: Rare Example!
As an exceptional tribute to this year's Mother's Day, The Hamilton Mint will offer the "Mother's Rose" pendant in beautiful enamel, an ancient process which enhances the natural motif of the pendant.

STEVEN AND PATTY IN 1973

Why did Steven Weed play only a "supporting role" in the Patty Hearst drama? Weed talking: "That I found myself at odds with the FBI from the beginning of their investigation came as no surprise. The combination of my 'unsavory' background and their narrow, almost peephole view of the world could produce nothing other than mutual distrust and suspicion. But by the same token, while the deteriorating state of affairs between the Hearsts and me was a result of differences in our personalities, as well as the pressurized situation in which we found ourselves, it was also due to their particular view of the world. Like the FBI, the Hearsts are as much of an organization as a family. From the day I entered the Hearst home after Patty's kidnapping, I found myself in the midst of a conflict in which I had no real role and, because of this, no power to resolve it. To the SLA, I was simply an embarrassment, the boyfriend who had been

New Low Tar Entry Packs Taste Of Cigarettes Having 60% More Tar.

'Enriched Flavor'™ idea succeeds—increases taste of new 9 mg. tar MERIT without the usual increase in tar.

You can write today for a study conducted by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion for Philip Morris showing new MERIT delivers as much—or more—flavor than five current leading low tar cigarettes.

Brands having up to 60% more tar than MERIT!

The reason is 'Enriched Flavor.' An extraordinary taste find developed and perfected after years of research at our Richmond Research Center.

And it's only in MERIT. At 9 mg., lower in tar than 98% of all cigarettes sold today.

If you smoke—you'll be interested.

Taste-Tested By People Like You

9 mg. tar MERIT was taste-tested against five current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of filter smokers were involved, smokers like yourself, tested at home.*

The results were conclusive.

Even if the cigarette tested had 60% more tar than MERIT, a significant majority of all smokers tested reported new 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT delivered more taste.

Repeat: delivered more taste.

In similar tests against 11 mg. to 15 mg. menthol brands, 9 mg. tar MERIT MENTHOL performed strongly too, delivering as much—or more—taste than the higher tar brands tested.

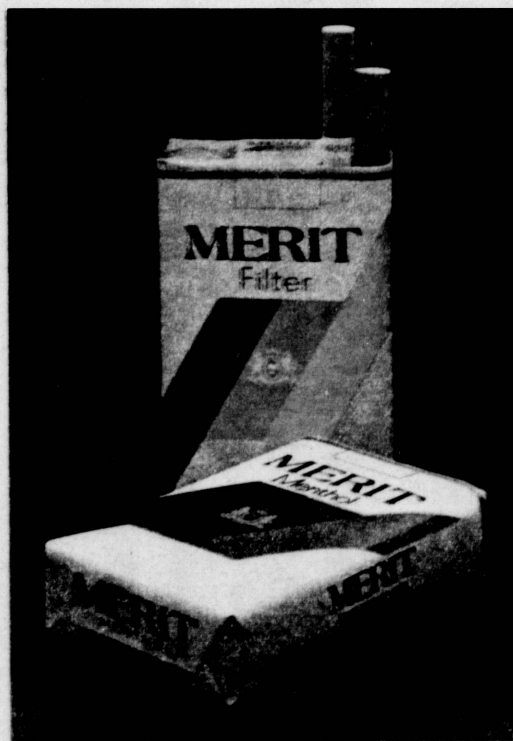

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at 9 mg. tar.
